

Hello. I am Tremaine Wright, Democratic candidate for City Council for the 36th District. During this year's primary election, our community has the opportunity to usher in the new leadership which our District needs.

I'm a life long resident of Bedford Stuyvesant and the owner of Common Grounds, A Neighborhood Coffee House.

I was inspired to run for office by President Barack Obama, my professor at the University of Chicago Law School. He energized me with his message of hope and personal service.

I believe I have a responsibility to reinvest in our community, the community that raised me and that I call home. I am committed to improving the quality of life and promoting economic growth within the District.

I bring practical experience and a history of community service. For the past six years I have been on Community Board 3. I opened Common Grounds, A Neighborhood Coffee House to provide a community gathering place, and as an attorney, I volunteer to provide free legal services for a number of programs supporting small business and families in our area.

I believe that together we can make a change needed in our community. I will advocate for us, making our community's concerns a priority including: affordable housing, improved education for our children, small business initiatives which encourage improved service and growth, cleaner and safer streets, and using the Sumner Avenue Armory for business and recreational purposes.

Together we can bring a change to the 36th District.

Please help elect me, Tremaine Wright,
to City Council for the 36th District.

I have been working diligently to improve the quality of life in our community; and with your vote, I can do even more for our community.

We need a change and we need a Change
Wright Now!

Thank you.
