March 14th, 2006

The meeting was called to order at 7:06 PM by Co-Chair Andrew Albert.

1. Newsrack Presentation: "Recapturing Our Streets - Fighting Newsrack Clutter."

Former Board member Howard Stevens presented a proposed resolution on the newsboxes that have sprung up all over the West Side, & indeed - the entire City. The issues of pedestrian access to the sidewalks, the lack of upkeep of the boxes, and even security issues were discussed. After a spirited discussion, the following resolution was adopted by the Committee:

Whereas the proliferation of newsracks has created cluttered, dangerous, unsanitary and unsightly conditions on the streets of New York City; and

Whereas, the owners of the various publications distributed by the newsracks have largely failed to maintain their newsracks according to applicable regulations; and

Whereas, the Department of Transportation has not effectively enforced newsrack regulations because of deficiency in the current law and lack of personnel; and

Whereas, use of the 311 system for complaints about unlawfully placed or improperly maintained newsracks has not been produced meaningful results; and

Whereas, other cities have enacted legislation limiting the number of newsracks on each corner, mandating size, appearance, maintenance and other requirements and have imposed fair licensing fees to fund enforcement activities;

Community Board 7/Manhattan requests that:

- 1. The City Council study newsrack legislation in other municipalities and enact a newsrack law which will curb the current abuses and unsafe conditions on our sidewalks.
- 2. The Department of Transportation devote sufficient administrative and personnel resources to satisfactorily enforce the newsrack regulations.

3. The Office of the Mayor take necessary action to encourage and enable the Department of Transportation to more promptly and effectively respond to 311 newsracks complaints.

Nancy Nguyen, the owner's daughter, appeared for Roppongi. Although this was a renewal of their unenclosed sidewalk cafe, there was some dispute as to how many tables and chairs were on the West 81st Street side, and no site plan was present. It was agreed that Ms. Nguyen would submit the site plan prior to the Full Board meeting, and the Committee would caucus prior to the meeting to vote.

March 9, 2006

1. Riverside Park South. Informational presentation of the Southern Open Space at West 61st Street and Riverside Park South.

Presenting: Howard Abel, partner, Abel, Bates & Butts Landscape Architects, described the project, which covers approximately 20,000 square feet and will add as much green as possible in a sequence of three distinct, but soft levels, i.e., mounds, occurring on a two-percent grade. In addition, lighting is planned all along the building, park and sidewalk. The trees will be predominantly Honey Locust and Red Oak and the benches will be wooden and steel benches. The railroad tracks will be covered and the area will be ADA compliant.

Klari Neuwelt explained that the Committee had been reviewing the designs for the successive phases of Riverside Park South for many years under the Restrictive Declaration. She expressed concern about the lack of "table" furniture to accommodate picnickers, computer users, etc. in the proposed design and encouraged the designers to reconsider that issue.

2. 646 West End Avenue, West Side Kollel. Application #05-6447 to the Landmarks Preservation Commission for construction of side and rear-yard addition and modification of the front areaway.

Michael Goldsmith, architect, Ludwig Michael Goldsmith RA, and Elise Quasebarth presenting. Also present Bill Vitacco, a former consultant to the Department of Buildings.

This is a second presentation: applicant voluntarily postponed meeting with LPC at the request of the Committee and returned with modified plans comprising new materials for the structure, which is set back from the street by 40-feet, including parched brick façade and a plan to protect the oriel windows. In addition, the parapet has been raised. As in the original presentation, there is a historic wrought iron gate and picket fence. In addition, there will be an ADA compliant ramp to the back area. Oriel resolution: roof will be dropped to accommodate existing rear window oriel. Although the back one will not be visible, the front oriel window will be visible from the street. Another issue concerned the air-conditioning units, and Mr. Goldsmith reported that the owners were willing to enclose the units to muffle the sound.

Questions from two residents of 640 WEA concerned sound of HVAC unit and effectiveness of baffling. Mr. Goldsmith confirmed sound would be reduced with baffling

The following resolution was adopted:

WHEREAS, the applicant presented to the Parks and Preservation Committee of Community Board 7, Manhattan, at its February, 2006 meeting, a proposed design for an as-of-right side yard addition and related modification of the front areaway; and

WHEREAS, the Committee had concerns about the several aspects of the proposed design with regard to the appearance and material of the front facade of the addition, and with regard to the treatment of an existing oriel window, and

WHEREAS, the applicant agreed to request an adjournment of its February 21, 2006 hearing with the LPC in order to refine the proposed design with the Committee's concerns in mind; and

WHEREAS, the applicant presented to the Committee at its March, 2006 meeting a modified design that met the concerns expressed by the Committee;

WHEREAS, Community Board 7, Manhattan, believes that the use of brick (rather than stucco as originally proposed) for the front facade of the addition, the detailing on the front facade as proposed in the modified design, and the preservation of the oriel window as now proposed are appropriate to the historic district,

Community Board 7, Manhattan, approves the proposed design for the side- and year-yard addition and modification of the front areaway at 646 West End Avenue as presented at its March, 2006 meeting; and

Community Board 7, Manhattan, expresses its thanks to the applicant for seeking the adjournment of its LPC hearing and for working with it to meet its concerns about the proposed design.

3. 466 Columbus Avenue d/b/a Kidville, NY. Application to the Landmarks Preservation Commission for a storefront infill and partial third floor addition.

Attorney Frank Angelino, DeCampo, Diamond & Ash. Andy Stenzler, tenant and owner of Kidville, NY, and Peter Samton, architect, Gruzen Samton, presented. Mr. Angelino pointed out that from a zoning point of view, it is an as of right proposal. Mr. Stenzler owns a facility on East 84th Street. Mr. Samton presented and explained the original building was designed by renowned early 20th century architect George Pelham. He continued that their proposed design includes two 25-foot modules breaking up the 50-foot wide frontage on the property. There will be two ground-level stores, one comprising Kidville which takes up the second and partial third floor. The façade is glass with anodized metal frames, bordered by brick. There will be an awning at the first level going across entire frontage. The roof includes open space with trees and smaller enclosed area for classrooms. The area will be visible only from Columbus Avenue.

Gaby Palitz expressed her concern regarding the color of the bricks. She also felt that the design was too flat. She wanted to contain the glass panes on the upper two floors so that there would be a breakdown that would be more consistent with the rest of the buildings.

Lenore Norman wanted to know whether the removal of the horizontal colored mullions would create a more vertical presence.

Resident of adjacent building expressed his dismay about the design. Another resident, father of two toddlers in the neighborhood, loves the idea of Kidville and likes the design.

An owner to the building directly to the south requested information on the south elevation in terms of noise and the diminution of view. The architect responded that there will be a playground on a rubber floor that will absorb much of the noise and the surrounding area on the roof contains the noise. The size of the air-well between the two buildings will not be reduced and that Kidville caters to children under three-years-old and will be outside only for brief periods.

Klari Neuwelt pointed out that the Committee's purview has to do with the façade only, but strongly dislikes the design and feels it is inappropriate. Linda likes it! Lance likes the color, but his objection has to do with added noise. Gaby feels that there is a layer missing and that it's a "one-liner." She would prefer a more vertical presence. Lenore was not bothered by the orange color, but feels it gives a big-box presence and suggested that they postpone it for one month and revamp the design. They were not willing to go along with that suggestion.

The architects said that they could modify the mullions for more verticality and change the color of the brick to red, but the majority of the Committee was not satisfied with those suggestions, particularly the vagueness of the suggestion regarding the window design.

Resolution to disapprove because of the lack of the relationship to the surrounding buildings, while agreeing it could be in a contemporary idiom.
3-2-0-0; 1-0-0-0 (superseded)

NOTE: In the days immediately after the Committee meeting, the applicant submitted a substantially modified design to the Committee. The Committee polled those members who could be reached and agreed to approve the modified design. The final resolution follows:

The following resolution was adopted:

WHEREAS, the design for the facade proposed by the applicant to the Parks and Preservation Committee of Community Board 7, Manhattan, at its March, 2006 meeting presented several concerns to the Committee, most notably its "big box store" appearance, the large central expanse of windows, the light brown brick and some of the decorative detailing; and

WHEREAS, by e-mail dated March 13, 2006 the applicant submitted to the Committee a revised design responding to the Committee's concerns, in which the brick color has been changed to red, the window treatment has changed to provide traditional separation of windows into individual bays, and the colored metal decorative elements have been eliminated, and

WHEREAS, Community Board 7, Manhattan, believes that the proposed design, as modified, is appropriate to the historic district,

Community Board 7, Manhattan, approves the proposed new facade ("storefront infill") and partial third-story addition at 466 Columbus Avenue.

4. 65 Central Park West (West 66th Street) Application #06-3716 to the Landmarks Preservation Commission to enlarge window openings. Paige Mader and Ann Leslie Warren, principals, W Design. Proposal to replace double-hung windows in one of the two penthouses. The new windows and enlarged openings will match those of the adjacent penthouse which were approved by the Landmarks Commission 12 years ago.

The following resolution was adopted:

WHEREAS, the window openings that are the subject of the application are on a penthouse and minimally visible, and

WHEREAS, the proposed enlarged openings and new windows would match those of the adjacent penthouse, which were approved by the Landmarks Preservation Commission,

WHEREAS, Community Board 7, Manhattan, believes that the proposed new windows in enlarged openings are appropriate to the building and to the historic district,

Community Board 7, Manhattan, approves the application to enlarge window openings and install new windows to the corner penthouse at 65 Central Park West.

5. 248 Central Park West. Application to the Landmarks Preservation Commission to replace windows and construct a front-gate and rear penthouse addition.

Presenting: Raymond M. Pepi, president, Building Conservation Associates, Inc., Elliot Rosenblum, Rosenblum Architects. The building was destroyed in a fire several years ago and the façade was completely restored. They are proposing to restore the building with the following: replace existing front flat windows with curved windows in a color that is sympathetic with brick, clean the façade and replace the chimney. There is Canadian New Brunswick Sandstone at the balustrade that has a high level of carving that will be restored and preserved. In addition, the owner is requesting a gated doorway which will reflect the vocabulary of the gate on the adjoining building.

Building is 70-feet deep. They are hiding the air conditioning units by cutting the front section back. Bulkhead will also be hidden. The front half of the new penthouse will be the same as the existing bulkhead. They are bringing the flue bulkheads to the front of the roof to hide them from CPW. The front face of the stair bulkhead blocks replaced flues. From West 85th Street a portion of the addition will be visible, but only in the back of the building . It will be constructed of the same red brick of the first addition, with the same articulation. It is being built on top of a new addition that had been part of the restoration after the fire 10 years ago.

At 130 feet, at an oblique angle, the two stories comprising approximately 12 additional feet of height will be visible.

The following resolution was adopted:

WHEREAS, the proposed window replacements appear likely to replicate the original window design for the building; and

WHEREAS, the proposed front gate in ornamental iron is an elegant design in keeping with the character of architectural elements of the building and its neighbors; and

WHEREAS, the proposed penthouse addition will be of brick in a color matching existing rear brickwork of the building, will be of minimally intrusive design and will be visible only from the side street; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 7, Manhattan, believes that each element of the application is appropriate to the building and to the historic district,

Community Board 7, Manhattan, approves the proposed window replacement, new ornamental iron front gate and penthouse addition at 248 Central Park West.

6. Discussion of meeting with Landmarks Preservation Commission and follow-up. Lenore Norman, Klari Neuwelt, Shelly Fine and Penny Ryan met with LPC on February 23 regarding LPC scheduling and other aspects of interaction between CB7 and LPC. The object was to make CB7's and its P+P Committee's work more efficient, to have a greater influence on the proceedings at LPC, and to facilitate CB7's ability to follow up on LPC actions. CB7 does not receive direct information on the LPC's actions. Lenore has offered to attend some of the hearings at LPC, as did Klari Neuwelt and Michele Kidwell. The Committee will request that Penny Ryan hand out guidelines to new applicants at the time of application that are specific to the type of application. The Committee members received copies of the proposed guidelines from Lenore Norman, which they will review.

In addition, the group discussed proposed designations. The Committee would like to hire two people to review Manhattan Valley in order to have it designated as an Historic District. We will find out whether we can approach the issue of funding. Page Cowley had offered to help find people who would be interested in directing this effort.

Present: Committee Members Lenore Norman, Klari Neuwelt, Linda Alexander, Lance Dashevsky, Gabrielle Palitz; Board Chairman Sheldon J. Fine. Absent: Phyllis Gunther, Patricia Stevens

Public member: Michele Kidwell present.

Housing Committee

Victor Gonzalez and Charles Simon, Co-Chairpersons

March 13, 2006

The meeting began at 7:10 P.M. Charles Simon made introductory remarks and turned the floor over to Laura Jervis of the West Side Federation of Senior and Supportive Housing.

1. 44 West 87th Street and 208 West 84th Street. Presentation by West Side Federation of Senior and Supportive Housing on plans for two city-owned buildings, 44 West 87th Street and 208 West 84th Street. Joint with Health & Human Services Committee, Barbara Van Buren, Chairperson.

Ms. Jervis spoke about the two buildings that they have taken over (44 West 87th Street and 208 West 84th Street) at the request of the City. In particular, WSFSSH is seeking CB7's approval of a proposed WSFSSH application to the Homeless Housing Assistance Program (HHAP) to renovate part of 44 West 87th Street for use by the Dorot Homelessness Prevention Program.

Gretchen Quinn of Dorot explained that Dorot proposed to run one-half of the building as transitional housing for 14 or 15 adults. Gretchen explained that Dorot's current home at 316 West 95th Street is an SRO being converted to a hotel. She further explained that Dorot has an excellent relationship with neighbors at their current location.

Ms. Jervis explained that the majority of current tenants at 44 West 87th Street are pleased to have WSFSSH managing the building. In response to questions, she explained that, other than Dorot's units, units vacated by existing tenants would be used for community members.

The Committee agreed that WSFSSH and Dorot would do outreach to the community (Ms. Febus agreed to do so, as well) re their application, and that community members would have an opportunity to express their views at the April Housing Committee meeting, at which time the Committee would also consider the draft HHAP application and protocol and then vote on the HHAP application. The Committee's recommendation would then be referred to the Steering Committee and the Full Board. [NOTE: As of 3/30,

WSFSSH has advised the Housing Committee that it will not be submitting the HHAP this year, so that immediate consideration of the matter by the Committee is no longer required.]

2. Discussion with Matt Shafit, Department of Housing Preservation & Development on illegal conversions and Code Enforcement in single room occupancy hotels.

The co-chairs then introduced Matt Shafit, the General Counsel of the NYC Department of Housing Preservation and Development (HPD), to discuss the regulatory scheme for SROs and areas in which he thought that CB7 could play a constructive role. Mr. Shafit stated that HPD has a normal regulatory role – enforcing the Housing Maintenance code, which covers the obligations of landlords to tenants re housing conditions in SROs or other forms of housing.

HPD also has a specific regulatory role with respect to SROs. Current law requires SRO owners to obtain certificates of no harassment from HPD before making certain modifications to their SRO properties. HPD looks back three years in conducting their "certificate" investigations and notifies community boards (among others) whenever they are conducting these investigations. HPD's biggest challenge in conducting these investigations is getting information on harassment. Mr. Shafit indicated that CB7 could play a critical role in facilitating the collection and sharing of historical information re harassment during the three-year investigation period. In response to questions, he indicated that anonymous calls to 311 are not helpful from a "proof" perspective and that various training programs are available through HPD to educate tenants on what constitutes harassment. Luiz Aragon, Deputy Commissioner, 212-863-7001, coordinates the training. The Community Board might provide valuable assistance in facilitating training for SRO residents in the district.

Mr. Shafit identified as another challenge the fact that illegal work does not, alone, constitute harassment; HPD still needs to prove that the landlord intended to or actually did cause tenants to surrender their tenancy rights. Legislation is needed to address this flaw.

He covered the overall regulatory scheme re SROs. Department of Buildings enforces the Building Code which covers structural and occupancy issues, while HPD enforces the Housing Maintenance Code, which covers conditions, repairs and services. Also relevant are the Zoning Resolution, the fire code, the health code and the multiple dwellings code. Because many of these codes are inconsistent with one another, they become harder to enforce. Lack of coordination among the agencies is not a problem, but lack of coordination among the codes is. Specifically with respect to fines, he indicated that HPD lacked the critical authority to enforce fines before an agency administrative tribunal; HPD seeks this authority every year in the state legislature but is routinely denied by the State Senate.

The Committee asked for data on existing SROs and actual SRO tenants. He indicated that he would ask for that information (to the extent it's available) to be provided to us.

The meeting adjourned at 9:15 P.M. The next meeting will be on April 17th, 2006.

CERT Training

CERT program is a federally funded program with training arranged by New York City's Office of Emergency Management.

The CERT program is offered to anyone interested in participating. The program gives each civilian trained the opportunity in case of an emergency to be of assistance while waiting for the NYPD, FDNY or EMS.

The training is a eleven (11) week course for certification. Trainings are administered by NYPD, FDNY, and ARC.

George Contreras, who is certified by FEMA as a CERT instructor, gave an introduction to the training modules offered by the CERT program, and how they can benefit the community.

Training modules are :

Introduction to CERT

CERT Operations

Fire Safety; small fires

Light Search & Rescue

Disaster Medical Responses

Terrorism & CERT

Preparedness for the Urban Environment

Disaster Mental Health

Disaster Simulation

Course Review

Examples of training include: How to conduct a preliminary room search in a safe and methodical way. Techniques on working together as a team during the search.

First Aid and CPR training will also be included in the training.

Each training module consists of 3 hours of basic skills and encourages safety first.

Committee also discussed reaching out to the 32BJ union to have some of their members join the CERT training program.

The CERT program after all members are trained must be maintained by the team. An example of this is the Battery Park CERT which now has over 200 team members and a 401(c) 3 corporation with a 15 member board. Another example is the East 60's Neighborhood Association CERT ("ESNA-CERT") which has formed a New York corporation and is seeking 401(c) 3 status.

In order to begin the training program the team will need at least 40 volunteers from within Community Board 7 boundaries (59th Street to 110th Street between Riverside Drive and Central Park West.)

It was noted the OEM seems to want all team members to live within the CB7 boundaries. However, John Howell noted that if an incident occurs during the workday, most residents will be scattered throughout the City at their jobs. So, we should try to get OEM to include some people who work in the CB7 area during the day.

Election of team leader and structure for governing of team, funds, and training will be held after training is complete.

CERT Structure Working Team Formed: Bobbie Katzander and John Howell will contact existing CERT teams on organizational and legal structure to get copies of relevant materials including by-laws and corporate documents. We can use their work as a model for our CERT. John Howell asked if there were an attorney present who would be willing to help in the structure work, but no attorney was evidently present.

John Howell also noted that one of the greatest areas of contention in volunteer organizations is the handling of money. Before we raise one single penny, we must have well established procedures to control and account for funds. Otherwise, it would be better not to have any funds at all.

The Committee will also have discussions with PSA 6 and the 20th, 24th, and the Central Park Police Precincts about coordination between the CERT team and the NYPD.

Jeff Demarco (community member) asked how the community can help in the recruitment process. Several members of the public said they would join and also recruit other members.

CERT Training Begins in June

John Howell noted that we are now scheduled to start training the week of June 19, with the day of the week to be determined.

Miriam Febus (public member) agreed that we could use the Broadway Mall Community Center for some or most of the training sessions, "depending on the day of the week".

Bobbie Katzander noted that several members would likely be taking vacations during the 13 week training period. So, there was some discussion about solutions.

First, John Howell will ask OEM if there is any flexibility about the training schedule. Specifically, several members would be happy to attend double sessions on Sundays to accelerate the training course.

Second, George Contreras said we could do make up training sessions internally.

Third, John Howell noted that the Battery Park CERT accepts trainees from other teams, but it charges $90 for one complete course per trainee. We will ask the Battery Park CERT if they would be willing to give us a discount for some of our members taking just a few sessions by way of make up.

Communications

The committee also discussed the possibility of offering communications training for any interested members of the CERT team, including HAM radio training, which would be free of charge except for the cost of the text ($20) and the FCC license exam fee ($15).

The difference between and benefits of the FRS (Family radio system) and the GMRS (Ground mobile radio system). The GMRS works within 25 city blocks this is the system that could be used by a deployed CERT team.

Emergency Communications Working Team Formed: We will also need an Emergency Communication Plan and System of Operation will be worked on by John Howell, Sheldon Fine, Bobbie Katzander, Joyce Johnson, George Contreras, and Lisa Lehr (public member).

ICS: Incident Command System

· The CERT teams can play an important role in our community. No matter how small the response to an emergency, the CERT team can always be of help to the uniformed services responding to the emergency. But, everyone must make sure to check in with the incident commander before becoming involved. Safety first.

- John Howell gave a brief introduction to the ICS system. John Howell encouraged everyone to go to the FEMA cite and take the free I-100 course.

The site address was included in the ICS handout.

311 Data

- Acquisition of data from the 311 system will be delayed for a few more months

- The committee agreed to send a letter to Borough President Scott Stringer as well as our City Council Members. John Howell will draft the letter and distribute it to the Committee members for review.

- Steve Strauss suggested the committee ask that basic 311 statistics be posted on the City website as information for the community and city.

- Miriam Febus said there remains a need for more Police Officers in the neighborhood to deal with quality of life problems. However, Joyce Johnson and John Howell pointed out that we need data to support any request for more officers, or our statements will only be so much idle discussion. This makes getting the 311 statistics all the more important.

- John Howell will contact Helen Rosenthal about the timing of the committee's input to the District Needs Statement.

- Bobbie Katzander brought up the question of having civilians or even volunteers come into precincts to release police officers to work the streets. Captain Kobetitsch of PSA 6 noted there are currently police assistants in place at NYPD precincts. However, he went on to say, these civilian employees have very clearly defined job descriptions, and they cannot work outside of their defined job areas. Captain Kobetitsch pointed out that some of the officers seen working in a precinct are injured and have been placed on light duty while they recover.

Identity Theft

- Tom Vitullo-Martin asked if anything can be done concerning the identity theft problem in our community.

- The committee will contact local precincts about statistics concerning identity theft within Community Board 7

- Mr. Vitullo-Martin also discussed the possibility of having a community forum to discuss this issue. Joyce Johnson said the forum would have to avoid becoming a pity party if it is to be useful. It was agreed that we should try to include experts from various relevant fields, such as a credit card company, the District Attorney's office, an attorney specializing in this area, etc.

· Identity Theft Working Team Formed: Joyce Johnson proposed setting up a task force led by Mr. Vitullo-Martin to deal with these issues in Community Board 7. The members will be Tom Vitullo-Martin, Joyce Johnson, and John Howell. Bobbie Katzander will contact attorneys specializing on identity theft. They will be asked to go over the steps on what to do if this happens to you.

· John Howell said that since the committee is already so busy, we should aim for the forum to be held sometime in the Fall, maybe September, October, or November. Tom Vitullo-Martin agreed it would take time to organize something worthwhile. For the time being we'll be in an information gathering mode.

There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned at 8:15 PM

The next meeting will be Thursday, April 6, 2006.

Present: Committee Members John D. Howell, Alberto Cruz, Joyce S. Johnson, Bobbie Katzander, Oscar Rios, Steve Strauss, Tom Vitullo-Martin; CB7 Chairman Sheldon J. Fine.
