

African American Day Parade

A beautiful, sunny Sunday was the back drop for the 46th Annual African American Day Parade in Harlem. The Boldest marched in their Class-A's while parade-goers cheered and waved them on.

With Investigator Vincent Capers coordinating the contingent, DOC's Ceremonial Unit proudly marched down the parade route with First Deputy Commissioner James Dzurenda, Deputy Chief of Staff Sean Jones and the Department's contingent to honor African American heritage.
