BROOKLYN COMMUNITY BOARD 9

Message from the Mayor’s Office of Climate and Environmental Justice:

“As the City of New York works to develop its first comprehensive Environmental Justice Plan—The EJNYC Plan—the Mayor’s Office of Climate & Environmental Justice (MOCEJ) has launched a short questionnaire to hear from New Yorkers about priority environmental justice concerns in communities across the city, as well as the solutions respondents believe would be most impactful.

Take the EJNYC Community Questionnaire at: bit.ly/EJinform

The EJNYC Plan will put forth actionable strategies to address environmental inequities identified in the 2024 EJNYC Report and embed environmental justice into City decision-making. Questionnaire responses will be used by MOCEJ to identify potential gaps and inform the draft EJNYC Plan, which will be released next year for public review and feedback.

We welcome your input and invite you to share this with fellow New Yorkers who want to make their voices heard before the draft EJNYC Plan is published. Please note that translated versions of the questionnaire will soon be available on the EJNYC Plan website in Spanish, Chinese (traditional and simplified), Bangla, and Haitian Creole.

If you have any questions or seek additional information regarding the EJNYC Plan, please visit nyc.gov/ej or reach out to MOCEJ at EJNYC@climate.nyc.gov.”
