

Inspection Checklist: Gaming Cafés, Amusement Arcades, and Businesses with Amusement Devices

Does your business have three or more computers or electronic devices with gaming software that members of the public can use to play games for a fee?

Does your business have any player-operated amusement devices or 10 or more amusement devices?

Does your business operate a portable amusement device?

Definition: A player-operated amusement device is a device intended as a game that people pay a fee to operate or play. Examples are electronic arcade games, electronic shooting galleries, ball-toss booths, Whac-A-Mole games, pinball machines, and fixed stand coin-operated rides like electronic rocking horses for children.

Definition: An amusement device is a ride that is open to the public and carries passengers over a fixed or restricted course or within a defined area. Examples are roller coasters, carousels, Go Karts, Ferris Wheels, etc. Amusement devices do not include “fixed stand coin-operated rides,” such as electronic rocking horses and other stationary rides designed for children.

Definition: A portable amusement device is a truck-mounted ride that is open to the public, designed to operate on the vehicle that transports it, and carries passengers over a fixed course OR an inflatable device that is not truck-mounted.

Use this checklist to learn what our inspectors look for and help avoid violations. All businesses also must comply with the General Retail Inspection Checklist, which is included at the end for easy reference.
