MS. BOND: Good afternoon. Welcome to the Civilian Complaint Review Board, December board meeting. This is our final board meeting of 2019.

You may notice that I'm not Chair Davie who normally leads these meetings. My name is Erica Bond, I'm a Mayoral Designee.

Our chair, Fred Davie, is on the way. He was gratuitous enough to allow us to move forward without him and so we are going to proceed and he will join us when he can.

Before we get started, I'd foremost like to offer condolences on behalf of the Board to the Jersey City community and to our brothers and sisters in the Jewish community. I know there are a lot of facts that are unknown as of yet, but the facts that we do have are heartbreaking, to say the least. And our thoughts and our prayers are with our neighbors in New Jersey at this time.

As we continue with the meeting, I

1 want to extend a warm welcome to our 2 3 newest member of the Board. My fellow Mayoral Designee, Angela Pinsky. 4 5 Angela, I'll give you an opportunity to say a few words and introduce yourself. 6 7 MS. PINKSY: Hi. My name is Angela Pinsky. I am, as Erica mentioned, I am a 8 9 Mayoral Designee for the Board. currently am the Executive Director of the 10 11 Association For A Better New York, which 12 is a non-profit civic organization that looks to make New York City a better place 13 14 to live, work and visit. And it primarily 15 focuses on civic education and engagement. I'm really excited to be here and to get 16 17 to work with the CCRB. 18 MS. BOND: Thank you, Angela. 19 Welcome. 20 And now, we'll have the rest of my 2.1 colleagues on the board introduce 22 themselves and we'll start on my left with 23 John Siegal. 24 MR. SIEGAL: Hi, John Siegal. I'm 25 an appointee for Mayor de Blasio.

2	MS. IRISH: Corrine Irish, Mayoral
3	appointee.
4	MR. DARCHE: John Darche, Executive
5	Director.
6	MR. RIVADENEYRA: Good afternoon,
7	Michael Rivadeneyra. The New York City
8	Council Bronx designee to the Board.
9	MR. PUMA: Good afternoon, I'm
10	Joseph Puma. I'm the City Council
11	designee to the Board from the Borough of
12	Manhattan.
13	MR. PEGUERO: Good afternoon. My
14	name is it Ramon Peguero. I am the City
15	Council designee for Queens.
16	MR. DWYER: Good afternoon. I'm
17	Frank Dwyer. I'm a Police Department
18	designee.
19	MS. BOND: Thank you all.
20	I'd also like take a moment to
21	acknowledge some enterprising students
22	from the educational video center who are
23	joining us in the office today for today's
24	meeting. I know they're very interested
25	in police community relation and we're always glad to have young people attend our meetings to learn more about the work

2.1

We also have some other students here, I understand, from LaGuardia and BMCC. So welcome to all of you as well.

that we do here at CCRB. So welcome.

It's hard to believe we're on the break of 2020 and every December, I think, we all reflect on what we've accomplished in the prior year and here at CCRB it's no different.

We started the year with a bang with our youth summit at NYU, which was held in February of this year. And it was led by the first class of the Agency's Youth Advisory Council, and it was really a wonderful event. And it gave us a better understanding of what New York's young people are thinking and how they're feeling about their relationship with the NYPD.

We know that one in every six of our CCRB complaints come from someone between the ages of 10 and 24 and so having those insights from the Youth Advisory Council is really invaluable for us as an agency and helps to guide our work.

We've recently just selected members of the new Youth Advisory Council class, and we are all, I think, really looking forward to hearing what this new group has to say and to think about the ways in which they can help guide our work in the upcoming year.

In March, we brought together law enforcement scholars and practitioners for a very robust conversation about civilian oversight. That was held at John Jay College and was really a wonderful event.

In May and June our prosecutors presented evidence that ultimately led to

Daniel Pantelo's dismissal from the NYPD.

While this process took far too long and it pains me to know that there's nothing any of us can do about what happened on

Bay Street in Staten Island in 2014. I know we are all very proud to serve on the Board of the agency that was able to deliver some semblance of justice for Eric Garner.

2.1

And then just last month hundreds of thousands of New Yorkers voted to strengthen civilian oversight in our city. And I look forward to working with my colleagues on the Board and the staff here as well to implement the changes that are mandated as a result of that vote.

All in all this was a very big year for the CCRB. This Agency would not have been able to accomplish the things that it did in 2019 without the tireless efforts of my colleagues on the Board and the really wonderful Agency staff.

So on behalf of the Board, I'd like to take a moment really to thank all of you.

And with that I think our Executive Director Jon Darche has a few words to share. But first I just want to thank all the members of the public who are here today. It's really the engagement of every day New Yorkers that fuels the work that we do here, and ensures that we work hard on behalf all of you each and every day. And I'm really wishing you all a happy holiday season.

John?

MR. DARCHE: Thank you, Ms. Bond.

I would welcome you all here and also welcome our newest Board member, Ms. Pinsky. I'm glad to be your first Board meeting. I look forward to working with you going forward.

Since the last meeting in November, there are two important updates. The first is that the Agency has reached a body-worn camera agreement with the NYPD. This agreement will significantly reduce backlog in reviewing body-worn camera footage. It will allow us to do our investigative work and it is a first step that will get us direct access to body-worn camera footage.

Body-worn camera footage is a tool that is going to transform civilian oversight, I think not just in the city, but around the country. And this is a genuine compromise that CCRB didn't get everything it wanted but neither did the NYPD. But there is enough there for everyone to feel like this is a real compromise that is going to meet the goals that we all had going into the

The CCRB was also able to release report on NYPD taser use. I think the big take away was that as more and more tasers are put into the field by the NYPD, there needs to be more consistent training between what is given to the rank and file and executives to make sure that the proper emphasis on deescalation is in all those trainings.

negotiation.

And we would also urge the NYPD to give the CCRB easier access to taser discharge information in use of force reports.

We look forward to hearing from members of the public, but I just wanted to set some ground rules.

2.1

If you have concerns about a specific incident, either one that you have reported or you could report, there are two investigators here tonight.

Instead of speaking publicly about the case, we would ask you to speak to those investigators, Rolando Velasquez, and Caroline Moses. Are you guys here? So they're right there in the back. And if there's a specific incident you'd like to discuss, we urge you to speak to them rather than discussing it -- discussing it publicly.

And our time here tonight is limited so we're going to ask that limit your comments to two minutes a piece to allow sufficient time for everyone to speak.

And thank you all, again, for being here today.

MS. BOND: So with that, we'll move to public comment. Forgive me in advance is I misspeak and don't say your name correctly and please feel free to correct me.

The first person we have is Chris Dunn from NYCLU.

MR. DUNN: Okay. Good afternoon.

For many of you, I've not seen you before.

I apologize, I've been absent for a number of meetings.

Ms. Pinsky, welcome to the CCRB.

As you may or may not know the NYCLU has been long involved with the CCRB.

One thing I've always liked hearing from new board members is when they're introducing themselves, one thing you didn't mention which I think the public would be interested in hearing about is what your engagement has been with the NYPD and policing and what views you bring to police oversight to this position.

MS. PINSKY: Hi. So, you know, I was asked this question earlier today too and I actually have a limited amount of interaction directly with the NYPD. I did -- I was in the car when my husband, got a speeding ticket for going too fast in Staten Island.

But I -- my interaction is -- has been limited directly. I do live in Brooklyn. My kids go to a public school with a school safety officer. We have a lot of police presence in the neighborhood. And the relationship has been a fairly positive one where the community -- there's a lot of open communication between the community and the local precinct.

And I think it's a great relationship that our community has and our neighborhood has and I recognize that relationship isn't as strong for everybody across New York, and so I'm here to hopefully help contribute to making those relationships stronger.

MR. DUNN: Okay. Thank you for that.

And who knows maybe the next time you get stopped in Staten Island, it will be it's own whatever state, whatever they want to be. Once they succeeded, you don't have to deal with the NYPD anymore.

2.1

Okay. In terms of the CCRB, and the year review, I have not typically stood up here to and say good things about the CCRB. We, for a long time, have had mixed feelings about the CCRB. But I will say, the Agency's handling of the Pantelao case I think is a of historical note.

In the prosecution this Agency did of Officer Pantelao, I think was -- everyone recognized the quality of the work that the CCRB did and you're to be commended for that.

And I give -- I wish Fred were here. I give Fred credit for the public statements that he made about which had happened in that case. Recognizing this is a City agency and he's a City employee subject to Mayoral office influence, if not control. And I just want to encourage the Agency to continue to speak with an independent voice as best it can. It's good for the agency. It's good for the public. It's even good for the police department.

On a smaller, but important note, the body-worn camera MOU. I do think that the MOU is an important step towards one of the real problems of the Agency has had from the beginning which is getting full access to department information. And body-worn camera footage which is a controversial topic and we in the NYCLU, we all have concerns about the surveillance aspects of body-worn cameras.

But nonetheless, they are important, accountability tools.

I see my time is almost up. And, you know, from the very beginning of the Agency, you have fought with the Department to get access to information. Those fights have slowed down investigations, delays are the enemy of investigations as you all know. And I am hopeful that the body-worn camera agreement that you have reached is going to be up and running quickly. I'm hoping somebody's back working in that secure room right now, getting those terminals in place, but I'm guessing that is not the case.

But hopefully a day will come when there will not be a member of the Department standing between you and the information you need to have to conduct your investigations.

And perhaps a body-worn camera footage would be an example a step towards that. Although, I recognize there will be a member of the Department sitting in the chair controlling the terminal. At least at the outset.

And then finally, in terms of looking at 2020 and going forward, you have a lot on your plate. I think your community engagement philosophy have been terrific.

We have a whole fight that's going to happen around 50-a and I am hopeful that this agency will be able to take an aggressive position about supporting, not reform, because it's not reforming but the repeal of 50-a.

1 And the Agency will continue take an 2 3 aggressive position about holding the 4 police department accountable. I think 5 you're make significant strides in that respect. And I look forward to next year. 6 7 Thank you. 8 MS. BOND: Thank you, Mr. Dunn, for 9 your comments. And I second your comments about Chair Davie. Who I think really has 10 11 been a great leader for the Agency. I 12 know that our staff is working very hard 13 to implement the BWC MOU and we're very 14 eager to ensure that we have that up and 15 running as soon as possible. 16 The next on our list we have Quadira 17 Coles from Girls for Gender Equity. 18 Is Quadira here? 19 MS. COLES: That's me but I didn't 20 sign up. 2.1 MS. BOND: Oh, you didn't? 22 MS. COLES: No. 23 MS. BOND: Do you want to speak? 24 MS. COLES: No, thank you. I have 25 nothing say right now.

1 MS. BOND: Will move on then. 2 Next 3 we have Harry Sudan. Is Harry here? No. 4 Y. Jennings. 5 MS. JENNINGS: About the body-worn camera. At least two police recently I 6 7 asked them if they put them on. They refused. As the mobs were reaching and 8 9 grabbing at me. I don't know what to say. I came here hopefully to speak to Mr. 10 Davie, I've been trying to reach him, I 11 12 And I don't know what your Board does. I really wish I knew what you do. 13 14 I have no idea what you do. And I do know 15 what you do, but I have no idea. 16 But I reach out again to Mr. Darche. 17 This is for the Mayor. I hope someone 18 down there is actually listening to any of 19 this. I do fear for my safety. What can 20 Need to end it and deprogram the 2.1 situation. See Regan bar. 22 MS. BOND: Thank you, Ms. Jennings. 23 Is there anyone else who signed up called?

for public comments who's name I have not 24

25

2.1

MS. HARVEY: Susan Harvey.

MS. BOND: Please go ahead.

MS. HARVEY: I had a list. I can't find the list, so I'll just wing it.

I just wanted to say that I really appreciate the CCRB and the reason for your being. I was reminded recently reading that a CCRB, a big part of it was David Dinkins idea and David Dinkins was the kind of Mayor that didn't really push himself to let everybody know what was going on but he did a lot as far as that and the commissioner was involved in that.

I just want to say the time I ever I came to New York was in 1973, and, um, there weren't any tourist and there weren't any sovereigns from what I could see. And I just want to say it was the 70s and it was in that commission a lot of bad things were happening.

So I mentioned Dinkins and then Koch and then Guiliani, he was a little rough but he did good. And also Bloomberg. And a lot of things -- and the CCRB I feel like it's getting stronger, but I also feel like, I feel like there's a begweentive CCRB and the police. And I've always been pro police person even though I seen things sometimes that didn't -- that, you know, were not as positive as they could be, but there's a lot of police that get up everyday men and women put their guns on and badges and they don't know what they're going to face, like this guy today.

When I first went to the first Citizens Police Academy in 1996, I remember they said, the worse thing is domestic violence, the most violent for the cops; and, um, traffic stop which is or stop. But then that guy got killed because the police said they stopped and they shot -- I mean he stopped the guys in the van, they shot him and killed him.

So I just want to say that also, when I first came to New York, real quick, I'm going to say, I moved here in '87. I was very excited. People told me not to come because it's extremely dangerous in '87. But I went to the New Year's Eve celebration and I was extremely impressed by the police, the discipline they had, they had the motorcycles, the horses. And you couldn't really here any music except on TV.

The bottom line is, I have to say that, a month later, February 26th, Officer Byrne was shot in the head because he was trying to protect somebody in Queens that the person was a neighbor -- I mean a community member who wanted to get drugs out of their neighborhood.

And I just want to say, recently, within the past couple of years, two other police officers, I think Ramos and Luz, were also killed sitting in their cars.

I just really think it's really important to stress the value of the police and how important they are and that some of them do make mistakes but we really -- and I know that the Mayor son said something about we had to be really reverent about the police because he had a bad issue.

2.1

But the bottom line, I think everybody should be reverent about the police in how important they are and that the CCRB is working to make society safer. But the police are really, really important and sometimes I feel like there's, like a clash between the CCRB and the police.

And also, I don't understand why the CCRB can't go to the Citizens Police

Academy and get some information or why can't, like, intellectual people from Manhattan go to these meetings where they can actually contribute and see what's going on? It seems like it's an us and them thing.

The bottom line is I just really believe in the police. I really think they need to be safe and I think some of them are bad but some -- there are bad places, bad people everywhere.

But bottom line is I think the Mayor could be a little more optimistic and forward thinking about the positiveness of the police. Like the guy in Jersey City getting killed for no reason because there's bad guys.

You know, so that's all I wanted to say is that why can't you all go to the Citizen Police Academy and why can't you go to Community Council meetings, and why can't you interact with the public and the police. Because when I go to those outside citizen I mean CCRB meetings, the police don't show up. So I feel like there's some hostility that's nobodies solving.

I think it's nice that you all sit up there and have like a gracious, polite manner, but who cares? We really care about the CCRB doing justice.

And I'll tell you I went to a Staten Island meeting at the North Shore where people feel like that's were a lot of problems are. And most of the people are minorities.

2	And I have to say that I talked to
3	one woman that dealt with CCRB. She was a
4	minority woman and she was in such a rage,
5	she hates the CCRB.
6	So the thing is: Are you just
7	complicating issues by having the CCRB on
8	top of this, on top of that, on top of
9	that.
10	And really the most important link
11	here
12	MS. BOND: Ms. Harvey, I'm just
13	going to ask you wrap it up. Your time is
14	up.
15	MS. HARVEY: police are for
16	enforcement. That's it. Thank you.
17	MS. BOND: Thank you. Just going to
18	look to the staff. I see there's no one
19	else who signed up to speak.
20	Okay. Alright. With that, I will
21	move to the adoption of the minutes from
22	the prior meeting. Do I have a motion to
23	approve.
24	MR. DWYER: Motion.
25	MS. BOND: Do I have a second?

1
2	MR. RIVADENEYRA: Second.
3	MS. BOND: Any changes or revisions?
4	All those in favor please say aye.
5	(Ayes.)
6	MS. BOND: Any opposed?
7	The ayes have it. The motion
8	passes.
9	And with that, I will wrap up this
10	meeting first by asking, did I miss
11	something?
12	With that, I just want to see if
13	there's any new business to come before
14	this Board?
15	Any old business?
16	Okay. That will wrap up then the
17	public portion of this meeting. Do I have
18	a motion to adjourn to executive session.
19	MR. DWYER: Motion.
20	MS. BOND: Do I have a second?
21	MR. SIEGAL: Second.
22	MS. BOND: All those in favor say
23	aye.
24	(Ayes).
25	MS. BOND: Any opposed?

 2
                    The ayes have it. We're adjourned.
 3
                    Thank you all for coming.
