

Video of the Day: NYC TV Online

New York's municipal cable channel NYC TV is making its shows available on demand for online viewers. This could be the biggest workplace timewaster ever invented, because we love shows like "Secrets of New York," "Cool in Your Code," and "$9.99." NYC TV has revolutionized municipal TV in the last few years by departing from standard public access fare and presenting well-produced, interesting programming that offers a lot to both New York newcomers and lifelong residents alike.

Secrets of New York

A link to all of NYC TV's shows is available here. Above is a link to a video clip from "Secrets of New York" that examines the work of New York's sandhogs on Water Tunnel #3, almost 70 stories below ground. Now if only the city could start posting videos of Mayoral addresses, city press conferences, and City Council meetings . . .
