“The City of New York is committed to achieving excellence in the design and construction of its capital program, and building on the tradition of innovation in architecture and engineering that has contributed to the City’s prestige as a global destination. The contracting opportunities for construction/construction services and construction-related services that appear in the individual agency listings below reflect that commitment to excellence.”

HHS ACCELERATOR

To respond to human services Requests for Proposals (RFPs), in accordance with Section 3-16 of the Procurement Policy Board Rules of the City of New York (“PPB Rules”), vendors must first complete and submit an electronic prequalification application using the City’s Health and Human Services (HHS) Accelerator System. The HHS

Accelerator System is a web-based system maintained by the City of New York for use by its human services Agencies to manage procurement. The process removes redundancy by capturing information about boards, filings, policies, and general service experience centrally. As a result, specific proposals for funding are more focused on program design, scope, and budget.

Important information about the new method

- Prequalification applications are required every three years.
- Documents related to annual corporate filings must be submitted on an annual basis to remain eligible to compete.
- Prequalification applications will be reviewed to validate compliance with corporate filings, organizational capacity, and relevant service experience.
- Approved organizations will be eligible to compete and would submit electronic proposals through the system.

The Client and Community Service Catalog, which lists all Prequalification service categories and the NYC Procurement Roadmap, which lists all RFPs to be managed by HHS Accelerator may be viewed at <http://www.nyc.gov/html/hhsaccelerator/html/roadmap/roadmap.shtml>. All current and prospective vendors should frequently review information listed on roadmap to take full advantage of upcoming opportunities for funding.

Participating NYC Agencies

HHS Accelerator, led by the Office of the Mayor, is governed by an Executive Steering Committee of Agency Heads who represent the following NYC Agencies:

- Administration for Children’s Services (ACS)
- Department for the Aging (DFTA)
- Department of Consumer Affairs (DCA)
- Department of Corrections (DOC)
- Department of Health and Mental Hygiene (DOHMH)
- Department of Homeless Services (DHS)
- Department of Probation (DOP)
- Department of Small Business Services (SBS)
- Department of Youth and Community Development (DYCD)
- Housing and Preservation Department (HPD)
- Human Resources Administration (HRA)
- Office of the Criminal Justice Coordinator (CJC)

It is necessary to relocate the panels in order to extend a corridor that is currently blocked by the wall on which the panels are located (see attached plan).

The corridor in question must be extended to maintain circulation and egress on the 4th Floor that will be lost when DANY's Cybercrimes and Identity Theft Unit (CITB) is renovated and expanded. This expansion will absorb a section of the circulation corridor which will then be replaced by extending the corridor blocked by the electric panels in question. Please see the attached drawings.

The CITB renovation is part of a major initiative of the District Attorney's to combat the increasing instances of identity theft and cybercrime. A grant has been secured to fund the expansion and the District Attorney is anxious that the new facility be up and running as quickly as possible. The CITB renovation is scheduled to begin on or about December 15th, 2014 and be complete in approximately seven (7) months. However the renovation cannot begin until the electric panels have been relocated.

The electric panels were installed as part of a building-wide electrical upgrade initiated by the Department of Citywide Administrative Services (DCAS) in 2011, and expected to be completed in 2015. The panels were installed by ARK Systems Electric, the contractor hired for the project, under work permit #M331936 issued by the NYC Department of Buildings (copy attached). This permit remains 'open' until the overall project is completed, inspected and signed off by the Department of Buildings (DOB).

As per section 26-207 of the New York City Building Code, no work may be done without a permit being issued by the DOB. Since the permit is issued to a specific contractor, only that contractor may perform the work covered by the permit, including alteration of work already installed under the permit, until the work covered by the permit is completed, inspected and signed off by the DOB and the permit 'closed'. Thus only ARK Systems Electric may relocate these panels until the overall project is completed in 2015 and the permit 'closed'.

The renovation and expansion of the CITB unit is a pivotal component of District Attorney Cyrus R. Vance's strategy to combat one of the fastest growing sectors of crime worldwide. The renovation is scheduled to begin in December of this year and be completed and occupied by the middle of August of 2015. The panels must be relocated by the start of construction. Waiting until the building-wide electrical upgrade is completed in 2015, in order to seek competitive bids from multiple electrical contractors to relocate the panels, would substantially delay this project and would also delay an important crime prevention initiative.

Because DCAS prefers not to issue a change order to the contractor for the panel relocation, nor to revise the scope of the electrical upgrade project to accommodate the relocation, DANY has agreed to fund the work and hire the contractor as a separate project. We are thus seeking to retain ARK Systems Electric to relocate the panels, under their current permit, concurrent with the building-wide electrical upgrade. We thus respectfully request concurrence with our plan to pursue a negotiated acquisition with ARK System Electric

AGENCY RULES

TAXI AND LIMOUSINE COMMISSION

■ NOTICE

Notice of Promulgation of Rules

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN in accordance with section 1043(b) of the Charter of the City of New York ("Charter") that the Taxi and Limousine Commission ("TLC") promulgates rules to amend existing rules relating to the dispatch of for-hire vehicles ("FHVs") and the collection of trip records.

These rules are promulgated on pursuant to sections 1043 and 2303(b) of the Charter and section 19-503 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York.

On October 16, 2014, a public hearing was held by the TLC at the TLC's offices at 33 Beaver St., 19th Floor, New York, NY. These rules were approved at a TLC Commission Meeting on November 20, 2014 at the TLC's offices at 33 Beaver St., 19th Floor, New York, NY. These rules will take effect 30 days after publication.

Statement of Basis and Purpose of Rule

In response to changing industry dispatching practices resulting from the introduction of smart phones, the TLC is promulgates new rules that will:

- require FHV bases to submit trip records to the TLC,
- prohibit dispatching a vehicle affiliated with a base with a different type of base license, i.e. a Livery base dispatching to a vehicle affiliated with Black Car base,
- require Bases that are members of the Black Car Fund to bill and collect the surcharge for that Fund for every trip they dispatch in accordance with the rules of the Fund,

- require bases dispatching vehicles from a different base to provide the customer with the name and license number of the base with which the dispatched car is affiliated,
- establish a violation for failing to comply with certain portions of the new rule, and
- make a dispatching base liable for dispatching an uninspected vehicle or a vehicle without the proper identifications.

Background

Current Taxi and Limousine Commission (TLC) rules allow a For-Hire Vehicle (FHV) base (Livery, Black Car or Luxury Limousine) to dispatch a for-hire vehicle affiliated with another base when the passenger is told that this is the case at the time the passenger requests the ride. Until recently, the industry practice, though not required by current TLC rules, has been to dispatch vehicles affiliated with another base with the affiliated base's knowledge. In addition, the industry practice has been to dispatch only vehicles of the same vehicle class; e.g. a Livery base would not dispatch a Black Car.

Recently, bases that dispatch using only smartphone applications began dispatching vehicles affiliated with other bases without their knowledge with great frequency, including bases of other classes. These new practices have given rise to problems not addressed in the TLC's rules:

- First, the current rules do not provide a way for the TLC to identify the driver of a dispatched vehicle, whose name and license number are needed to enforce safety and consumer protection regulations.
- Second, the current rules do not specify with what information the customer must be provided.
- Third, cross-class dispatches undermine important regulatory class distinctions.

To assess the extent of these problems and find solutions, TLC met or spoke with FHV base owners and drivers, the Black Car Fund, the Livery Fund, the New York State Workers' Compensation Board, smartphone app companies, insurance providers, driver organizations, and passenger groups. The TLC also conducted field tests using various smartphone apps used by bases to dispatch vehicles, and spoke with drivers receiving dispatches through the apps. At a public hearing held on October 16, 2014, the TLC heard testimony from a cross-section of the entire industry. Representatives from all sectors of the for-hire transportation industry, including drivers who spoke for and against the rules, testified at the hearing. This rule incorporates information collected and knowledge gathered from these meetings, field tests, written comments received on the rules, and testimony received at the public hearing.

Identifying Drivers

There are currently over 70,000 licensed FHV drivers and 50,000 licensed for-hire vehicles compared to just over 50,000 licensed Yellow Taxi drivers, 13,698 Yellow Taxis, and 5,496 Street Hail Liveries. While TLC can identify and hold accountable Yellow Taxis and Street Hail Liveries and their drivers through electronic trip records that are automatically captured and transmitted to the TLC, no such mechanism exists for this larger section of the for-hire transportation industry. Without a record of every trip, TLC does not have a way to fairly enforce its rules against drivers across service types, which leaves a wide accountability gap between drivers of Yellow Taxis and drivers of FHV's. Additionally, without obtaining trip records, TLC does not know the number of trips the FHV industry is dispatching as a whole. With trip records, TLC will have more accountability of FHV vehicles and drivers, to better ensure that people who want rides can get them safely and reliably.

TLC needs to be able to identify the driver in each trip of one of its licensed vehicles, particularly if a vehicle is involved in a crash or if there is a service complaint against the driver. For vehicles with required in-vehicle technology (Yellow Taxis and Street Hail Liveries), TLC identifies the driver through electronic trip records that are automatically captured and transmitted to the TLC, which include the driver license number associated with each trip. For FHV's, which are currently not required to have in-vehicle technology, TLC can identify the driver by requesting dispatch records from the vehicle's affiliated base. Each FHV must affiliate with one and only one base, and all FHV bases are required to maintain a record for each trip they dispatch, which must include the driver's For-Hire license number, the date and time of the dispatch, and the passenger pick up location. If the TLC has the license plate number of a vehicle, the TLC can determine what base that vehicle is affiliated with, and contact that base for the dispatch record, which will identify the driver of that vehicle. However, if the base with which this vehicle is affiliated (the "home base") does not know about or have a record of the trip because the trip was dispatched by another base, as is currently the case, the TLC is not able to identify the driver for that particular trip by contacting that vehicle's home base. In these cases where the TLC only has information about the vehicle's license plate, the TLC cannot identify the driver. The base that dispatched the trip, and which is currently required to keep a record of it, is unknown to both TLC and the vehicle's home base.

This lack of information poses a serious difficulty for TLC's Vision Zero goal of ensuring that its licensed drivers are the safest on the road. To achieve this goal, the agency is carrying out a wide range of initiatives, from outreach and education to incentives and enforcement. For example, TLC is focusing on issuing summonses for speeding — the leading cause of traffic fatalities in New York City — and running red lights. To do so, TLC needs to be able to identify the driver who committed the offense. When the home base does not have the dispatch record for the trip during which the offense took place, because the vehicle was dispatched without the home base's knowledge, there is no way for TLC to identify the offending driver.

Also important is protecting the rights of consumers who file complaints that a driver violated the law, such as by overcharging, driving recklessly, or failing to comply with TLC prohibitions on service refusals. Often, the passenger does not have the driver's name or license number, but does have the vehicle's license plate or the home base name/number displayed on the side of the car. If the driver cannot be identified because the vehicle was dispatched by a base other than its home base, it is difficult for TLC to issue summonses for violations of its consumer protection rules and provide passengers with the redress to which they are entitled. Trip records are also useful to enable passengers to locate lost property, to assist with investigations into possible criminal activity, and to ensure all FHV's and FHV drivers have a valid TLC license.

Receiving uniform trip records in regularly scheduled intervals will also enable the TLC to better develop informed policies governing FHV service. The information in the trip records will allow TLC to understand where trips occur and where demand for trips arises. Amongst the many policy objectives that will be aided by collecting trip records, understanding trip demand will enable TLC to identify areas where there are shortages of for-hire service, evaluate the spread of accessible vehicles and their pick up patterns, and determine how many for-hire vehicles are actually active, as opposed to just licensed by the TLC. Additionally, understanding trip volumes in different parts of the City will enable TLC to assist other agencies, such as the Department of Transportation, in developing comprehensive transportation policy.

To address enforcement and policy concerns, the rule in essence automates existing requirements by requiring all FHV bases to submit to the TLC at regular intervals information about every trip that they are currently required to maintain pursuant to chapter §59B-19 of the TLC Rules. TLC takes its fiduciary responsibility seriously as the guardian of all the data it collects. TLC will maintain these records, and disclose these records pursuant to the Freedom of Information Law, in the same careful and considered manner it currently maintains and discloses the numerous other types of sensitive records it currently collects.

Cross-Class Dispatching

The recent proliferation of cross-class dispatching has brought to light several problems inherent in the practice which are addressed by the rule that prohibits cross-class vehicle dispatch. Principally, cross-class dispatching erodes the distinction between Livery service and Black Car service. Livery bases, historically, have served their local communities, while Black Car bases have provided contract services with a higher class of vehicle throughout New York City. While these distinctions may have blurred over time, the core principles behind the services continue to serve their respective passengers and communities. The Administrative Code and TLC Rules have consistently reflected the importance of this division, placing differing requirements on the bases, vehicles, and services provided by the Black Car industry and the Livery industry.

Livery service, above all else, provides passengers with a binding fare quote for all trips. So important is this provision of Livery service that the City Council amended the New York City Administrative Code to require all Livery vehicles to display a Passengers' Bill of Rights, which must include a statement that the passenger has the right to pay a pre-approved fare quoted by the dispatcher. However, a cross-class dispatched Black Car will not display this Passengers' Bill of Rights, even though the passenger has requested Livery service, contravening the very intent of the Administrative Code. Additionally, Passengers getting into cross-class dispatched Livery vehicles will, likewise, be presented with a Passengers' Bill of Rights stating they are entitled to a binding fare quote, when in fact they are not because Black Car Bases are not required to provide price certainty. As such, cross-class dispatching allows a Black Car base to shirk the duty of fare certainty that has historically attached to service provided by a Livery vehicle.

Beyond the binding fare quote required by TLC Rules, the New York City Administrative Code clearly and repeatedly delineates between the two classifications of services. To reflect the fact that Livery bases serve their surrounding communities, the Administrative Code sets extensive requirements for bases that can dispatch Livery vehicles, and Black Car bases do not meet these requirements. For example, the Administrative Code requires bases that dispatch Livery vehicles to maintain off-street parking and affiliate a minimum number of vehicles. These requirements were meant to ensure that a Livery base serving a community had enough vehicles to provide the needed service and enough parking available for these vehicles as not to encumber the community's ability to find street parking of its own. Black Car bases do not meet these requirements and allowing them to dispatch Livery vehicles subverts the intent of the Administrative Code.

The Administrative Code and TLC Rules also solidify another important contrast between the two classes that reflects often times stark differences between the types of passenger they serve. Section 19-502(u) of the Administrative Code requires that a Black Car Base's business be 90% non cash thereby reserving the cash market, which has also traditionally been the community market, to the Livery base. In conformity with the Administrative Code, Section 59B-03(c) also requires at least 90% of a Black Car Base's business be on a payment basis other than direct cash payment by the customer.

In addition, cross-class dispatching may also put FHV drivers in danger of losing Workers' Compensation coverage, which is determined by the dispatching base type; i.e. if a trip is dispatched by a Livery base, regardless of the type of base the vehicle is affiliated with, the Livery Workers' Compensation Fund (the "Livery Fund") rules govern the coverage. As such, if a Livery base dispatched a vehicle affiliated with a Black Car base, the Black Car Fund will not cover the driver. Similarly, a Livery driver dispatched by a Black Car Fund member base would not be covered by the Livery Fund. The rules eliminate cross-class dispatching, which will align TLC Rules with the intent of the Administrative Code and protect the important distinctions between Black Car and Livery services.

Information Given to Passengers

Current TLC Rules require a base to notify a passenger when the base dispatches a vehicle affiliated with another base but are silent on what information must be included in this notification. The current notification excludes information a customer may need for filing consumer complaints, finding lost property, or confidently knowing that they are getting into the car they requested.

The rule requires that when a base dispatches a vehicle from another base it must provide the customer with the name and TLC license number of the base with which the vehicle is affiliated. This will ensure that customers have the information they need to file consumer complaints, find lost property, and confidently enter dispatched vehicles.

These rules are authorized by Section 2303 of the Charter and Sections 19-503 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York.

ADMINISTRATION FOR CHILDREN'S SERVICES

■ NOTICE

In advance of the release of a Request for Proposals (RFP), the New York City Administration for Children's Services (ACS) is posting a concept paper setting forth the services that potential, qualified vendors will provide to older youth in care under the jurisdiction of the child welfare and juvenile justice systems. Through this RFP, ACS will seek new program models to the system which emphasize engagement of at-risk and vulnerable populations within our continuum of care, and reinforce fundamental expectations of accountability for outcomes and child and family-centered practice. The RFP will seek appropriately qualified organizations with strong community connections geared to meet the needs of youth between the ages of 15 and 21. ACS will establish clusters of service providers in identified high-need communities where many youth involved with foster care and juvenile justice systems reside or congregate. These clustered service providers will create a continuum of high-performing, neighborhood-based organizations to collaborate with ACS in the advancement of youth development goals through innovative strategies designed to effectively engage at-risk and marginalized populations. The cluster of providers will include a blend of arts and cultural programming, educational and vocational supports, job readiness, recreational opportunities, and housing supports. The concept paper will be posted on the ACS website, www.nyc.gov/acs under Business Opportunities from December 2, 2014 to January 20, 2015. All comments in response to the concept paper should be in writing via e-mail to: OYServicesCP@acs.nyc.gov

NOTICE OF ADOPTION OF RULE

Pursuant to the power vested in me as Commissioner of the New York City Human Resources Administration (“HRA”) by Mayor de Blasio’s Executive Order Number 6, designating HRA as the administering agency of the New York City Identification Card Program (“IDNYC Card Program”), I hereby adopt the following rule to be added as Chapter 6 of Title 68 of the Official Compilation of the Rules of the City of New York.

Dated: November 26, 2014 /s/ _____
 New York, NY Steven Banks
 Commissioner
 NYC Human Resources Administration

Statement of Basis and Purpose of Rule

On July 10, 2014, Mayor de Blasio signed Local Law No. 35 of 2014, establishing the New York City Identification Card Program (“IDNYC Card Program”) to ensure that every New Yorker is provided with the opportunity and peace of mind that comes with possessing a government issued photo identification. On August 4, 2014, the Mayor issued Executive Order No. 6, designating the New York City Human Resources Administration (HRA) as the administering agency of the IDNYC Card Program. HRA published a proposed rule concerning the program on September 5, 2014 and a public hearing was held on October 8, 2014. In accordance with Local Law No. 35 (now codified as New York City Administrative Code Section 3-115) and Executive Order No. 6, HRA now adds Chapter 6 to Title 68 of the Rules of the City of New York to implement the program and set forth more details regarding the program.

The need for the City of New York to create an additional form of government issued photo identification is significant, as approximately half of New York City residents age 16 and over do not have a New York State Driver’s License. The IDNYC Card will better connect more New Yorkers, regardless of immigration status, homeless status, or gender identity, to public and private sector services, programs and benefits.

The City of New York will launch a citywide public awareness and community engagement campaign to effectively educate New Yorkers about how to apply for this card and the value it will offer to cardholders. The City of New York will address the needs of limited English proficient (LEP) individuals in the administration of the IDNYC Card Program through, among other things, staff training, community outreach, and the use of language assistance tools. The City of New York will also provide accommodations to applicants with disabilities to promote access to the card for all New Yorkers.

This rule establishes requirements to implement the IDNYC Card Program and provides guidance to critical stakeholders and applicants interested in obtaining the IDNYC Card. The proposed rule was identified as the “Municipal ID Card Program.” The name of the program has been changed to the “IDNYC Card Program,” and the final rule reflects this change.

Specifically, the rule:

- Establishes that the IDNYC Card will be provided to applicants

free of charge;

- Establishes that cards will expire after five years;
- Creates a mechanism for homeless New Yorkers without a permanent address to obtain a card;
- Sets the minimum age to apply for the card at 14 years of age;
- Provides protections to survivors of domestic violence;
- Sets forth the documents with which applicants may demonstrate identity and residency and the weight each document will have;
- Establishes that cardholders who change their residential address, gender, or name should update the information appearing on the card within 10 days of the change;
- Establishes privacy protections that safeguard information collected for issuing the identification card to protect against identity theft and fraud; and
- Provides that an applicant who has been denied an IDNYC Card may seek review of this denial by submitting a review request to the Executive Director of the IDNYC Card program within 30 days of issuance of the denial.

Rule

Title 68 of the Rules of the City of New York is amended by adding a new Chapter 6 to read as follows:

Chapter 6. IDNYC Card Program
