The Digital TV Transition ARE YOU READY

What You Need to Know About DTV

What Is The Digital TV (DTV) Transition?

Currently, many over-the-air stations are broadcasting in both analog and digital TV formats. By June 12, 2009, all full-power TV stations will broadcast only in digital. The DTV transition will affect those who watch free over-the-air television (through a rooftop antenna or "rabbit ears"). If you watch over-the-air programs on an analog TV, you must take action now.

Why Are Broadcast Stations Switching to Digital?

Federal law requires the switch, which will free up the airwaves for police, fire, and emergency rescue communications, allow broadcasters to offer programming with better picture and sound quality and offer more programming choices, and allow for advanced wireless services for consumers.

What Should I Do to Be Ready?

You have three choices:

- 1. Connect your analog TV to a digital-to-analog converter box
 Your local broadcasters may make the transition before the June 12th deadline, and some already have. So be ready. Digital-to-analog converter boxes are in stores and have a one-time cost of $40-$70. To help you pay for the boxes, the U.S. Government is offering two $40 coupons per household. (Please note that these coupons will expire 90 days after mailing). For more information on the coupons, visit www.DTV2009.gov, or call 1-888-388-2009 (voice) or 1-877-530-2634 (TTY). Plus, you should not need a new antenna if you get good quality reception on analog channels 2-51 with your existing antenna. Or

- 2. Buy a digital television (a TV with a built-in digital tuner)
 You do not need a High Definition TV (HDTV) to watch digital broadcast television. You only need a digital TV (or an analog TV connected to a digital-to-analog converter box). Plus, you should not need a new antenna if you get good quality reception on analog channels 2-51 with your existing antenna. Or

- 3. Subscribe to a paid TV service
 If your TV set receives local broadcast stations through a paid provider such as cable or satellite TV, it is already prepared for the DTV transition. Cable companies are not required to transition or switch any of their channels to digital. However, if you have an analog TV that does not receive local broadcast stations through your paid provider, you will need a digital-to-analog converter box to watch digital broadcasts on that TV.

LET US HELP YOUR BUSINESS!!!!

A NEW INITIATIVE FROM QUEENS BOROUGH PRESIDENT HELEN M. MARSHALL

As we face the most challenging economic times in recent history, businesses are feeling the recession’s impact in significant ways. But even in these uncertain times, there are reasons to be optimistic about the economic future of Queens.

To help Queens businesses weather this economic storm and thrive we have created an online tool for business owners seeking assistance in building and expanding their business. This monthly calendar provides information about basic business readiness, as well as access to financial assistance programs. In addition, this on-line resource offers businesses the ability to acquire new contracts and successfully complete existing ones. So let us help your business by linking you to resources that will build the capacity of your business for future growth.

To access the Economic Development Event Calendars, follow these few simple steps:

1. Visit www.queensbp.org
2. On the left menu bar, click “ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT”
3. When the left menu opens, click “EVENT CALENDARS”
4. We have developed 3 calendars to help you:
 - Business Assistance
 - Jobs and Employment Events
 - Procurement Opportunities
5. Click the calendar that you want-The Business Assistance Calendar and Procurement Opportunities Calendar lists helpful workshops, seminars and contracts offered throughout Queens. The Job and Employment Events Calendar highlights job fairs, open hiring days and other items related to building your career.

If you area provider and would like to have your event, workshop or service listed on the calendar, please feel free to submit your items to:
