Description

The Hundred Year Association of New York, founded in 1927, is a non-profit organization in New York City that recognizes and rewards dedication and service to the City of New York by businesses and organizations that have been in operation in the city for a century or more and by individuals who have devoted their lives to the city as City employees.

Initiated in 1958, the association grants the Isaac Liberman Public Service Awards annually to career New York City civil servants who have excelled beyond their normal duties during the course of the year. Employees are nominated by their supervisor and agency's commissioner/agency head. The public service awards are named for Isaac Liberman, founder of The Hundred Year Association.

Eligibility

The nominee must:

1. Be a full-time civil service employee of New York City.
2. Receive an annual salary that does not exceed $103,500.
3. Be in 'B' (active) employment status through the end of the 2026 calendar year.
4. Be a career civil service employee who has made an outstanding contribution or achievement in one of the public service categories defined in Section 4 of the application.

8. Nomination Essay

Provide a detailed explanation about why you are nominating the employee for this award. Include answers to the questions below.

- Why is the Isaac Liberman Public Service Award, as opposed to other awards, appropriate for this nominee?
- Why is the employee nominated in the selected category? Please provide specific examples or evidence of the employee's outstanding performance or achievement. This can include projects, and, if possible, data to quantify the nominee's impact.
- What other information should the award selection committee know about the nominee personally that gives a larger picture of the employee as an individual? For example, not only qualities demonstrating strength of character, but also interests outside of work, such as volunteering or community service.
