

UPCOMING CHANGE

Form Changes for the 2011 Energy Code

The Department is updating and adding new forms for compliance with the 2011 New York City Energy Conservation Code (NYCECC). The new versions must be used February 7, 2011.

MINOR CHANGES:

PW1

- Sections 9L and 9M are now sections 9M and 9N. A new lighting question has been added as Section 9L.
- Section 10 was modified to:
 1. Include tradeoff information (when indicating compliance with the NYCECC)
 2. Align the exemption statements with the NYCECC

PW1C

- Boiler installations and repairs must indicate the efficiency rating and the corresponding DOE test procedure as indicated in Table 503.2.3(5) or section 403.6 of the 2011 NYCECC (if applicable).

ED16A

- In Section 3, the electrical contractor must indicate if there is construction work being performed that is associated with the electrical application.
- In Section 6, the electrical contractor must indicate when there is Lighting Work to be done that is regulated by the NYCECC.

TR1

- The Design Professional must identify if Energy Code Compliance progress inspections are required (prior to approval).
- Jobs identifying Energy Code Progress Inspections on the TR1 must detail inspections related to their scope of work on the drawing set and on the new TR8 form (see below).

PC1

- This form has been updated to include all new and currently-in-use required items.

EN1 EN1 (Formerly EC1)

- The form name has been changed to: "EN1: Energy Cost Budget Worksheet." There are no other changes to this form.

NEW FORMS:

TR8

- The Design Professional must use this form to identify which Energy Code progress inspections are required.
- The Progress Inspector must use the TR8 to take responsibility of the progress inspections (prior to permit) and certify completion of the progress inspections (prior to sign-off).

EN2

- The Progress Inspector must use the EN2 for projects in which changes were made during construction that differ from the last approved energy analysis (prior to sign-off).

For details on when to use the new versions, please see the Form Changes – Timeline notice.
