CUNY GRADS LEARN ABOUT A FUTURE AT DOC

CUNY students and recent graduates stopped by a booth staffed by the Department of Correction at the annual CUNY Big Apple Job & Internship Fair at the Javits Center to learn more about careers at DOC. The opportunities presented at the April 17 event ranged from Correction Officer to administrative positions.

“We were very excited to participate in this event,” said Deputy Commissioner for Human Resources Dina Simon. “We got an opportunity to positively showcase DOC and to let candidates know the different facets of DOC as well as the career opportunities that exist in our uniform and non-uniform ranks.”

More than 500 students visited the table where DOC representatives talked about the summer internship program and uniform and non-uniform positions. By the end of the day 137 students submitted their resumes.
