The Reinstallation of the Alamo Cube has been rescheduled

The scheduled return of “The Alamo Cube” for today has been postponed. The procedure for its return will be rescheduled for a later date to occur when we are confident the process will happen as seamlessly as possible. Once we’ve established the new reinstallation date, an advisory will be sent to the public in advance.

We appreciate your cooperation and thank you in advance for your patience while we rebuild NYC’s infrastructure.

Please Note: As always, due to unforeseen conditions (weather, field conditions, etc.) it may become necessary to change some scheduled work locations and operations.
