

A new community resource for Harlem

Are you a resident or educator in West or Central Harlem? If so, we want to hear from you.

We are eager to hear from community members who live or teach near Columbia University's Zuckerman Institute in the Jerome L. Greene Science Center in Manhattanville.

This new brain research institute will host educational programming for people of all ages in the form of lectures, family events, and K-12 classes. To let us know the kinds of programming and resources you would like to experience for yourself, your children, your students, or fellow community members contact us to participate in a two-hour focus group.
