

Heading production

Nomi Roher has been named Director of Production at NYC TV, overseeing all aspects of production, from inception to delivery, of NYC TV's original programs, including the Emmy Award winning New York 360° and Eat Out New York. Roher has more than 10 years of production experience in music, fashion, film, and television realms. Her work with NYC TV started in 2006, when she served as Post Production Supervisor for 11 episodes of Eat Out New York, which also aired on WNBC-TV.