

My name is Councilman Thomas White, Jr.
I represent the 28th Council District in Southeast Queens.

Four years ago, after watching our community deteriorate, become powerless,
vulnerable, shortchanged, and disrespected,
you asked me to return to the City Council.

Today, our community is on the rebound
and we must continue to rebuild. I restored programs for seniors that were cut by the mayor's office and provided funding for crucial upgrades and technology for our classrooms.

And, as Chair of the Economic Development Committee, I fought and restored millions of dollars to our community to attract more business and economic development

I've funded streetscape projects to help rejuvenate our business districts. To help education and prepare our work force, I've funded educational expansion projects at York College and Queens Library adult learning centers throughout our district.

To address recent hospital closings, I funded new ambulances and medical equipment at Jamaica Hospital so that our community can properly be serviced.

One of the biggest areas in our community that we must continue to fight, that I'm fighting for, is the foreclosure issues that represent a travesty in our community. And, I will continue to fight for that.

And, the message to those individuals that are trying to prey on those individuals by taking advantage of these schemes of offering services to homeowners which take their money, again, I will fight against it.

I will be your advocate and I stand ready to tackle that and to continue that if you re-elect me.

And, I am asking for re-election to the 28th Councilmanic District.

Thank you very much.
