

Women at the Forefront: Advancing Sustainable Change

Discover how women across New York City government are shaping a more sustainable and equitable future.

Join the NYC Department of Citywide Administrative Services (DCAS) and partner agencies for a Women's History Month CityTalk panel discussion highlighting the initiatives, impact, and contributions of women in NYC civil service. Inspired by this year's national theme, Leading the Change: Women Shaping a Sustainable Future, this event explores how women are advancing equity, strengthening communities, and building systems that support long-term success across New York City.

What to Expect:

- Insights into career journeys across NYC agencies
- Perspectives on equity, sustainability, and workplace impact
- Contributions towards sustainable change in public service

Lead with purpose. Drive change. Shape the future of public service.
