STATEN ISLAND, N.Y. -- A workshop to help organizations make the most of fund-raising activities is being held Monday, June 22. "Having Fun with Fundraising: Six Steps to Success" will provide organizers with the way to proceed, including budgeting, finding sponsors, grant writing, event planning and marketing.

Open to the public, the presentation will be most useful to those who are hoping to launch a non-profit or those who would benefit from an introduction to fundraising.

The event will take place from 6 to 8 p.m. in the West Brighton Community Center at 230 Broadway. For more information or to reserve, call the co-sponsor, Department of Youth and Community Development, at 212-442-5880, e-mail nab@dycd.nyc.gov. or visit at www.fund.nphd.org

The Nonprofit Helpdesk, a Project of the Jewish Community Council of Greater Coney Island, will present the workshop.
