What is Pre-employment Training? Is it Mandatory?

The pre-employment period may take place at any time before the start of the internship. Depending on prior work experience, participants may be required to attend up to 30 hours of unpaid workshops. This will be at the discretion of your Ladders Community Partner. The workshops provide participants with opportunities to explore career interests and help them understand training requirements for different roles. You must attend all pre-employment events in order to be referred to a company for an interview.

Can I Choose Which Employer(s) I Want to Interview With?

During the pre-employment training, your supervisor will have the opportunity to learn more about your career interests and goals. They will use this information in deciding which company they forward your resume to or which employer you interview with. They will also consider the career options you selected in the Ladders application in determining an appropriate internship site for you

Important!

Do not forget to submit the following along with your application:

- personal statement, video, portfolio or cover letter
- most recent copy of your transcript
- your resume (include any previous job, volunteer experiences, leadership roles, or extracurricular involvements)
