District Manager

due largely to the Department's improved ambulance collections and increased revenues from the two percent tax on fire insurance premiums from out-of-state insurers.

The Federal Department of Homeland Security has allocated $40.8 million to the Department for Federal Fiscal Year 2005 for counter-terrorism initiatives. Funded projects include advanced training programs -- such as comprehensive Incident Command System training and the West Point-led counter-terrorism course for senior Fire and EMS Officers -- and major technological enhancements for the FDNY Operations Center.

In addition, the Federal Department of Health and Human Services has provided $25 million over five years for continued medical monitoring of active and retired FDNY employees who responded to and operated at the World Trade Center on or after 9/11.

Despite budget constraints over the last several years, the Department has been able to maintain a consistently high level of service to the City's residents. Indications of this include:

- The Department's average response time to structural fires remained low relative to national standards, at 4:31 for Fiscal 2005.
- During Fiscal 2004, the number of structural fires decreased by 195.
- Fire fatalities decreased to 91 in Fiscal 2005, down from 106 fire deaths in Fiscal 2004 and 109 in Fiscal 2003. This compares to the peak of 310 fire fatalities in calendar year 1970.
- Average ambulance unit response time to life-threatening medical emergencies fell to 6:46 in Fiscal 2005, down from 7 minutes last fiscal year and 6:54 in Fiscal 2003.
- In the areas served by the six closed fire companies, response times have increased by an average of 34 seconds compared to an average of the three years prior to the closings.

Updates

Taking into account the changed environment since September 11, 2001, the FDNY has made significant strides toward meeting its strategic plan goals while continuing to fulfill its core mission of protecting the lives and property of all New Yorkers. Some highlights from the past year include:

- Leadership programs: The FDNY continues its partnership with the United States Military Academy (USMA) at West Point to offer a graduate-level, leadership-training course to senior officers. Also, the third class of senior Fire and EMS Officers completed the FDNY Officers Management Institute provided by the Columbia University.

- Terrorism Planning: The FDNY Counter Terrorism Center is now operating out of a facility on our Fort Totten training campus. The Center serves as the focal point for planning exercise development and education for the Department.
- Terrorism Training: All FDNY uniformed and EMS members have received at least one eight-hour counter-terrorism course and all new Firefighters are receiving a 24-hour counter-terrorism course and a total of 40 hours of combined Hazardous Material (HazMat) and terrorism awareness training. An additional eight-hour course for all uniformed members entitled, "Emergency Response Plan to WMD Events," has recently been developed and was administered to almost 11,000 Fire and EMS personnel. The course focuses on HazMat operations, recall procedures and terrorism awareness.
- Apparatus and Equipment: The Department has added some significant new pieces of apparatus, including two state-of-the-art mobile command vehicles, advanced HazMat-detection and metering devices, three collapse and technical rescue vehicles and equipment, and three EMS Major Emergency Response Vehicles (MERVs), along with new-generation personal protective equipment.
- Headcount: Since 9/11, the FDNY has hired and trained 3,685 new Firefighters and promoted 2,059 fire officers to fill the many vacancies left by the events of 9/11 and the extraordinary number of retirements (2,917 in total) that followed.
- Diversity and Recruitment: Filing for the next open/competitive Firefighter exam will commence in mid-2006. The Department will devote an additional $1.4 million to enhance its recruitment efforts this year. With this funding, the Department will add seven new permanent positions to the Recruitment Unit, establish recruitment centers and an informational outreach program, and enhance the FDNY Explorer program.
- FDNY High School: A second class of freshmen entered the FDNY High School for Fire and Life Safety last September.
- Fire Code Revision: The FDNY has established a special unit to revise the New York City Fire Prevention Code. New staff is on board, and we anticipate that the new Fire Code will be drafted by July 2006.
- A National Incident Management System (NIMS) has been established at the Federal level and New York City's Citywide Incident Management System (CIMS), finalized by the Mayor in April 2005, will become part of this larger emergency response framework. NIMS and CIMS are both based on an Incident Command System (ICS) framework. The Department has trained extensively, and is continuing to train, in the use of ICS and bases all operational plans around it.

- Marine Operations: While the Department's aging fireboat fleet is receiving necessary repairs, Federal and Borough President funding has enabled the Department to upgrade and improve its marine capabilities, purchase new vessels and enhance its marine firefighter training. With Federal funding, the FDNY is procuring two new-generation, marine-response craft that will be operational in 2008. The Staten Island Borough President provided capital funding to purchase a specially equipped firefighting boat for patrols of busy Staten Island waterways. A similar boat has been purchased with Federal funds to patrol the waters of Manhattan.
- Communications: The successful deployment of a three-part field communication system (consisting of vehicle-based repeaters, high-powered portable post radios and improved handie-talkie radios carried by all members), represents a critical step in improved fireground communications. The Department has deployed 75 post radios throughout the City and installed 13 Battalion car repeaters. FDNY field personnel remain very satisfied with the new radios system.
- Fire Department Operations Center (FDOC): The FDNY is developing its FDOC to serve as the locus for coordinating resources, information and planning by top-level personnel during a large-scale incident or multiple incidents throughout the City. It will serve as a critical hub for information flowing between the Department and other City, State and Federal agencies and will provide our commanders with the resources necessary to facilitate better situational awareness. The FDOC now has the technological infrastructure to receive live video feeds not only from NYPD helicopters, but also from our own satellite camera system. The Department has hired an architect and technology consultant and has selected a construction company. The Department is awaiting final spending authority to begin implementation of the new FDOC.

Federal and State Funding

The Fire Department has played a crucial role in the City of New York's efforts to secure State and Federal homeland security funding. The large response-to-terrorism expenditures now straining the FDNY's resources highlight the need for threat-based allocations of Federal terrorism preparedness funding.

During the past two years, the Department has identified training, communication and equipment needs of over $250 million. The Department's leadership will continue to work with the Mayor's Office and relevant Federal agencies to obtain the resources needed for appropriate response to terrorist and other catastrophic events.

Human Resources Administration Housing and Homeless Services Programs under Family Independence Administration Program Descriptions

HRA's Family Independence Administration operates various programs designed to prevent evictions and provide services to homeless families and individuals.

Homelessness Prevention Programs provide housing-related supportive services and resources to prevent tenants at risk of homelessness from losing affordable housing and compromising their plans of self-support and independence:

Homelessness Diversion Teams' mission is to maintain families in permanent housing and avoid placement in New York City's emergency shelter system. Diversion Teams are operational at all Job Centers and 2 at intake centers at the Bronx Emergency Assistance Unit (EAU) and Preventive Assistance Temporary Housing (P.A.T.H.). The Diversion Teams negotiate, intervene and advocate on behalf of homeless families or families at imminent risk of homelessness. Caseworkers/Job Opportunity Specialists evaluate and verify existing situations, discuss possible solutions and develop a "Diversion Plan" which includes possible long-term alternatives such as payment of rent arrears, apartment search services, granting relocation costs, Family Eviction Prevention Supplement (FEPS) intervention, Section 8 reinstatement and other alternatives that secure permanent housing.

Housing Court Units prevent evictions that have escalated into the Housing Courts. The staff works closely with the Housing Court judges and landlords to resolve the issues facing tenants who are at imminent risk of homelessness. There are seven Housing Court Units, located in all boroughs of New York City.

Rental Assistance Unit (RAU) serves as a safety net to prevent families and individuals from becoming homeless. Its objective is to preserve rent controlled or rent stabilized, subsidized or otherwise affordable rent that the tenant is currently paying.

Landlord Ombudsman Team - HRA established this team whose purpose is to address the needs and concerns of landlords that provide permanent housing for PA families and individuals. HRA formed this team to address the current scarcity of affordable housing for HRA participants and the importance of housing in maintaining self-sufficiency. This specialized unit deals solely with landlord issues and/or complaints.

Community Based Organizations (CBO) Contracted Homelessness Prevention Units: The primary purpose of the Homelessness Prevention Program is to prevent the eviction of those At-Risk families referred to the CBOs by the Homelessness Diversion Teams or the Housing Courts and to obtain suitable permanent housing for such families. The CBOs provide comprehensive preventive social services, advocacy, and referral services to families (with children) at-risk of eviction and/or homelessness who are on public assistance (PA) and who are eligible to receive PA.

Family Eviction Prevention Supplement (FEPS) is a shelter supplement designed to assist families with children in maintaining permanent housing by issuing them a shelter supplement in addition to the Public Assistance (PA) shelter amount. FEPS will last for up to five years, as long as the household maintains FEPS eligibility.

To be eligible for FEPS, the applicant/participant must:

- Have a child age 18 or under in the household (or 18 and a fulltime student);
- Have a court proceeding concerning the nonpayment of rent;
- Be the tenant of record and have a lease for the housing or obtain a written agreement to stay for at least one year if the tenancy is not covered by rent regulation (i.e., nonregulated private housing);
- Have no one in the PA household who is in sanction (SN) status;
- Agree to have his/her entire rent paid directly to the landlord.

Applicants/participants with a court proceeding concerning the nonpayment of rent can apply for FEPS through a New York State Office of Temporary and Disability Assistance (OTDA)-authorized community-based organization (CBO), the Legal Aid Society or a Legal Services preparer. All applicants/participants submitting applications for Jiggetts will be considered by OTDA for FEPS eligibility first. Households that are currently in the Jiggetts/TSS program will be allowed to continue in Jiggetts/TSS for up to two years. Upon completion of the two years, if the case is still in Jiggetts/TSS, OTDA will transfer the case to FEPS if the household meets the FEPS eligibility criteria (with the exception of a court proceeding). A Jiggetts/TSS case can be moved into FEPS before the two years are completed if there is a good cause reason for the transfer. This will be determined on a case-by-case basis.

Programs Targeted for the Homeless provides housing-related supportive services and resources for homeless families and individuals with stable affordable housing.

Housing Stability Plus (HSP) provides eligible public assistance (PA) individuals/families residing in shelter facilities the opportunity to find suitable permanent housing and financial assistance in the form of a rent supplement. To encourage self-sufficiency, the program provides a supplement for up to five years (reduced 20 percent each year after the 1st year) for families who have signed a Statement of Commitment that ties their housing supplement to their mandatory participation in appropriate work-related activities. HSP also serves families who are victims of Domestic Violence residing in DV shelters and PA eligible ACS families with children reunifying from foster care where the only barrier to reunification is housing. HSP replaces the Employment Incentive Housing Program (EIHP) and the Long-Term Stayers Program (LTSP).

Riverview Job Center provides comprehensive services exclusively to homeless shelter residents. Most homeless shelter residence cases are served at the Riverview Job Center. This consolidation enables Riverview to provide under one roof all of the services required by the shelter PA population.

ST. NICHOLAS PARK

This $1.2 million project, funded by Council Member Robert Jackson, will reconstruct the series of staircases in St. Nicholas Park roughly between West 129th and 131st Streets. The staircases, which are badly in need of repair, will be rebuilt to match the graceful design of the past. The project also will add new landscaping in the slopes surrounding the stairs and fix the landings on the stairs.

St. Nicholas Park was named for New Amsterdam's patron saint and 4th century Bishop of Myra, whose image adorned the figurehead on the New Netherland ship that brought the first Dutch colonists to these shores. The 22.74 acre park is bordered by St. Nicholas Terrace (to the west), St. Nicholas Avenue (to the east), and West 128th and 141st Streets.

Dutch farmers originally settled the area in the late 1600s. In the 1880s, the area developed quickly as elevated train lines were constructed. The development of the park and the completion of the transit line made this area of Harlem a fashionable residential district at the turn of the century. The City acquired some of the land for St. Nicholas Park by condemnation for the construction of the Old Croton Aqueduct in 1885-86. New York State laws of 1894 and 1895 authorized the creation of a public park instead. Additional property for the park was assembled in 1900-1906. In 1909 Parks acquired an adjacent parcel that extended the southern boundary of the park from W. 130th Street to W. 128th Street.
