PSC
PUBLIC SERVICE CORPS

Why Your Federal Work-Study Students Should Consider

AN INTERNSHIP IN NEW YORK CITY GOVERNMENT

NYC PUBLIC SERVICE CORPS

Since 1966, more than 100,000 undergraduate, graduate and law students from across the Country have reaped the benefits of our public sector internships. Public Service Corps (PSC) interns work throughout the five boroughs of New York City in municipal agencies, hospitals, childcare centers and schools. Students majoring in all academic fields are welcome to participate.

As public Service Corps interns, your students will:

- Gain valuable credentials, contacts and references for future employment
- Apply their classroom learning in the workplace
- Gain marketable skills and experience
- Obtain exposure to the broad range of professional opportunities in the public sector
- Learn about specific career options within City government

For more information on our work-study internships, Please contact the public Service Corps at

212-386-0057 / psc@dcas.nyc.gov

Or visit our webpage at nyc.gov/internships

BILL de BLASIO
Mayor, City of New York

LISETTE CAMILO
Commissioner, Department of Citywide Administrative Services

The Official New York City Web Site
www.nyc.gov