

Estimated number of people eligible for enrollment in the Registry

More than 400,000 people were directly exposed to the WTC disaster:¹

9/11-related exposures and experiences among the 71,437 people enrolled in the WTC Health Registry²

70% of all enrollees reported witnessing traumatizing events*

51% of all enrollees reported being caught in the dust cloud on 9/11

13% of all enrollees reported an injury

61% of adult residents evacuated their homes

83% of building occupants evacuated their workplaces

* Seeing people running away from the dust cloud (53%) or collapsing buildings (47%), seeing people injured or killed (33%) or falling or jumping from the towers (29%) or seeing an airplane hit the towers (29%)

 9% returned as early as 2 days later

Note: About 26% of enrollees fell into more than one eligibility group. The greatest overlap was among building occupants, passers-by and people in transit who were also either rescue/recovery workers or residents or both.
