

Inspection Checklist: Tenant Screening Reports

*Do you or your business rent apartments in a residential building that you do not own?
Do you rent apartments in your own residential building that has six or more apartments?
Do you or your business request personal information from prospective tenants?*

Definition: A tenant screening report provides information about a prospective tenant such as consumer credit history, rental and eviction records, criminal history, employment verification, and other information that can be used to evaluate an individual’s suitability as a tenant.

Use this checklist to learn what our inspectors look for and help avoid violations. All businesses also must comply with the General Retail Inspection Checklist, which is included at the end for easy reference.

For your convenience, each Requirement includes the relevant section of law and/or rule, so you can refer to it for more information. The KEY below describes the legal citations and symbols used in this checklist.
