Manhattan: City TV Now on Web Site

Clips from the city's official television outlet, NYC TV, have been made available through the city's Web site, www.nyc.gov, Mayor Michael R. Bloomberg said yesterday. Nearly 500 clips are available, and dozens more are scheduled to be added weekly, the mayor said. The clips can be searched by neighborhood and topic, like shopping, parks or food. The site will also make it possible for users to send the video clips as e-mail messages and to provide links to the site, city officials said. In the past four years, NYC TV has won 23 New York Emmy Awards.
