CCRB RELEASES 2025 SEMI-ANNUAL REPORT AND APU QUARTERLY REPORT

NEW YORK – On Monday, July 28, 2025, the New York City Civilian Complaint Review Board (CCRB) released two key reports chronicling the Agency’s work.

In the 2025 Semi-Annual Report, the Agency detailed data for the first half of the year, including the number of complaints, types of allegations, and the locations where they took place. Additionally, the Agency released its Administrative Prosecution Unit’s Quarterly Report, updating the public on all cases involving charges that closed during Q2 2025.

Semi-Annual Report Key Highlights:

- NYPD Ends Its Use of “Short SOL” Decisions:
In 2024, 890 cases were dismissed by the NYPD for being too close to the expiration of the statute of limitations, also known as “Short SOL.” Police Commissioner Tisch has since ended the use of “Short SOL” dismissals.
- Increased Concurrence and Discipline Rates:
The concurrence rate measures how often the Police Commissioner imposes the same (or more severe) discipline as recommended by the Board; the discipline rate measures how often the Police Commissioner imposes discipline of any kind. In the first half of 2025, the concurrence rate for non-APU cases was 77%; the discipline rate was also 77%.
- High Number of Complaints Received:
In the first half of 2025, the CCRB received 2,778 complaints within its jurisdiction. This is slightly fewer than the 2,867 complaints received in the first half of 2024, but more than any other year since 2012.

The New York City Civilian Complaint Review Board (CCRB) is the largest police oversight entity in the nation and is empowered to investigate, mediate, prosecute, and recommend disciplinary action for complaints alleging misconduct by NYPD officers. See NYC Charter § 440(c)(1). The agency's jurisdiction includes excessive and unnecessary force, abuse of authority, discourtesy, and use of offensive language. To further this mission, CCRB issues monthly, biannual, and special statistical and qualitative reports analyzing trends and recurring issues arising from the many thousands of civilian complaints it receives each year.
