

TOP 10 WATER SAFETY TIPS

1 Lifeguards Keep Us Safe

Lifeguards are there for your protection, so only swim where lifeguards are present, follow directions, and always swim with a buddy, friend, or parent.

2 Learn to Swim

It's never too early—or too late—to learn to swim! Learn about free and low-cost swim lessons by visiting nyc.gov/parks.

3 Never Leave Children Unattended

Teach children the importance of water safety and stay within arm's reach while swimming. Never leave children unattended near water, even when lifeguards are present.

4 Obey All Posted Signs and Flags

Read all signs and follow the directions of lifeguards. Swimming is only permitted in designated areas and never allowed when a red flag is posted at the beach.

5 Watch for Dangerous Waves and Rip Currents

If you are caught in a rip current, do not panic. Stay calm and swim parallel to the shore. Once away from the current, return to the beach.

6 Stay Alert and Aware of Your Surroundings

Be careful not to swim tired, cold, or far from safety, and never use alcohol while swimming, boating, or supervising children near water.

7 Wear a Life Jacket when Boating

Even expert swimmers should wear a life jacket while boating. Never use air-filled or foam beach toys instead of a life jacket.

8 Don't Take Unnecessary Risks

Never go wading unless swimming is permitted and be cautious of deep water. The first time you enter the water, ease in or walk in — do not jump or dive.

9 Be Safe in the Sun

When at the beach, pool, or park this summer, wear sun screen, drink plenty of fluids, and wear light and loose-fitting clothing to stay cool.

10 Know Before You Go

Check weather conditions and get real-time beach opening and water quality information by visiting nyc.gov/parks or calling 311.

YOU are invited to the Annual NYPD 108th Police Precinct Community Council's

Dear Friend and Supporter,

Adrian Bordoni, Exec. Director of Woodside on the Move, and I, in a joint effort to help our 108 Police Precinct to entertain local kids, proudly announce 2015's "Night Out on Crime" at a new location this year!

Louis Windmuller Park
Lawrence Virgilio Playground
52nd-54th Sts. w. of Woodside Ave.
#7 stop 52nd St. in Woodside

Thank you for your past support for this event, which introduces precinct hardworking men and women to our community children. There will be lots of fun with a DJ playing family fare tunes, refreshments, bouncy toys, and plenty of police protection!

Please consider making a financial donation to "108 Precinct Community Council" or or perhaps you would like to sponsor some giveaway to the children such as a refreshment, shirts, balloons or the like, with your organization's name. Any gift large or small would be appreciated and tax deductible. And no matter what, PLEASE ATTEND!

To have something picked up, please call PO Luis Diaz or PO Marc Torres at 718-784-5420, Adrian at 718-476-6946, or me at 718-784-3194.
