

THE CITY OF NEW YORK
OFFICE OF THE MAYOR
NEW YORK, NY 10007

Summer 2007

Dear Friends:

It is a pleasure to introduce the 2007 edition of The New York City Guide to Summer Fun.

Anyone who has spent a summer in New York City knows that something special happens when the days reach a certain length – our wonderful parks become more vibrant, music moves outdoors, and the waterfront beckons. No one looks forward to summer more than our young people, and the City's museums, libraries and cultural institutions are working hard to develop programs that will appeal to their curiosity and sense of adventure.

I would like to thank the Department of Youth and Community Development and its partners for putting together this comprehensive guide. Whether you're looking for a refreshing swim in a public pool, an enlightening educational play, or an inspiring art exhibit, this guide proves what New Yorkers already know – the tough thing about living here isn't finding something to do, it's choosing among an endless array of exciting options. This easy-to-read guide is a treasure map leading to terrific activities in all five boroughs, and there's plenty of fun to go around. Enjoy!

Sincerely,
