What is the Earned Income Tax Credit?

The Earned Income Tax Credit (EITC) is a federal, state and city tax credit for low - to moderate-income working families and individuals. The EITC can help you reduce your tax liability and, in many cases, put money in your pocket. In general, a tax credit is a dollar-for-dollar reduction of the taxes you owe. The EITC is known as a “refundable tax credit.” This means that if the amount you owe in taxes is less than the amount of the EITC you are eligible to receive, you will receive a check from the government for the difference. In 2003, New Yorkers who claimed their EITC received an average refund of nearly $2,300¹.

To qualify for the EITC, you must have worked during at least part of 2005, meet certain income requirements, and file your taxes. It is very important to note that you must file your taxes to receive the EITC, even if you did not earn enough money to be required to file.

The EITC benefit is retroactive for three years, so you should review whether you filed for the EITC in recent years. If you meet the eligibility requirements and have not filed for the EITC in 2002, 2003 and/or 2004, you may be entitled to an even larger refund check!

Are You Eligible for the Earned Income Tax Credit?

In addition to the EITC offered by the United States government, New York State and New York City also both offer an EITC to qualified workers. Luckily, if you are eligible for the federal EITC, you are also eligible for the State and City earned income tax credits. By applying for all three credits, you can receive up to $5,940 when you file your taxes! Your eligibility and the size of the tax credit/refund you receive depend on several factors such as your filing status, income level, and the number of qualifying children or dependents you claim. Both families and individuals are eligible to receive the EITC.

To be eligible to receive the EITC, you:

1. MUST have earned income in 2005 through employment or self-employment, which can include wages, salaries, tips, strike benefits paid by a union or, in some cases, employer-paid disability benefits;
2. MUST file your taxes for income earned in 2005;
3. MUST have a Social Security Number for yourself, your spouse (if filing jointly), and any qualifying children;
4. MUST have been a U.S. citizen or resident alien for all of 2005 (One exception: if you are a non-resident alien, you may still be eligible if you are married to a U.S. citizen or resident alien, and you choose to be treated as a resident for all of 2005 by filing a joint return);
5. CANNOT have earned investment income greater than $2,700 during 2005;
6. CANNOT file as “married filing separately”;
7. CANNOT be the qualifying child of another taxpayer;
8. CANNOT file Form 2555 or Form 2555-EZ, relating to foreign earned income.

Income Eligibility Requirements²

For the 2005 tax year, you must have adjusted gross income of less than³:

- $35,263 ($37,263 if married filing jointly) if you have two or more qualifying children.
- $31,030 ($33,030 if married filing jointly) if you have one qualifying child.
- $11,750 ($13,750 if married filing jointly) if you do not have qualifying children.⁴

Qualification Requirements for Children⁵

Children in your family must meet the following three requirements in order to be considered a “qualifying child” when you apply for the EITC:

² United States Internal Revenue Service, Do You Qualify for the Earned Income Tax Credit, available at www.irs.gov/newsroom/article/0,,id=153996,00.html.

⁴ For families without children, see “Qualifying Families without Children” on page 6.

⁵ See 2.

1. Residency Requirement: The child must have lived with you in the United States for more than half of 2005.
2. Relationship Requirement: The child must be your son, daughter, stepchild, foster child, brother, sister, stepbrother, stepsister, or be a descendant of any of the aforementioned.
3. Age Requirement: At the end of 2005, the child must have been under 19-years-old, under age 24 if a full time student, or any age if permanently and totally disabled during 2005.

Qualifying Families without Children⁶:

If you do not have any qualifying children, you must meet three requirements in order to be eligible:

- You MUST be at least 25, but no more than 65, years of age at the end of 2005;
- You CANNOT be the dependent of another person;
- You MUST have lived in the United States for more than half of 2005.

Hurricane Victims of 2005⁷:

If you are a victim of Hurricanes Katrina, Rita, or Wilma, special tax rules may apply. You may have the option of using your 2004 earned income if it was higher than your 2005 earned income. To find out your 2004 earned income amount, you can log on to www.IRS.gov or call 866-562-5227.

Combat Zone Pay⁸:

Although combat pay is exempt for federal taxes, members of the military may include their combat zone pay for the purposes of calculating their EITC. However, EITC applicants must include all of the combat zone pay for the purposes of the EITC calculation, or leave it out entirely.

Beware of Refund Anticipation Loans

In addition to charging a fee for their services, many commercial tax preparers, such as Jackson Hewitt and H&R Block, promote Refund Anticipation Loans (RALs) to their customers. RALs, often referred to as “rapid refunds” or “instant money,” are loans secured by a person’s tax refund, including his/her EITC refund.

Refund Anticipation Loans may look appealing at first. Commercial tax preparers will inform you that a RAL will allow you to walk out of their office with your refund in hand the same day you file your taxes. However, the truth is that what they are really offering is a very high-interest, short-term loan which can cost you a significant portion of your refund.

Although some people may need their tax refund right away, keep in mind that a RAL only saves you about a 10-day wait. If you electronically file your taxes and elect to have your refund direct-deposited into your bank account, you will have your refund in approximately 10 days.

One way to avoid paying for a RAL is to seek tax preparation assistance from one of the hundreds of sites around New York City where such help is provided for free, rather than using a commercial tax preparer. Turn to page 10 of this guide to find the location that is closest to you.

types of Free Tax Assistance in New York City

Volunteer Income Tax Assistance Sites (VITA)⁹

- Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) sites offer free volunteer-based tax assistance for working families who, generally, make less than $40,000 per year and individuals who make less than $20,000 per year. A few sites listed below have different requirements. Be sure to double-check with the VITA site of your choice by calling, verifying the requirements and scheduling an appointment, if applicable, before showing up.
- Volunteers are trained by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS).
- All VITA sites should have tax experts on hand, such as certified public accountants or tax attorneys.
- Please contact the VITA site of your choice to make sure all tax-preparing volunteers are trained and certified by the IRS and are supervised by tax professionals.

Tax Counseling for the Elderly Sites (TCE)¹⁰

- TCE sites provide free tax assistance for people ages 60 and older.
- Some sites listed below may have different age or income requirements for those using their service. Be sure to double-check with the TCE site of your choice by calling, verifying the requirements and scheduling an appointment, if applicable, before showing up.
- Volunteers provide free tax counseling and basic income tax preparation for senior citizens.
- Volunteers are trained by the IRS.
- All sites should have tax experts on hand, such as certified public accountants or tax attorneys.
- Be sure to contact the TCE site of your choice to make sure all tax-preparing volunteers are trained and certified by the IRS and are supervised by tax professionals.

⁹ Information about free tax preparation assistance programs is available at www.irs.gov, the website of the United States Internal Revenue Service.

Checklist: What to Bring When Filing for the EITC

Make sure you have the following items with you when visiting one of the free tax services listed in this guide¹¹:

- Photo ID
 - Such as:
 - Passport, United States Driver's License, Military ID Card

- Social Security Card
 - Bring for each member of your family, including your children.

- Birth dates for those who will be listed on your tax return

- W-2 Forms
 - For all jobs held in 2005.

- Other Important Tax Documents for 2005 (If applicable)
 - Unemployment Insurance Related Documents
 - Bank Interest Documents

- Federal and State Tax Returns for 2004
 - If you have them.

- Bank Account Information (Optional)
 - (Electronically filing, or "e-filing", your taxes and having your refund direct-deposited into your bank account is the fastest way to get your return. This takes about 10 days. To open a bank account, check with a bank or credit union about a free, no-minimum account).
 - To e-file, bring a sample check with you when filing your taxes.

You May Be Eligible for a Much Larger Return**

- If you have not claimed the Earned Income Tax Credit in any or all of the last three years and believe you may have been eligible, bring the above tax information with you for that year (or years). You could get a much larger return. In fact, if you did not file in any of the last three years, you could nearly triple your return!
