

Roof Structural Confirmation Form

In accordance with HPD's solar Consent process, the Solar Provider (the entity that the Owner directly contracts with to install the solar project) of any solar project that has received HPD consent to install must provide a signed copy of the "Roof Structural Confirmation Form", after receiving Consent from HPD. Failure to submit this form would result in Consent being revoked.

This form, signed by the Solar Provider, serves as an attestation and acknowledgement to the following:

- i) A structural analysis has been completed by the Solar Provider for [project name] on [project address(es)]. The roof of the Property(ies) is in good condition and can support the particular installation(s) being proposed.

- ii) The Solar Provider acknowledges that HPD has the right to inspect the project and property prior to the beginning of the project, during the project and after the project to ensure compliance and integrity and to withhold or withdraw approval when circumstances dictate such.

- iii) The Solar Provider acknowledges that HPD has the right to request other documents it deems necessary for the evaluation of the project before rendering a decision.

Signed,
