Executive Summary

The Civilian Complaint Review Board (“CCRB”) is an independent municipal agency that investigates complaints of NYPD misconduct. Every month, the CCRB prepares an Executive Director report for its public meeting. This month’s report illustrates that some of the trends noted in the CCRB’s recent Semi-Annual Report continue - Investigations are being conducted more efficiently than any period in the Agency’s history. The raw number of substantiations and percentage of cases being substantiated are at historic levels. Video evidence is playing a crucial role in the outcome of cases. Data for February 2016 included the following highlights:

- 1) The CCRB continues to close its cases more efficiently. Of the cases that remain in the CCRB active docket, 95% have been open for four months or less, and a record 99% have been open for seven months or less (page 10). In February, the CCRB opened 357 new cases (page 4), and currently has a docket of 1,010 cases (page 11).
- 2) In February 2016, the CCRB substantiated allegations in 29% of its fully investigated cases which marks the eleventh straight month the CCRB has substantiated more than 20% of its cases (page 19). In this same month, the CCRB substantiated 16% of its allegations (page 17).
- 3) In February 2016, the CCRB fully investigated 52% of the cases it closed, and resolved (fully investigated, mediated or mediation attempted) 63% of the cases it closed. With a truncation rate of 37% in February 2016, the Agency had the lowest truncation rate since July 2015 (page 12).
- 4) For February, investigations using video evidence resulted in substantiated allegations in 42% of cases – compared to 23% of substantiated cases in which video was not available (page 19).
- 5) The Monthly Report includes a breakdown of complaints and substantiations by NYPD precinct and borough of occurrence (pages 5-6).
- 6) In February, the Police Commissioner finalized penalty decisions against 24 officers; 17 of these were guilty verdicts won by the CCRB’s Administrative Prosecution Unit (APU) which prosecutes the most serious allegations of misconduct (page 30).

Finally, the Monthly Report contains a Table of Contents, Glossary, and Appendix, all meant to assist readers in navigating this report. The CCRB is committed to producing monthly reports that are valuable to the public, and welcome feedback on how to make our data more accessible.

Glossary

In this glossary we have included a list of terms that regularly appear in our reports.

Allegation: An allegation is a specific act of misconduct. The same “complaint” can have multiple allegations – excessive force and discourteous language, for example. Each allegation is reviewed separately during an investigation.

APU: The Administrative Prosecution Unit is the division of the CCRB that has prosecuted “charges” cases since April 2013, after the signing of a 2012 Memorandum of Understanding between the CCRB and NYPD.

Board Panel: The “Board” of the CCRB has 13 members appointed by the mayor. Of the 13 members, five are chosen by the Mayor, five are chosen by the City Council, and three are chosen by the Police Commissioner. Following a completed investigation by the CCRB staff, three Board members, sitting as a Board Panel, will make a finding on whether misconduct occurred and will make a recommendation on what level of penalty should follow.

Case/Complaint: For the purposes of CCRB data, a “case” or “complaint” is defined as any incident within the Agency’s jurisdiction, brought to resolution by the CCRB. Cases/Complaints thus include truncations, fully investigated or ongoing cases, mediations, and completed investigations pending Board Panel review.

Disposition: The Board’s finding as to the outcome of a case (i.e. if misconduct occurred).

FADO: Under the City Charter, the CCRB has jurisdiction to investigate the following categories of police misconduct: Force, Abuse of Authority, Discourtesy, and Offensive Language, collectively known as “FADO”.

Intake: CCRB’s Intake team initially handles complaints from the public. Intake takes complaints that come via live phone calls, voicemails, an online complaint form, or in-person.

Investigation: CCRB investigators gather evidence and interview witnesses to prepare reports on misconduct allegations. An investigation ends when a closing report is prepared detailing the evidence and a legal analysis, and the case is given to the Board for disposition.

Mediation: A complainant may mediate his or her case with the subject officer, in lieu of an investigation, with the CCRB providing a neutral, third-party mediator.

Truncation: If a case is not fully investigated due to the victim’s lack of interest or availability, the case is closed and is considered “truncated.”

Complaints Received

The CCRB's Intake team processes misconduct complaints from the public and referrals from the NYPD. Under the New York City Charter, the CCRB's jurisdiction is limited to allegations of misconduct related to Force, Abuse of Authority, Discourtesy and Offensive Language. All other complaints are referred to the appropriate agency. Figure 1 refers to all complaints that CCRB receives and Figures 2 and 3 refer to new cases that remain with the Agency. In February 2016, the CCRB initiated 357 new complaints.

CCRB Cases Received by Borough and Precinct

Of the five boroughs, the largest number of misconduct complaints stemmed from incidents occurring in Brooklyn, followed closely by Manhattan. The largest number of incidents (21) took place in the 75th Precinct which includes Cypress Hills, Starrett City, and City Line.

*These figures track where an incident occurred, not necessarily the Command of the officer. For example, a complaint filed against officers assigned to a Narcotics unit working in East New York would be counted as occurring in the 75th Precinct.

Allegations Received

As described in the previous section, the CCRB has jurisdiction over four categories of NYPD misconduct. In comparing February 2015 to February 2016, the number of complaints that have at least one Force, Offensive Language or Abuse of Authority allegation are up from a year ago, compared to complaints that have at least one Discourtesy allegation that are down from a year ago. The total number of complaints is up 31% from February 2015, and the total number of allegations is up 24% from February 2015. It is important to note that December 2014 to mid-January 2015 was around the time of the officer slowdown which continued to be noticeable into February 2015.

CCRB Docket

Ninety-five percent of active CCRB cases are fewer than five months old, and 99% of active cases have been open for fewer than eight months. This is an agency record.

The number of active cases on the CCRB docket has decreased dramatically during the past year due to increased investigative efficiency. An active case is one in which the facts are still being investigated. A case pending board review has already completed its investigation and is awaiting a recommendation from the Board.

Closed Cases

Resolving Cases

In February 2016, the CCRB fully investigated 52% of the cases it closed, and resolved (fully investigated, mediated or mediation attempted) 63% of the cases it closed. With a truncation rate of 37% in February 2016, the Agency had the lowest truncation rate since July 2015.

Dispositions

Cases fully investigated by the CCRB generally receive one of five outcomes:

- If the allegations of misconduct are found to be improper, based on the preponderance of the evidence, the allegation is substantiated.
- If there is not enough evidence to determine whether or not misconduct occurred, the allegation is unsubstantiated.
- If the preponderance of the evidence suggests that the event or alleged act did not occur, the allegation is unfounded.
- If the event did occur, but was not improper, by a preponderance of evidence, the allegation is exonerated.
- If the CCRB was unable to identify any of the officers accused of misconduct, the case is closed as officer unidentified.

Additionally, a case might be mediated, with the subject officer and complainant discussing the incident in the presence of a neutral third-party moderator. Finally, a case that cannot be fully investigated due to victim/complainant unavailability or lack of cooperation is truncated.

Case Abstracts

The following case abstracts are taken from complaints closed this month and serve as examples of what the different CCRB dispositions mean in practice:

1. Substantiated

A man was sitting in a park in Brooklyn when three officers issued him a summons for violating a posted sign which prohibited access to that section of the park after dusk. The man asked for one of the officer's name and shield number, and the officer responded, "Officer C—sucker." In his CCRB interview, the officer said he responded that way because the man had called him "Officer C—sucker" first, among other combative phrases. Because the officer used offensive language while interacting with the man, the Board "Substantiated" the allegation for offensive language.

2. Unsubstantiated

A boy was walking with his friend to his house in Manhattan when they were stopped by two officers. The stops were substantiated, along with a frisk allegation. While he was being frisked, the boy claimed that he asked the officer for his name and shield number twice without a response. His friend did not recall what the boy said to the officers during the interaction. The officer claimed he immediately provided his name and shield number upon arrival and did not recall if he was asked for it during the incident. The other officer stated that both officers responded with their information when the boy asked for it. Due to the conflicting statements, the Board "Unsubstantiated" the allegation for refusal to provide name and shield number.

3. Unfounded

A man drove to a parking lot in the Bronx after receiving a call from his friend, who was being summonsed for illegally parking in a handicapped space. Upon arrival, the man claimed an officer told him to "get the f—k back" when he began recording the incident on his phone. The man claimed he was told to "get the f—k inside" his car if he did not want to go to jail, and he was pushed back by an officer. The man provided the video from his cell phone in which no profanity was heard from the officers at any point. No officer threatened to arrest or send him to jail, and no officer appeared to push him back like he alleged. Because of the officers' generally consistent testimonies as well as the video evidence, the Board "Unfounded" the threat of arrest, and force allegations mentioned above.

4. Exonerated

Officers responded to an apartment in the Bronx after a City Marshal attempted to execute a warrant of eviction and the resident threatened him with a meat cleaver. Upon arrival, an officer had his gun pointed at the man while another officer had his Taser pointed at the man. The officers entered the apartment to escort the man out and to search for the weapon, which was retrieved. The man was arrested for menacing with a weapon and criminal possession of a weapon with intent to use. Because the officers had a reasonable expectation that the man would be armed or attempt to arm himself with a weapon, the Board “Exonerated” the allegations for the pointed gun, pointed Taser, entry, and search of the apartment.

5. Officer Unidentified

While in custody, a man was escorted out of a hospital in Staten Island by two officers and claimed the officers punched and kicked him multiple times after throwing him to the ground for walking too slowly. The man described one of the officers as the partner of the officer who issued him a summons on a previous date, and he could not describe the other officer beyond being a male in uniform. Medical Treatment of Prisoner forms from multiple dates did not elicit conclusive information of officers that matched the man’s provided descriptions. Because of the inability to determine the incident date from the man’s statement or NYPD documentation along with the inconsistencies in regards to any potential subject officers, the Board closed the case as “Officer Unidentified.”

Dispositions - Allegations

“Allegations” are different than “cases”. A case or complaint is based on an incident and may contain one or more allegations of police misconduct. The allegation substantiation rate is 16% for the month of February 2016, and the allegation substantiation rate is 16% year to date. The type of allegation the CCRB is most likely to substantiate is Abuse of Authority – substantiating 24% of such allegations during February 2016, and 25% for the year.

Substantiation Rates

The February case substantiation rate was 29%, marking the eleventh straight month that the CCRB has substantiated more than 20% of cases it fully investigates. Prior to 2015, substantiation rates rarely surpassed 20% for even a single month.

Substantiation Rates and Video

Investigations relying on video evidence from security cameras or personal devices result in much higher substantiation rates.

Board Discipline Recommendations for Substantiated Complaints

After a CCRB investigative team has completed its investigation and recommended the substantiation of a complaint against an officer, a panel of three Board members determines whether or not to substantiate the allegation and make a disciplinary recommendation.

- “Charges and Specifications” are recommended for the most serious allegations of misconduct. Charges launch an administrative trial in the NYPD Trial Room. An officer may lose vacation days, be suspended, or terminated if he is found guilty.
- “Instructions” or “Formalized Training” are the least severe discipline, often recommended for officers who misunderstand a policy. This determination results in training at the command level (Instructions) or training at the Police Academy or NYPD Legal Bureau (Formalized Training).
- “Command Discipline” is recommended for misconduct that is more problematic than poor training, but does not rise to the level of Charges. An officer can lose up to ten vacation days as a result of a Command Discipline.
- When the Board has recommended Instructions, Formalized Training or Command Discipline, the case is sent to the NYPD Commissioner to impose training and/or other penalties, while cases where the Board recommends charges are prosecuted by the CCRB’s Administrative Prosecution Unit.

* A complaint containing a number of substantiated allegations against a number of different officers will typically generate a variety of different disciplinary recommendations. To determine the disciplinary recommendation associated with the complaint as a whole, the CCRB uses the most severe disciplinary recommendation made. The order of severity is: 1) Charges 2) Command Discipline 3) Formalized Training 4) Instructions.

Board Discipline Recommendations for Substantiated Allegations

A substantiated CCRB complaint may generate multiple substantiated allegations against multiple officers. Each substantiated allegation will carry its own discipline recommendation from the CCRB Board.

The following table presents the number of officers against whom discipline recommendations have been made as a result of a substantiated CCRB complaint. Where there are multiple substantiated allegations with multiple disciplinary recommendations for an officer in a complaint, the most severe disciplinary recommendation is used to determine the overall recommendation for that officer.

Truncations

A “truncation” is a case that is not fully investigated, either because the complainant/victim withdraws the complaint; is uncooperative with the investigation; is not available for the investigative team to interview; or is never identified. The CCRB constantly seeks to lower the number of truncations.

Mediation Unit

Whenever mediation between a complainant/victim and subject officer is suitable, it is offered by CCRB investigators. If the complainant/victim and subject officer both agree to participate, a neutral, third-party mediator facilitates a conversation between the parties. “Mediations Attempted” refers to truncations that take place during the mediation stage, such as a complainant becoming unavailable. The chart below indicates the number of mediations and attempted mediations closed in February and this year.

Administrative Prosecution Unit

The CCRB's Administrative Prosecution Unit (APU) prosecutes police misconduct cases, when the Board has recommended charges, in the NYPD Trial Room. The APU is also able to offer pleas to officers who admit guilt rather than going to trial. Following a plea agreement or the conclusion of a disciplinary trial, cases are sent to the Police Commissioner for final penalties.

*Retained cases are those where the Department kept jurisdiction pursuant to Section 2 of the April 2, 2012 Memorandum of Understanding between the NYPD and the CCRB.

 When the Department keeps jurisdiction pursuant to Section 2 and does not impose any discipline on the officer, it is the equivalent of a category referred to as DUP.

 In some case, the Department conducts their own investigation and prosecution prior to the completion of the CCRB's investigation. In those cases, the APU does not conduct a second prosecution.

† Under the Board's reconsideration process, an officer who has charges recommended as the penalty for a substantiated allegation may have the recommended penalty changed to something other than charges or have the allegation disposition changed to something other than substantiated. In those cases, the APU ceases its prosecution.

NYPD Discipline

Under the New York City Charter, the Police Commissioner makes the final decision regarding discipline and the outcome of disciplinary trials.

The first chart reflects NYPD-imposed discipline for cases brought by the APU (Charges).

The chart on the following page reflects cases referred to the Police Commissioner where the Board recommended Command Discipline, Formalized Training or Instructions.

 Formalized training is conducted by the Police Academy, the NYPD Legal Bureau, or other NYPD Unit.

 Instructions are conducted at the command level.

† This verdict relates to a trial conducted by DAO on a case decided by the Board prior to the activation of the APU.

†† "Filed" is a term used when the police department is not required to take action against the subject officer because the officer has resigned or retired from the department, or has been terminated.

††† When the department decides that it will not discipline an officer against whom the Board recommended discipline other than charges, those cases are referred to as "Department Unable to Prosecute," or DUP.

Appendix

Over the years, the CCRB has made many types of data publicly available. In reorganizing the Monthly Report, we do not intend to remove any valuable information from the public domain. However, the Agency believes that some information is essential to place in the main body of the Monthly Report, while more granular charts and figures are better suited to the Appendix. We welcome you to contact the CCRB at www.nyc.gov or 212-912-7235 if you are having difficulty finding information on CCRB data that was formerly available.
