DEFINITION OF TERMS

1. Employment Shares: The term "employment share" means, with respect to each employee, partner or sole proprietor of an eligible business, the sum of:

- a) the number of full-time work weeks worked by such employee, partner or sole proprietor during the eligible business' taxable year divided by the number of weeks in the taxable year, and
- b) the number of part-time work weeks worked by such employee, partner or sole proprietor during the eligible business' taxable year divided by an amount equal to twice the number of weeks in the taxable year.

2. Employee: The term "employee" includes any individual where the existing relationship between that individual and the eligible business is that of employer and employee. Generally, an employer-employee relationship exists when the eligible business has the right to control and direct the individual not only as to the result to be accomplished but also as to the means by which such result is to be accomplished. If the relationship of employer-employee exists, the designation or description of the relationship is immaterial. Directors of a corporation in their capacity as directors are not employees of an eligible business. Directors of a corporation may be considered employees if, in addition to serving in the capacity of directors, they serve in the capacity of employees.

Hereafter, the term "eligible worker", shall be used to refer to an employee, partner or sole proprietor of the eligible business.

3. Work Week: The term "work week" means a period of seven or fewer successive days, beginning with a specified day, which the eligible business has adopted and regularly utilizes as its work week.

A full-time work week is a work week during which an eligible worker has performed at least 35 hours of labor for compensation. A full-time work week is attributable to the eligible area if at least 35 hours of labor for compensation are either performed in the eligible area or are attributable to particular premises in the eligible area.

A part-time work week is a work week during which an eligible worker has performed at least 15 but fewer than 35 hours of labor for compensation. A part-time work week is attributable to the eligible area if at least 15 but fewer than 35 hours of labor for compensation are either performed in the eligible area or are attributable to particular premises in the eligible area.

Hours in excess of 35 worked by an eligible worker during a work week cannot be carried over and counted during any other work week. All hours which are not attributable to the eligible area are attributable outside the eligible area.

In the case of a worker who works part of the week within and part of the week without a particular premises, hours are attributable to such particular premises as follows:

- a) If the worker spends substantially all of his or her time at a particular premises, all hours are attributed to such premises.
- b) If the worker does not spend substantially all of his or her time at a particular premises, all hours are nonetheless attributable to such premises if the worker is present at such premises at the beginning or end of each work day and all of the worker's time spent outside of such premises relates primarily to business operations carried on at such premises, provided that hours worked at particular premises cannot be attributed, by reason of this subparagraph, to another particular premises maintained by the same eligible business. If an eligible business has both eligible and non-eligible premises in the same building, hours worked at the non-eligible premises cannot be attributed, by reason of this subparagraph, to the eligible premises.
- c) If neither (a) nor (b) applies, only hours worked at a particular premises are attributable to such premises. Time not actually worked by a worker due to vacation, sick leave or other leave may nevertheless be counted as time worked by that worker, provided:
 - i) such vacation, sick leave or other leave time is granted pursuant to an established policy of the eligible business which is applied uniformly to all workers of the business or to all workers within a specific class, and
 - ii) the worker continues to receive his or her regular rate of pay during such vacation, sick leave or other leave.

Such time shall be attributed to the eligible area and the eligible premises in the same proportion as the number of work weeks actually worked by a worker attributable to the eligible area and eligible premises bears to the total number of work weeks actually worked by the worker in the taxable year in question. Terminal leave preceding the termination of an worker's employment may not be counted as time worked by the worker. A work week which begins in one taxable year and ends in the following taxable year shall be treated as a work week in the taxable year in which it ends.

NOTE: It shall be within the discretion of the Commissioner to determine whether hours worked by a worker outside of eligible premises maintained by the eligible business have been fairly apportioned within and without the eligible area, and within and without the eligible premises.

In the case of an eligible worker with work weeks both within and without the eligible area in a given taxable year, the employment shares maintained by the eligible business within the eligible area with respect to the worker shall be the sum of:

- a) the number of full-time work weeks worked by such worker during the eligible business' taxable year attributable to the eligible area divided by the number of weeks in the taxable year, and
- b) the number of part-time work weeks worked by such worker during the eligible business' taxable year attributable to the eligible area divided by an amount equal to twice the number of weeks in the taxable year.

In the case of an eligible worker with work weeks both within and without the eligible premises in a given taxable year, the employment shares maintained by the eligible business within the eligible premises with respect to the worker shall be the sum of:

- a) the number of full-time work weeks worked by such worker during the eligible business' taxable year attributable to the eligible premises divided by the number of weeks in the taxable year, and
- b) the number of part-time work weeks worked by such worker during the eligible business' taxable year attributable to the eligible premises divided by an amount equal to twice the number of weeks in the taxable year.

4. Aggregate Employment Shares: The term "aggregate employment shares" means the sum of all employment shares maintained by an eligible business in a taxable year.

5. Eligible Area: The term "eligible area" means that the area of the City excluding that area in the borough of Manhattan lying south of the center line of 96th Street.

6. Particular Premises: The term "particular premises" means all premises occupied by an eligible business within a single building, except that if there are eligible and non-eligible premises in the same building, such eligible and non-eligible premises constitute separate particular premises.

7. Taxable Year: The term "taxable year" refers to the taxpayer's taxable year for the General Corporation Tax, the Unincorporated Business Tax or the Banking Corporation Tax (whichever is applicable) provided, however in the case of a taxpayer subject to the Utility Tax, "taxable year" refers to the calendar year.

8. Eligible Lower Manhattan Area: The term refers to the area in Manhattan lying south of a line that runs from the intersection of the Hudson River and the Holland Tunnel, running north along West Avenue to the intersection of Clarkson Street, then running east along the center line of Clarkson Street to the intersection of Washington Street, and south along the center line of Washington Street, to the intersection of West Houston Street, and east along the center line of West Houston Street, then, at the intersection of the Avenue of the Americas, continuing east along the center line of East Houston Street to the easterly bank of the East River.
