- As there is an insufficient number of agency-owned vehicles to meet agency transportation needs, “VARIOUS” Agency Business Parking Permits (ABPP) are utilized by staff members using their personal vehicles while performing official agency business throughout New York City, often in areas underserved or difficult to reach by public transportation. “VARIOUS” permits for private vehicles are utilized as a “shared resource.” This action helps curtail unnecessary placard issuance. Child Protection staff and other critical staff have out-of-office investigative and oversight obligations. These employees spend 75 percent or more of their time conducting official business operations in the field. Sites typically visited include, but are not limited to: contract facilities, private homes, courts, police facilities, records warehouses, vendor warehouses, hospitals, client conferences, agency offices and off-site meetings.

- With the passage of local legislation eliminating nearly ten percent of the City's light duty fleet, DCAS expanded the City's car-sharing plan with Zip Cars. Staff indicated that for Zip Cars to remain as a viable alternative to agency vehicles, there needed to be permit parity. Hence, “VARIOUS” Agency Business Parking Permits (ABPP) specifically for Zip Cars are available as a “shared resource” for use by child protection staff performing critical investigations and by quality assurance and compliance staff performing checks at facilities to ensure Non-Secure-Placement, Limited-Secure-Placement and secure detention facility safety.

- ABPP stickers are assigned to agency-owned official vehicles that are available for field operations, twenty-four hours per day, seven days per week. These vehicles are utilized by authorized agency drivers for travel to various locations throughout the five boroughs of New York City and to other locations in the metropolitan area in response to emergency and non-emergency calls. These vehicles transport agency staff, parents, guardians, families, children/young people, youth in detention, as well as critical supplies in furtherance of childcare and child protective mandates outlined in the NYC Charter and in State law, including but not limited to: performing the functions of a child protective service, including the receipt and investigation of reports of abuse and maltreatment; providing children and families with preventive services; enabling children in foster care to return to their families; providing care for children who are in the care, custody and guardianship of the ACS Commissioner; providing day care; providing early learn services and other childcare services; and providing child support enforcement.

- ABPP NPA “plate-specific” permits are issued to employees spend who spend 75 percent or more of their time conducting official business operations in the field. These employees handle routine and emergency matters. Entities they visit are in or near to No Permit Areas (NPA), so parking near these sites is critical. Valid for up to three hours in the following zones:

Permit Issuance

1. Does your agency have a plan in place to curtail unnecessary placard issuance?

   Yes, NYC DDC has a plan in place to curtail unnecessary placard issuance. Below are some effective methods NYC DDC currently uses:

   - Our yearly permit application submission requires Division Heads to certify and approve all applications prior to submitting them to the Fleet Unit. Each Division Head is responsible and accountable for determining which staff is eligible for an agency or private permit. Division Heads are also responsible for ensuring that approved private permit staff maintain 75% weekly permit usage.

   - All permit applicants are required to provide a valid justification as to why the permit is needed.

   - Effective March 2019, NYC DDC implemented a policy requiring all Private Permit recipients to document all permit usage via a monthly mileage log. The Fleet Program Coordinator monitors the private permit usage monthly and records the data on an excel spreadsheet.

   - NYC DDC agency vehicles have already been documenting all permit usage on a separate mileage log. These mileage logs are submitted and required by Fleet staff bi-weekly.

2. When distributing permits, do you remind staff to comply with the parking restrictions associated with each permit?

   Yes, when distributing permits NYC DDC does remind staff to comply with the parking restrictions associated with each permit. NYC DDC does this through the following methods:

   - Review and written acknowledgement of the 3 Strike Policy
   - Review and written acknowledgement of the DOT Safety Video https://youtu.be/ZbdcCZrHnjk “I See You – Safety For Trucks and Other Large Fleet
   - Each staff receives a copy of the DOT permit map if they receive a permit sticker
   - Staff are required to review, sign, and return a Permit Pickup Memo (see attached)
   - Private Permit recipients are required to review, sign, and return a Private Mileage Log Memo

New York City Department of Education Local Law 5 Parking Permit Plan

This plan is being written in response to Local Law 5 of 2020 requiring each city agency that receives parking permits issued by the city to develop a plan. The plan will provide details of how the NYC Department of Education (DOE) Agency Business Parking Permits (ABPP) are going to be distributed and the use of permits by the agency. City-issued parking permits are essential to many DOE employees who work in the field at multiple work sites. The placard allows them to park in certain areas, so they can carry-out their daily duties in a timely fashion.

DOE is aware that the misuse of the placard by employees can occur and takes it seriously. Therefore, the DOE takes measures to avoid fraud and abuse, by enforcing processes and policy established for permit allocation, distribution, and collection. ABPP issued to DOE employees are being carefully distributed to the appropriate Office/Division which is responsible for keeping track of placards issued to their staff. Each respective Office/Division received an allocation amount and is assigned a Liaison who keeps track of all the placards that are issued and returned to the Department of Transportation (DOT) at the end of each Fiscal Year.
Upon distribution of the placards, each Liaison is responsible for providing a copy of the DOT “Important Notice” which provides information of where DOE employees can and cannot park. This helps employees avoid parking in restricted areas and limits the amount of summons issued. The parking permits expire on August 1st of each year. Employees who are issued a placard are encouraged to return the placard to the Liaison by the end of July to provide the Liaison with sufficient time to log and return the expired placards to DOT. The allocation amount will be reduced for any Office/Division that fails to return all the placards that were issued. The permit holder that fails to return the placard will not be qualified for a new permit unless the previous permit is returned. If the permit is lost/stolen, the permit holder must provide a police report to the Office/Division Liaison. Once the police report is received, the office Liaison must forward the report to DOT.

The DOE also requires two consecutive weeks of outlook calendar review for Central staff, Non-field based Staff, and Non-Itinerant staff that requires a parking permit. The calendar must reflect 75% or more of the employee’s work time in the field to be approved, and must be submitted throughout the permit period. Each Office/Division Liaison is responsible for collecting the two consecutive weeks of calendar schedules for review. Employees who fail to provide their calendar, or submit a calendar showing less than 75% of work day in the field will have their parking permit revoked.

NEW YORK CITY DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION

The Department of Transportation takes its role as the issuer of City Agencies parking permits very seriously. It only grants such permits to staff with a strong need. The 5,500+ employees of NYC DOT oversee one of the most complex urban transportation networks in the world, including 6,300 miles of streets and highways, over 12,000 miles of sidewalk, and nearly 800 bridges and tunnels. NYC DOT’s staff also installs and maintains over one million street signs, 13,250 signalized intersections, 315,000 street lights, and over 350 million linear feet of markings. These are large numbers, yet, the Department only allocates only 530 parking permits to its staff.

The permits are used primarily for field workers, who often visit multiple sites in a single day. These permits enable them to work more efficiently. DOT also has staff that must respond quickly to emergencies 24/7, and permits are distributed to execute these critical functions.

Permits are issued to the Executive, Bridges, Ferries, Roadway Repair and Maintenance, and Sidewalk Inspection Divisions; and the Financial and Contract Management, Human Resources and Facilities Management, Office of Construction Mitigation and Coordination and Fleet Units. Each Division or Unit has a liaison that tracks all permits and carefully monitors usage to ensure that all guidelines for each permit are followed.
