DEFINITIONS

A CCRB complaint can be resolved in a number of ways. The complaint may be fully investigated, mediated, closed after mediation is attempted but the complainant fails to appear for mediation or becomes unreachable, or closed as "truncated," which occurs when complainants are unwilling to cooperate with a full investigation or become unreachable before they can be interviewed. There are also a small number of miscellaneous closures in the "Other" category, which include administratively-closed complaints and complaints in which the subject officer left the Department before investigation or mediation was completed. A single complaint may contain multiple allegations, multiple complainants/alleged victims, and/or multiple subject officers.

Allegations that are fully investigated by the CCRB generally result in one of five outcomes:

- An allegation is substantiated if the alleged conduct is found to have occurred and be improper based on a preponderance of the evidence.
- An allegation is exonerated if the alleged conduct is found to have occurred but was not found to be improper by a preponderance of the evidence. Allegations may be exonerated if the officer's behavior was found to be allowed under the law and/or the Patrol Guide. This does not mean that the complainant was being untruthful in their account of the incident, however. Many members of the public are not aware of the range of law enforcement activities that are legally permissible and within the boundaries of proper NYPD protocol.
- An allegation is unfounded if the alleged conduct is found by a preponderance of the evidence not to have occurred as the complainant described.
- An allegation is closed as officer unidentified if the CCRB was unable to identify the officer accused of misconduct.
- An allegation is unsubstantiated if there is not enough evidence to determine whether or not misconduct occurred by a preponderance of the evidence.

The disposition of a fully-investigated complaint depends on the disposition of the fully-investigated allegations within the complaint:

- A complaint is substantiated if any allegation within the complaint is substantiated.
- A complaint is exonerated if all the allegations made against identified officers are exonerated.
- A complaint is unfounded if there are no substantiated or unsubstantiated allegations and there is at least one unfounded allegation.
- A complaint is closed as officer unidentified if the CCRB was unable to identify any of the officers accused of misconduct.
- A complaint is unsubstantiated if there are no substantiated allegations and there is at least one unsubstantiated allegation.
