

My name is John Williams. I am an urban public health specialist, community organizer and activist, with a B.S. degree in public health from Hunter College, New York, and an Associate in community health education from Kingsborough, Brooklyn, and theology studies at Andrews University, Berrien Springs, Michigan. I am the founder, president and CEO of New Creation Ministries Inc., established in central Brooklyn since 1984.

For the past 25 years I have been serving the community in collaboration with a number of other civic, medical, and health, faith based and community based organizations.

I have a profound passion and love for the community of Flatbush/East Flatbush. This predominantly Afro-Latino-Franco/Haitian-Caribbean American community is one of the most dynamic in all of New York City, with vast potential. As City Council member I will fight hard to help achieve this potential.

I am a practical, hands-on, down-to-earth grassroots servant of the people who knows how to get things done. I will continue to achieve this by improving the quality of life for every resident of the 45th through transformation: transforming education, public health, economics, immigration, housing, public safety, youth services, elderly care, culture and faith is my ten point agenda for the first term in office.

Please check my website, williams09.com, for details of my work and achievements in these ten areas cited above.

I am not a politician. I'm a peopletician, one with selfless, sacrificial service to the community. I am running a poorman's campaign, grassroots campaign, with no significant amount of money, no political or union endorsements.

I ask you, please help me with this election and you will see how with my leadership, you and I together can bring transformation to the 45th.

Thank you and may God richly bless you.
