

My name is Landon C. Dais and I am running for City Council in the 9th District.

I'm in this race to promote the needs of my community and city. I have a vision for schools that prepare our children for success, new jobs that will allow us to prosper in the 21st Century, and progressive leadership that answers to the people.

As your next City Councilman, I promise to work day and night to improve the lives of everyday citizens. I have a blueprint for a better community. I believe in accountable government, responsible development, and empowered neighborhoods.

The City Council voted undemocratically to extend term limits, overruling the wishes of the masses. I am committed to government that benefits the people, not elected officials.

I will use new technology to improve constituent services and share information more easily with all citizens. I will be an accessible representative to my community and listen to your concerns.

I am against eminent domain unless it clearly benefits the local community. We need responsible development that provides affordable housing, economic opportunity, and neighborhood preservation. We need green certification for all new construction in the district to stimulate innovation, and stringent construction safety regulations to keep our citizens safe. Small businesses are the key to sustained economic growth and, as City Councilman, I would encourage local entrepreneurship.

In order to prosper in the 21st Century economy, our community must be well educated. Parents need to have a greater voice in the New York City school system. Mayoral control must be reformed and the community needs to be more involved in the education of our children.

Students must learn financial literacy in our schools so they can become responsible adults.

I will provide more opportunities for lasting careers through vocational training so our community can overcome the staggeringly high unemployment rate.

Our time is now to have new leadership for a better community. Together we can. Vote Landon Dais on Primary Day, September 15th and in the General Election on November 3rd.

Thank you.
