| Procurement Description: | The Elder Abuse Prevention and Intervention Services Program (EAPIS) plays a critical role in addressing elder abuse in New York City by providing direct services to elder abuse victims and their families as well as elder abuse prevention activities. The EAPIS program has a dual mission: assist and ensure the safety of elders aged 60 and over who have been abused; and prevent further abuse by building awareness of the problems through outreach to individuals and groups and through educational presentations. Through this procurement, DFTA is seeking Providers from all five Boroughs to run the EAPIS Program. Providers would employ a variety of skills and services, including but not limited to general case assistance, advocacy, counseling, legal advocacy and/or legal referrals, information and referrals to services (mental health, legal, social etc.), provision of or referral to structure support groups, referrals to the Office to Combat Domestic Violence, escort and transportation services/referrals, and financial assistance, if needed. Providers would have a presence in the community that they serve and demonstrate an understanding of the community demographics, culture, and values. DFTA requests each provider employ bilingual/bicultural staff most prevalent in the communities to be served. |
