

One Police Plaza Security Plan EIS
CHAPTER 15: IRREVERSIBLE AND IRRETRIEVABLE
COMMITMENT OF RESOURCES

---

Resources, both natural and man-made, have been expended in the construction and operation of the security plan elements. These resources include the building materials used during construction of checkpoint booths; energy in the form of gas and electricity consumed during the construction and operation of these security elements; and human effort to develop, construct and operate various elements of the security plan. These are considered irretrievably committed because their reuse for some other purpose would be highly unlikely.