

CONSTRUCTION SITE SAFETY: SPOT THE UNSAFE SITUATION

Building can be a dangerous job. Heavy tools, hazardous materials and bad weather are just a few of the challenges that require workers to pay close attention to their surroundings. To keep workers and pedestrians safe, every construction site has rules. Find the situations where people aren't following these safety rules:

- Put pipes away.
- Wear hard hats.
- Wear close-toed shoes.
- Wear safety vests and goggles.
- Remove snow and ice.
- Wear and correctly use fall protection gear.
- Don't overload scaffolding.

- When using ladders, always have someone spot you.
- Keep pedestrians safe.
- Keep sidewalks clear.
- Install barricades around the site.
- Use proper signs.
- Make sure workers can safely get into and out of trenches.
- Don't play with fire.
