TOP EMPLOYERS

The table to the right lists the employers in New York City that posted the most new, unduplicated ads in the last 90 days and the number of ads they posted. The list of top-advertising employers is dominated by firms in finance, technology, and universities.1

MONTHLY AD TRENDS

The line chart below shows the monthly total volume of on-line ads for New York City jobs this month, down 2.4 percent from the same month in 2012, when online advertising was especially active. The chart shows the seasonality of online job ad volume, with annual lows in late fall and annual peaks in spring and late summer.

ADS BY SECTOR AND OCCUPATION

The pie chart to the bottom right shows New York City job ads organized by sector. Between March 20, 2013, and June 17, 2013, the largest proportion of job listings were in the professional, scientific, and technical services sector (26%), concentrated in computer systems design, accounting, computer programming services, and engineering services; and in finance and insurance (26%), concentrated in commercial banking and securities brokerage. Shown on the other side of this page are the highest volume occupations by group and by detailed occupation. The most in-demand occupations in the past 90 days were marketing managers, web developers, executive secretaries and administrative assistants, and financial managers.

ABOUT REAL-TIME LABOR MARKET INFORMATION

Real-time labor market information comes from the daily scraping and analysis of online labor exchanges. It can provide insight into the nature and extent of current employer demand, emerging occupations and skill requirements. Internet job ads represent about 70 percent of all vacancies in the economy (and nearly 95% of jobs other than the lowest skill, lowest pay, and highest turnover occupations such as in retail, food service, and construction).
