

Hi, my name is Frank Gulluscio and I am the Democratic and Working Families Party candidate for the 32nd Councilmanic seat.

My past has shaped my mission and commitment to community betterment and I look forward to the challenge and responsibility of being a member of the City Council.

I am running because my experience, independence, creativity, and history of achieving real results will allow me to best serve the District during these difficult times. I bring to the table the skills and drive that are necessary to insure that our community gets its fair share of services.

I understand fully the pressures all of us as taxpayers face each day during this challenging economic climate.

I worked my way through college at JFK Airport as a proud union member. I began my adult life as a teacher and have worked in both public and parochial schools. From there I went into the private sector as a small business owner. That experience provided me with first hand knowledge of the many issues facing our small businesses today.

I have also been fortunate enough to serve the community as Chief of Staff for then Councilman Joe Addabbo and as a member of Community Board 10 for over a decade. And, currently, I'm the District Manager of Community Board 6. I also serve as a Democratic Party District Leader. Having spent my entire life within the District, I know the problems and concerns of this community like the back of my hand.

Currently the middle class is under attack. In these times of economic uncertainty, residents are being crushed under tolls, rising sales taxes and increased fines. I am tired of people simply being told to do more with less. We need to make sure that our City representatives understand the needs and concerns of all our residents.

This race is about more than just getting elected; it's about providing for the community. I plan to be a voice and an advocate for all my constituents, not only a select few.

As a lifelong resident I bring the passion and proven practical experience that this District needs and would be proud to be our next City Councilman.

Please vote for Frank Gulluscio in November.
