STORM DAMAGE ADVISORY-DEPARTMENT OF PARKS & RECREATION

As of 4:30 pm on Friday, September 17th, over 4,000 calls were made to 311 to report trees damaged or down. Over 3,000 of these tree service request calls to 311 came from Queens, over 700 from Brooklyn, and over 200 from Staten Island. This is the highest number of storm calls in the 14 years Parks Forestry has tracked tree damage and downed trees using our current system. The number does not take into account hundreds, perhaps thousands of trees damaged or down in parks. The damage may be due to the effects of a cyclonic or whirling wind that sheared tops off of many otherwise healthy trees which will now have to be taken down as well.

Parks crews began working Thursday evening to clear downed trees. There are approximately 80 Parks Forestry teams, comprising 350 Parks Forestry staff, and they include both forestry crews and inspectors, alongside forestry contractor crews working under a storm emergency contract. Staff from Manhattan and the Bronx are being deployed in Queens. Additionally, the Departments of Police, Fire, Transportation and Sanitation are working to remove downed trees and debris from streets and highways across the region. Con Ed is simultaneously clearing wires so that trees can be removed.

We continue to urge citizens not to try to clear downed trees by themselves, as trees can weigh many tons and suddenly shift or fall. Please call 311 to report trees and limbs down, and please be patient as the Parks Department crews will be working first to clear streets so that emergency vehicles can get through, then removing trees fallen on or leaning on houses.
