13	CHAIR DAVIE: Thank you. Thank you
14	all.
15	With the holidays and the end of the
16	year fast approaching, the CCRB is
17	having year-end conversations with our
18	staff and our partners and city
19	government. One such conversation was a
20	meeting I, along with my colleagues
21	Erica Bond and Michael Rivadeneyra had
22	with the police department.
23	In this meeting, I stressed to the
24	department an agreement with our disciplinary recommendations is too low.

And it is unfortunate that this concurrent rate continues to decrease.

Ultimately, I believe the department should give deference to CCRB's decisions and at the minimum, the police commissioner should not (inaudible) reached between CCRB attorneys and attorneys representing the subject officers.

I also stressed to the department that the CCRB needs direct access to body-worn camera footage. While the department has done a good job of clearing the backlog of body-worn camera requests, I believe direct access is the most transparent and efficient way for investigators to access this body-worn camera footage.

Finally, I spoke with department leadership about concerns raised in these meetings about retaliation for filing CCRB complaints. Although retaliation is hard to quantify, since the individual's fears in retaliation are not filing complaints, we have seen complaints withdrawn because of fear of retaliation. This is an issue we will continue to work on internally, and with the department to ensure New Yorker's rights to file a complaint with our agency are not infringed upon.

These are just a few items that the CCRB will be monitoring and working on next year.

For more, I'd like to take a moment and let board members Erica Bond and Michael Rivadeneyra share what they raised with the department.

Erica, let's start with you.

MS. BOND: Thank you, Chair Davie.

I do really appreciate the opportunity to represent the board at these meetings with NYPD and I think it's essential that we are included in these conversations about the future of policing in New York City.

As Chair Davie noted, we felt it was important to raise a number of issues with the department at this meeting.

And on behalf of the board, I raised a couple of issues we'd like to see addressed that I think will both aid our work and better address community members' needs.

The first issue is respect to disciplinary history. Currently, we only have access to CCRB's disciplinary history and we don't have an understanding of whether and how an officer that's been disciplined by the department for issues that have not come before the CCRB.

And I believe knowing an officer's disciplinary history is really important for us when we're contemplating whether to reprimand discipline and particularly the level of discipline. And it's also particularly important that we get this information right now because NYPD is getting ready to implement a disciplinary matrix that takes into consideration an officer's disciplinary history.

So it is Chair Davie's point that it's going to be harder to align and discipline what they opposed and what we recommend if we don't have access to disciplinary history information that is going to feed into the disciplinary matrix.

So we feel it's really important that we have access to this information and we request that the department provide that access to us moving forward.

The second issue that I touched on was with respect to NYPD and officer interaction with a mental health crisis. I think everyone on this board knows a substantial number involve people that are in crisis or have mental health issues of some kind.

What we communicated to NYPD is we're encouraging that the city is launching a power program in a few precincts that will send mental health

2.4

teams instead of officers as the first line respondents to such said crisis. We really do believe this program needs to be expanded and extended rapidly and and we think that reducing interactions between officers and people in crisis will be better for the community and lower misconduct, like I said, which we get very many that are related to these kinds of interactions.

Thank you again, Chair Davie for including me in that meeting.

And with that, I'll turn it over to board member Michael Rivadeneyra.

MR. RIVADENEYRA: Thank you.

Thank you, Chair Davie, also for including me in this conversation. That is, like Erica said, in terms of the need for CCRB to be part of these conversations and have these public meetings about various different encounters with the police and the recommendations from the public.

It's good to be part of the

conversation. I touched on two topics with the police in the conversations with them. The first topic being how the department handled interactions with our youth. Definitely shared that we were encouraged that the department is adopting the recommendation from the youth appointment that we released over the summer.

However, we still hear from the public that NYPD and young people when they're having an encounter, they escalate unnecessarily. We stress the fact that there should be more training, training that should not be just limited to those youth coordinating officers, it should be broader throughout the department.

We recognize the fact that the department, they are not in the youth development sphere, but we definitely know that these are problems we need to address. And we don't want to have these escalation issues occur because unfortunately, they can go pretty badly pretty quickly.

The other issue that I brought up was, you know, the protest engagement that we saw -- all saw how public this was, how the department handled protest and we wanted to have a conversation about that. Not just over the summer, but moving forward, how will the department look at their tactics when it comes to handling protest matters.

We shared that we had concerns on our ability to identify officers that may have done misconduct, because they were either carrying their badge numbers or failed to turn on their body-worn cameras.

That has made it a challenge for us to do our investigations and we want the department to understand that we need their assistance to hold officers accountable for any misconduct that may have occurred over the summer and we can help ensure that we're able to move our investigations based on those incidents that have been reported to us.

Again, I thank Chair Davie for including me in these conversations, and I return to the chair.

CHAIR DAVIE: Thank you both.

I appreciate you taking your time out of your day to join in these conversations with the department about issues that the CCRB believes are critically important to our ongoing and effective functioning in our -- and especially our relationship with the NYPD. Thank you both again.

Another recent year in conversation that CCRB staff participated in, speaking of youth as the board member Mr. Rivadeneyra just did, was in a youth led conversation our youth advisory council had with the NYPD.

Many young people raised a lot of issues in these conversations. Their older counterparts have raised concerns about the use of military grade

2.0

2.1

2.2

2.4

equipment by the police. The need to reallocate resources from the department and social services. The need for ongoing honest engagement between police and young people, to build trust between police and the youth committee.

From this conversation, it was clear that our young people are listening to the conversations we were having about policing in America today. It's important that we give these young people the time and space to have their own conversations and to prioritize what they have to say as well.

Finally, as we enter into what is expected to be a tough winter for our city as COVID cases are rising, I want to take a moment to thank all of our essential workers, that includes the members of the NYPD, for keeping us safe and healthy during this crisis.

I also want to thank the CCRB staff for doing this work every day, particularly during such a hard year as

2.4

2020 has been. And I want to thank all of you for being here tonight. Your participation in this process this year and every year is essential to the CCRB.

With that, I will turn it over to

Executive Director of the CCRB,

Executive Director Jon Darche, who has a few words that he'd like to share with us. Jon.

MR. DARCHE: Thank you, Mr. Chair. Thank you all for attending.

Last month, the CCRB proposed new rules that will enable us to investigate sexual misconduct, false official statements made about civilians by NYPD officers in official proceedings or on official paperwork.

We republished those proposed rules in public comment on Monday. And if you have not yet had a chance to make your voice heard on these rules, you now have more time. You can submit a comment online or by mail, and our staff is going to put up a link in the WebEx chat

2.0

2.1

2.2

2.4

with more information on how to do that.

The CCRB will be taking public comment on the new rules at our January 13th board meeting. You can reserve time to comment on the rules either for the January board meeting or send us something in writing.

Finally, the CCRB is going to be convening a panel of investigations for discussion of potential police reforms in New York City. The panel discussion is being convened in response to Governor Cuomo's Executive Order 203.

Other discussions have been happening across the city based on that executive order, such as the one Chair Davie and board members discussed earlier. That executive order requires each local government in New York State to adopt a police reform plan that is going to maintain public safety to build public trust between police in the communities they serve.

Our panel discussion is going to hopefully inform the city's response to that executive order. And I'm excited that it's going to be very informative for everyone and I urge all of you to tune in.

Just to give an update on the status of the CCRB as the COVID-19 situation gets worse, the health of complainants, staff and members of service (inaudible) of operations. I strongly encourage individuals to contact us by telephone and email or website, if possible. To file a complaint, go to nyc.gov@ccrbcomplaint or call us at 1-800-341-2272. Investigators are now able to continue their work, including interviewing civilians and members of the NYPD remotely.

Now finally for public comment, please use the raise the hand feature if you would like to make a comment. To discuss a problematic encounter with a police officer, please provide us with contact information so that our investigators can follow up with you.

And if you could, reserve questions and comments unrelated to presentations to the public session.

I want to thank our staff for all their work on the continuing operation. And thanks again to the members of the public for participating in this hearing.

CHAIR DAVIE: Thank you, Executive Director Darche.

Let me see if any of the board members have any questions or comments about any of the remarks that have been made so far.

(No response was given.)

CHAIR DAVIE: All right. Hearing none, we will turn to our Outreach Director at CCRB, Jahi Rose -- I'm sorry, the Deputy Director of Outreach, I just promoted you. Deputy Director of Outreach, Jahi.

MR. ROSE: Thank you so much, Chair Davie.

Thank you everyone for attending our meeting today. Can everyone see my screen?

CHAIR DAVIE: Yes, we can see it.

MR. ROSE: The Civilian Complaint
Review Board is the nation's largest oversight body over the largest police department and largest force in the nation.

The CCRB investigates, mediates and processes complaints of misconduct against members of the New York City Police Department.

You already met some of our board members today. Our agency is governed by a 15-member board; five seats appointed by the mayor, five appointed by city council, three designated by the police commissioner and one appointed by the New York City public advocate. And the chair, Chair Davie, is appointed by the mayor and city council.

The Civilian Complaint Review Board investigates allegations of misconduct.

However, we do not investigate all allegations of misconduct. A way to remember this is an easy acronym called, FADO. FADO stands for force, abuse of authority, discourtesy and offensive language.

We wanted to provide you with a little bit of information regarding the Right to Know Act. The Right to Know Act is a law that was passed -- that was enacted in October 19, 2018. This law requires police that they must identify themselves in providing their name and information; such as rank, command and shield number.

In some instances, they must explain the purpose of the encounter, the interaction. They should inform the individuals of their right to say no when asking for consent to search an individual's person, property, vehicle or home. And they should offer a business card with the police officer's information that explains how a comment or a complaint can be made about an interaction with an NYPD officer and civilians can request these business cards in all interactions. This is a copy of what the business card may look like.

Now, there are a few ways to make a complaint about police misconduct. One was mentioned by Executive Director Jon Darche, and that includes the website, which is nyc.gov/ccrbcomplaint. You can also call the CCRB at 1-800-341-CCRB. And remember, if you see footage of misconduct on social media or the news, you can file a complaint even if you are not in person.

Additionally, another way of filing a complaint to our agency is by calling 3-1-1. You can also visit our local office and you can also send a letter to the Civilian Complaint Review Board. You also have an ability to go to the local precinct and make a complaint as well. You can visit our office at 100

Thank you very much, Chair Davie.

CHAIR DAVIE: Thank you, Jahi.

Let me see if any of our board members have a question for Jahi.

(No response was given.)

CHAIR DAVIE: Hearing none, we will now go to our public comment section of the meeting. I want to remind those who would like to comment to use the raise your hand feature that is part of this WebEx function here. So use the raise your hand feature.

And I also want to remind anyone who speaks that you have two minutes to speak. And we hope you will keep your comments to two minutes so that we can get to as many speakers as possible. I

MR. DUNN: Hello, can you hear me?

CHAIR DAVIE: Yes, we can.

MR. DUNN: How is everybody? Thank you very much.

Fred, I had a couple of questions. I hope the answers won't count against my time.

First, thank you for describing the meeting, it sounds like an important meeting. Can you tell us who from the department was there? And we heard a lot about what you raised, which sounds

1 PROCEEDINGS 2. quite important, but we didn't hear 3 anything about what the department had 4 to say. I think people would like to hear about that. 5 6 CHAIR DAVIE: I'm going to allow my 7 board members to help me with this, as 8 well as Jon. I know that Deputy Schlanger was there, Chief Maddrey was 9 10 there, on the department side. And then 11 from the committee on reform, we had 12 Jennifer Jones. 13 Am I missing anybody? Erica, Jon, 14 or Michael? MR. DARCHE: Wasn't Chief Maddrey 15 16 also there? 17 CHAIR DAVIE: Right. Chief Maddrey was there for the committee affairs of 18 relations. 19 20 MR. DUNN: Anything to disclose or did they just listen to what you had to 2.1 2.2 say? 23 CHAIR DAVIE: It was -- I would say 2.4 they mostly listened. I think that Ms. 25 Jones-Austin was probably the most

1 PROCEEDINGS 2. engaged with us. She asked lots of questions of the department. I think 3 when it comes to the issue of 4 retaliation that was raised, she did 5 not -- she did not relay -- I indicated 6 7 that they did not have a lot of evidence 8 or hear -- or they had not been hearing 9 a lot of about retaliation. 10 I tried to make the point that we 11 were raising it as something we were 12 hearing on a consistent basis and that 13 it was important for us all to pay 14 attention to it. 15 Let me turn to Michael and Jon and 16 see if they want to comment. 17 MR. DARCHE: We were also there. Ι think Deputy Commissioner Parker, 18 19 Chauncey Parker. 2.0 CHAIR DAVIE: That's right. 2.1 MR. DARCHE: They were also there. 2.2 CHAIR DAVIE: Any other thing you 23 want to add to this, Jon? 2.4 MR. DARCHE: I think they mostly listened and they -- I think that this facilitator tried to get us to get real with her and be upfront about what the challenges in relationship are and that -- I thought that was helpful.

CHAIR DAVIE: By facilitator, you mean Jennifer Jones-Austin?

MR. DARCHE: Yes. And I thought it made for a more productive engagement from both sides.

CHAIR DAVIE: Anything to add, Erica?

MS. BOND: I don't think so. I think my senses that this was mostly intended to gather a number of different entities on a variety of issues and I would expect there would be more conversations. And I think there will be a push on the issues that we care about.

And I think there were interesting conversations about the extent that the department looks systematically from the recommendations that we made. And the rates of agreement and whether there is

2.1

2.2

2.4

more to be done for the department at a certain system's level and to think about what civilian complaints can tell them what interactions in the community look like, as opposed to treating these as kind of one-off cases that need to be responded to with specific discipline because there are two levels of utility.

One is getting justice in particular cases. But the other is thinking about there are broader issues in the cases as a whole reflect in terms of the communities that they're interacting with. And so I thought that was a particular useful part of the conversation.

CHAIR DAVIE: Thank you.

Michael, anything.

MR. RIVADENEYRA: Just, you know, to the effect it was more information gathering, but what was helpful was that we shared information. We see from the community at these meetings especially the fact that -- which I -- I think was received in creating different spaces and having spaces for adults to come in and share their opinions of police interactions and the Build It Back program that they're running that the NCO's are doing, so they've felt encouraging that they wanted to learn about that and see what issues they can go and (inaudible) the initiative and definitely share the fact that young people can come into that breach of trust. It was good to have that conversation with them for gathering information and exercising.

2.

2.1

CHAIR DAVIE: Thank you, Michael.

MR. DUNN: Okay. Thank you.

(Inaudible). I hear what you're saying, and I did have another question and I have something nice I want to say. But before I get to that, I want to ask about something we have complained about in the past.

Jon, it seems you guys have done a remarkable job keeping your investigations going in the face of the pandemic and I'm encouraged that you are now allowing complainants to participate remotely. Are you thinking about making that permanent because we have long complained and thought it was a huge driver to our truncation rate that people had to come in person. Is there a contemplation -- and I'm sorry if it's been announced, but are you guys thinking of making the remote option a permanent option?

MR. DARCHE: It is something we are discussing on the table.

MR. DUNN: I'm going to nail that to your table that it would be an important reform. It's a new thing.

CHAIR DAVIE: Understood.

MR. DUNN: Here's the nice thing I want to say. From my perspective, the two biggest things that happened this year. Policing involves your role in policing the violence by the NYPD with the George Floyd protests, at least since May.

The second is the repeal of 50-a.

And I think it very much remains to be seen that your work lands with respect to the complaints that you got around protests. And I don't think I've seen a recent number, but I know very early on you had hundreds of complaints. I encourage you all to do a report of those complaints as they grew.

But what I want to talk about is -this is a subtle change, New York State,
New York City, including the mayor's office and the police department fighting on 50-a. There is one city agency that I think is doing the right thing on 50-a, for the most part, the CCRB.

And Fred, I know, in particular, that you were publicly speaking about the repeal of 50-a at a time where I don't think you were inline with the mayor's office and I give you much credit for that. And I give the board credit for supporting you, I'm assuming they're supporting you. I note that.

2.2

And I also note that right out of the box as soon as 50-a was repealed, CCRB did extraordinary in honoring the letters of the repeal. And to my knowledge, it's the only city agency that has done that. And to be sure that there's a lot of litigation around that, a litigation is ongoing, but I want to acknowledge here it's not my business to be singing the praises of New York City agencies in general and the CCRB, but I'm singing praises in this instance.

You guys did the right thing on 50-a. We appreciate that and I think the public appreciates that greatly.

When litigations are over, I look forward to your continuing to do the right thing, even if other agencies are going to have to be dragged, kicking and screaming. So instead of leaving a lump of coal in your stockings for the holidays, I want to say thank you for

2.1

2.2

2.4

2 that.

2.1

2.2

2.4

CHAIR DAVIE: You're welcome.

MR. DUNN: And I'm going to close with one final question.

CHAIR DAVIE: Sure.

MR. DUNN: Unless you guys want to say "you're welcome."

CHAIR DAVIE: I said thank you.

MR. DUNN: I don't know if you want to address this as a personnel matter but if you want an opportunity to address it, I will give you the opportunity. There was significant reporting about some employees that were dismissed and allegations were dismissed in the retaliation. Some criticisms that they made internally with the agency's position for the police department.

People in the public who have been paying attention to CCRB will all write about this and know about it. And often times, voices don't get to be heard in this conversation. So I just want to

2.0

2.1

2.2

2.4

say if you guys want to address that, members of the public will be hearing what you have to say.

CHAIR DAVIE: Thank you, sir.

Let me just say a word about that.

It's inappropriate to discuss details of -- of personnel matters in a public forum like this. I will say unequivocally that no one was in this restructuring engaged in any kind of negative way because of any comments they might have had to say about the ways of which the board and the staff engages the department. That, I can say unequivocally.

I think the statement is pretty clear, the agency is reorganizing in order to be able to do some other things that they we wanted to do, including hiring additional investigators so that we could deal with the cases that we have before us.

But I think that's as much as -- I think it's appropriate to say in public about an HR issue. Let me see if the other board members have comments or questions on this, or staff.

(No response was given.)

CHAIR DAVIE: Hearing none, thank you, Chris, for your -- for your compliment. We'll take it. And the only thing I'd say in regard to that is it's always going to be our task to serve this agency and its mission as best as we can.

And I should have acknowledged in my remarks the passing of Mayor David Dinkins who gave us this Civilian Complaint Review Board in its current form at much political cost. And if for no other reason, upholding his memory in giving appropriate due to what we accomplished, I share and I think I can speak for some, if not all of my board members, we will do everything we can to make sure this agency lives up to his mission.

Thank you again.

The first question I did submit in the question and answer chat, I said "Could training for police include better de-escalating protocol, and how to walk away as opposed to being arrogant and authoritative."

The second question I have for the CCRB and I wanted to know is what are guys doing to basically try to get teeth in the agency? I ask that because it goes into my third question. There was several CCRB complaints that I filed and the police actually taunted me to file the complaint. And then once I filed the complaint, nothing happened after that. CCRB was not able to report to me in terms of what disciplinary actions took place. That was the third question.

How could members of the community find out what disciplinary actions took place that specifically relates to a complaint that the constituent filed?

So there's three questions that I'm asking. Again, the first question is, could training for police include better de-escalating protocols and how to walk away as opposed to being arrogant and authoritative?

The second question is, what is CCRB doing to improve the teeth for the agency?

And the third question is, how can the public who files for complaints be informed in terms of what's going on with these complaints and disciplinary actions that ensued?

Thank you for your time.

CHAIR DAVIE: Thank you.

Let me just address the CCRB and teeth question and then I'll turn it to Jon and maybe others who want to address the training question and the issue of sharing information with the public about this complaint.

I think I said in my remarks about the conversation that we had with the department and the committee for reform, the issue on authority and disciplinary balance is a big one. Because at the end of the day, the police commissioner has the right to accept, reject or modify any disciplinary recommendation that this board makes and we are working really, really hard to get close to concurrent between what we recommend and what the department ultimately does.

It's problematic at the moment, but we are engaged in conversations and actions to try to improve that. There are some thoughts with this new disciplinary matrix that the police department is developing. If we align that with the CCRB disciplinary framework, we will get closer concurrence. And I hope that works and I hope it's actually true.

But I think as long as we have a department that has this kind of authority to make the ultimate decision about discipline, we run the risk of having these -- having the public wonder whether or not the agency has the type of authority it should have in terms of what happens when it comes to discipline. That's an ongoing conversation.

But let me see if there are any comments on the training and de-escalation or on making information public.

Jon, you want to --

MR. DARCHE: Sure.

Mr. Chair, I'm going to tackle the disposition question first, if that's okay with you, Chair.

CHAIR DAVIE: Absolutely.

MR. DARCHE: So, we have been -- the agency has been criticized in the past for the letters we sent to people explaining the outcomes of the case being very tough to read and not providing information that is useful to them.

In fact, there is criticism of that in the last board meeting. The agency,

2.4

2.1

2.2

2.

2.1

2.2

2.4

in an effort led by Harya Tarkegan, our senior counsel director, is looking at all of our communications with civilians, especially disposition letters to make sure that, A, they are accurate, and B, they are written in a way that is easy to understand and can be -- information that people need that in a way they can readily understand it.

And we're working with advocacy groups in the city to make sure that it's not just our opinion of what we think people need to know and it's in language that people can easily understand. The groups that are out there fighting for people to get that information and that as well.

It is an ongoing process right now and it is going to be a multistep process because some of the letters are so important that they need to be improved quickly so we make some quick changes and then we visit them later to fine tune them.

2.2

2.4

With regard to training, I apologize, Ms. Bond, if I steal what you were going to say. One of the things she brought up in the meeting with the facilitator and the NYPD was that the board needs discipline information. And one of the reasons we need that information is if an officer receives training, we need to know what that training was so we can determine if it was effective.

Because if an officer receives training and has a similar issue

subsequently, that's one way of -- that the officer has a major problem or you can look and say "Well, maybe that training isn't that effective." That is a data point that the board feels it needs.

So I apologize, Erica, for stealing your thunder.

MS. BOND: No, that's okay.

I don't know if you addressed this, but my understanding is that much of the department has received de-escalation training and that there is an effort made to train officers on de-escalation.

But to Jon's point, we don't yet know what the impact of that training is, which is part of why it's important to get information of whether the department has imposed discipline and whether it's imposed training. But the specific type of training, which can be helpful in assessing whether that training is addressed and what the underlying misconduct is.

The only thing that I would add here is that it sounds like the speaker had specific cases that she wasn't aware of how they were resolved. I don't think we should do that in a public forum.

But I would just encourage her to reach out. I'm going to volunteer you, Jon, to --

MR. DARCHE: Tell her to write in the chat so we can get the information we need.

CHAIR DAVIE: Thank you.

Anybody else? Any other board member that wants time to comment to reflect on this?

(No response was given.)

CHAIR DAVIE: Thank you.

I'm sorry, Joseph?

MR. PUMA: Yes.

It's a question for Jon. The issue of the disposition letters, I think it's great that we're -- we have Harya and the team looking at how we can make them better. It's been a concern of mine for as long as I've been on the board. And I know that at one point, 50-a was expecting the information that was appearing or not appearing on the letters.

1	PROCEEDINGS
2	Is there anything, now that 50-a is
3	repealed that is there an impact of
4	that on the disposition of the letters
5	foreseen?
6	MR. DARCHE: Yes.
7	MR. PUMA: Great.
8	CHAIR DAVIE: For the better, I
9	assume.
10	MR. DARCHE: Yes.
11	CHAIR DAVIE: Thank you, Mr. Puma.
12	Anything else? Anyone else on this?
13	(No response was given.)
14	CHAIR DAVIE: All right.
15	Our next speaker, Yojaira.
16	MS. ALVAREZ: Thanks again, Diane.
17	Next, we'll be hearing from Sean
18	Abbott.
19	MR. ABBOTT: Hello, my name is Sean
20	Abbott.
21	Can you all hear me?
22	CHAIR DAVIE: Yes.
23	MR. ABBOTT: Excellent. Thank you.
24	I'm going to commence with a
25	quotation from Confucius. (Inaudible)

of what was just being discussed, which is people are very confused about the language they received in response to their reasonable complaints. Confucius says "If language is not used rightly, then what is said is not what is meant. If what is said is not what is meant, then what then that which ought to be done is left undone. Justice will go awry. And if justice goes awry, the people will stand about in helpless confusion."

Now, I said at the October meeting that the people will not stand about in helpless confusion. They will rise up in anger. And one reason to be angry as a civilian is this question on the intake form. So if you have a problem with a cop, you go to the intake form on the CCRB and it asks you this question on the third page, "To thoroughly investigate your incident, the CCRB might need to obtain body-worn camera video from the NYPD including video that is related to a sealed case or may otherwise require your permission. The board can be lawfully disclosed. Do you consent to the CCRB getting access to these videos to do this investigation?"

There is an asterisk which goes nowhere and then there are two bubbles, a bubble that says yes and a bubble that says no. I have an active complaint against the officers of the 33rd Precinct in Manhattan. I checked no. I checked no.

As a consequence of my conversations with two CCRB investigators, I found out that this language that investigates your incident, what I just said, doesn't mean what any reasonable person would expect it to mean. Especially given that yes, no, check. I said no. I'm not interested in finding out what these officers did so loathsomely, so aggressively with their body cameras. Excuse me, it was one officer. Although I'm not sure what the other officer was doing that night.

I have this to say very clearly. I am asking the board to overrule Jonathan Darche's determination to me in an October 22nd email. "After reviewing your case, I determine it is unsuitable for mediation."

That's not why I was contacting the CCRB board. I was contacting the CCRB board to complain about this language which is so obscurely written. It had nothing to do with my full participation as a civilian in the workings of the CCRB. I want mediation with these officers at the 33rd Precinct.

Now, because I have done this insanely, brought my concerns about this legal language to the board, Jonathan Darche has said "After reviewing your case, I determine that it is unsuitable for mediation." He also adds later in his email, "The reason that there is not more definite language used in the waiver is because there may be cases where there is a dispute between the CCRB and NYPD as to whether a waiver is necessary."

But I'm sorry, it does not say that on the intake form. As a civilian, when you go there, states "I have been abused by the police tonight."

I want to close by saying that #defundthepolice is a political disaster. It has lost people elections all across the continent. I say #reservethepolice. I am not someone who disrespects the police. I believe the police have an important part in our community and in my community.

But when I walk my dog by the same corner every single night and I see cops parked from the 33rd or from who knows where, parked in their car, with the windows rolled up and the engine on and hearing nothing and seeing nothing and scrolling porn on their iPhones, I know one thing, #defundthepolice makes more sense. It makes a lot of sense.

2.0

2.1

2.2

2.4

But here's what I want from this, I want the board to overrule Jonathan Darche in his saying after reviewing your case, I determined it was unsuitable for mediation. I want to talk to those cops that I had that confrontation with that night who were scrolling porn on their phone and I knocked on the window and I said "I walk by this corner every night at this time and you guys are never looking out for my best interest."

CHAIR DAVIE: Thank you, sir. We get the point and we hear what you're saying. We appreciate you coming to the public and we'll have a conversation with Mr. Darche in --

MR. ABBOTT: Mr. Darche said he reported his -- he reported this to the executive session of the November 9th board meeting. So what was the result?

CHAIR DAVIE: Thank you, speaker. I will have a conversation with him and we'll be back in touch with you. Thank

1 PROCEEDINGS 2. you. 3 Yojaira, our next speaker. 4 MS. ALVAREZ: Thank you, Sean. I want to remind everyone to keep 5 comments to two minutes. 6 7 Next, we'll be hearing from John 8 Sonda. 9 MR. SONDA: Executive Director 10 Darche stated, "Generally, I don't 11 review the audio recordings of the telephone conversations between the 12 13 investigator and the person who filed 14 the complaint. Although sometimes I 15 do." 16 Executive Director Darche, since 17 that all -- since that all (sic) audio 18 recordings are reviewed, not all reviews 19 are treated equally with the same due 20 diligence and procedures; is that 2.1 correct? 2.2 CHAIR DAVIE: Jon --23 MR. DARCHE: Some reopened requests 2.4 are simpler than other requests, so I 25 deal with that in different ways.

2.1

2.2

2.4

MR. SONDA: How do you decide which audio recordings? Do you have a criteria to determine which audio recordings are more deserving of being reviewed?

MR. DARCHE: Yes. I look at the request and I look at the recommendation from the squad leader who initially is doing the evaluation of the request.

And if the squad leader -- if I disagree with the squad leader's decisions or recommendations, I generally go and listen to the audio recordings and look deeper into the case before I decide to reverse the squad leader's recommendation.

MR. SONDA: Okay. If a person files a complaint and they provide video evidence of police misconduct with their written reopen request, does the executive director generally review the video evidence or always review the video evidence?

MR. DARCHE: I don't always review

1	PROCEEDINGS
2	the evidence that's submitted because I
3	don't always need to.
4	MR. SONDA: Even video evidence?
5	MR. DARCHE: I don't always need to
6	review the evidence to make a decision
7	on a request.
8	MR. SONDA: What would that be?
9	CHAIR DAVIE: What's your point?
10	MR. SONDA: I'm asking for an
11	answer. That's my point.
12	CHAIR DAVIE: I think he gave you an
13	answer.
14	MR. SONDA: I didn't understand
15	CHAIR DAVIE: You might not agree
16	with it, but you got an answer.
17	Do you have another point you want
18	to make?
19	MR. SONDA: Yes.
20	When was it determined that two
21	co-chiefs of investigations as well as
22	the deputy chief for investigations was
23	redundant?
24	CHAIR DAVIE: That's a question I
25	don't think we need to answer here.

1	PROCEEDINGS
2	Do you have another question?
3	MR. SONDA: You said you can't
4	answer here. Where is a place you can
5	answer it?
6	CHAIR DAVIE: Well, we'll have it in
7	the executive session where it belongs.
8	Do you have another question?
9	MR. SONDA: Yes.
10	The agency rules allow the chair or
11	panel to review or reopen a request in
12	addition to the executive director. But
13	at last month's board meeting, the
14	executive director said "I reviewed the
15	reopen requests."
16	First, are you aware of what the
17	original intent was to allow the panel
18	or the executive directors to review or
19	reopen the request and not just
20	(inaudible)
21	MR. DARCHE: Mr. (Inaudible name)?
22	MR. SONDA: Yes.
23	MR. DARCHE: Do you mind if I
24	discuss your case? One second. I can
25	give you a direct answer, but I don't know if you'll like the answer.

MR. SONDA: I'm trying to get a general answer to my question here.

MR. DARCHE: Are you giving me permission to discuss your case?

CHAIR DAVIE: If you're trying to ask a question about where the authority lies, it lies with the board and staff on any number of these issues.

Son, I understand that you're not satisfied with how your situation was resolved and I can appreciate the frustration. But taking up the public's time at every board meeting because your case was not resolved to your satisfaction, is not the way to deal with this.

It's -- it's not fair to the general public. And it's certainly not fair, you know, to people who show up here really wanting to get their concerns before the board. We've heard you.

You're -- you're -- you're unhappy with the process. It's not a perfect process and we're not perfect people, but what we've given you is -- is what we believe is the most appropriate and the best that this agency can provide you.

I'm sorry that that's not good enough. But you can't come -- you shouldn't come to these meetings every month and take up this amount of time because your personal situation was not resolved to your satisfaction. It's not right and it's not fair.

I'm going to give you a chance for one more question and then we are going to have to move on.

MR. SONDA: What do you suppose that might be beneficial that the board or staff will also be allowed to review and reopen requests?

CHAIR DAVIE: The board and the senior staff have the right to review the reopening of a case upon request.

And if the board has a confidence that there's a substantive issue that requires a reopening of a case, then we

2.

1	PROCEEDINGS
2	will hear from our executive staff the
3	need to do that.
4	If we ever lose that confidence,
5	then we'll have another executive staff.
6	Thank you, sir, for your comments
7	and your questions. And again, I'm
8	sorry that things have not evolved as
9	you would have liked them, but sometimes
10	life is just like that.
11	Thank you.
12	Yojaira, can we have the next
13	speaker, please.
14	MS. ALVAREZ: Thank you, Mr. Sonda.
15	That concludes the public session
16	for today.
17	CHAIR DAVIE: Thank you.

19	any of the board members before we move
20	to see if there's any old business?
21	(No response was given.)
