TASC's "Superheroes of After School"

Wednesday, 04 March 2009 17:43

Want to know how you build an after-school system in New York? Check out this delightful video which tells the story a philanthropist named George, a kid named Joe and TASC at age 10. The video was produced for The After School Corporation's 10th Anniversary Benefit on Monday night honoring George Soros and features the "Superheroes of After School", including Schools Chancellor Joel Klein as Spiderman and DYCD Commissioner Jeanne Mullgrav as Supergirl.

Artwork for the video was created by kids in after-school programs operated by these CBOs: Washington Heights-Inwood Coalition and Abundant Waters.
