

The New York Public Library

In partnership with the Mayor's Office for People with Disabilities & NYC Adaptive Climbing

presents a free program:

SPORTS FOR ALL!

A day to find out what sport is right for you

Saturday, May 4, 2013, 10:30 - 4 P.M.

Stephen A. Schwarzman Building, 5th Avenue & W. 42nd Street

Berger Forum and South Court Auditorium

Mayor's Office for People with Disabilities

Accommodations such as Assistive Listening Devices, ASL interpretation and real-time (CART) captioning can be arranged with a minimum of two weeks notice.

Contact Brigid Cahalan at 212-340-0951 or brigidcahalan@nypl.org

Accessible Entrance is Located at 42nd Street between 5th and 6th Avenue

See reverse for more information

Organizations to be represented at Sports for All include:

Achilles International
Adapted Aquatics, NYC Dept. of Parks & Recreation
Challenged Athletes Foundation
GallopNYC
Henry Viscardi School, at The Viscardi Center
Kicking the Spectrum
Leaps of Faith
Long Island Bombers
New York Association for Blind Athletes
NYC Adaptive Climbing
Peak Potential
Round Star Foundation
Row New York
Seido Karate for the Blind
Tennis Serves
VISIONS Services for the Blind
Wounded Warrior Project

Exhibitors and presenters will introduce attendees to sports for children, teens and adults with widely-varying abilities. We especially welcome individuals and families/friends/caregivers of those with: low vision/blindness; amputation; spinal cord injury; autism; muscular dystrophy; cerebral palsy; multiple sclerosis; traumatic brain injury; post-stroke; developmental disorders; and down syndrome.