

Mayor's Fund Donor Privacy Policy

The Mayor's Fund to Advance New York City is committed to respecting the privacy of our donors. We have developed this privacy policy to ensure our partners that donor information will not be shared with any third party, except when required to do so by law. This privacy policy applies to collection of information, including information collected on our website. By submitting your information to us or any of our staff, you consent to the terms and conditions of the policy and to our processing personal information for the purposes stated below.

Personal Information

"Personal Information" is information that identifies you personally, such as your name, address, telephone number, and email address. We collect and store the personally identifiable information that you have provided us. Here are some examples of ways in which we may collect your information.

- We may collect your name, email address, telephone number and payment information when you make a contribution, either on our website, over the phone or by mailing in a check.
- When you request information via one of the email addresses identified on our website, nyc.gov or otherwise contact us in person, by phone or email, with a question, we may then collect your name, address and email in order to respond to that inquiry.
- We may collect your name, email address and other contact information if you register for an event.

It is our desire to not send unwanted mail to our donors. Please contact us if you wish to be removed from our mailing list.

If you have comments or questions about our donor privacy policy, please email us at fund@cityhall.nyc.gov or call us at (212) 788-7794.
