

To print at home, use heavy weight paper, or card stock. Cut out the cards along the dotted lines. If you're unable to print on both sides, you can simply fold on the center line to make a 2-sided card.

If you use a professional printer, we suggest printing 2-sided cards with card stock paper.

Know Your Rights with Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE)

If ICE is at your door:

- Your home is a private space. ICE needs a judicial warrant or your own permission to enter your home.
- You have the right to remain silent.
- You do not have to open the door, unless ICE has a judicial warrant or your permission.
- You can ask ICE for their ID and/or a warrant, and if they have one, to slide it under the door.
- You may say, "I do not want to speak with you."

If ICE is at your workplace:

- You have the right to remain silent. If ICE tries to search you, you can say, "I do not consent to a search."
- If ICE agents are trying to talk to or arrest you, you can try to record the encounter, but starting to record may put you at risk. However, others may record ICE, so long as they do not interfere with officers.
- In Private/Employee-Only Areas: ICE needs your employer's permission or a judicial warrant to enter private, employee-only areas such as break rooms, storage rooms, and restaurant kitchens.
- In Public Areas: ICE can enter public areas of your workplace without a warrant. This includes office lobbies, supermarkets, retail stores, and restaurant dining areas.

For more information, visit nyc.gov/knowyourrights

English

Know Your Rights with Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE)

If ICE is at your door:

- Your home is a private space. ICE needs a judicial warrant or your own permission to enter your home.
- You have the right to remain silent.
- You do not have to open the door, unless ICE has a judicial warrant or your permission.
- You can ask ICE for their ID and/or a warrant, and if they have one, to slide it under the door.
- You may say, "I do not want to speak with you."

If ICE is at your workplace:

- You have the right to remain silent. If ICE tries to search you, you can say, "I do not consent to a search."
- If ICE agents are trying to talk to or arrest you, you can try to record the encounter, but starting to record may put you at risk. However, others may record ICE, so long as they do not interfere with officers.
- In Private/Employee-Only Areas: ICE needs your employer's permission or a judicial warrant to enter private, employee-only areas such as break rooms, storage rooms, and restaurant kitchens.
- In Public Areas: ICE can enter public areas of your workplace without a warrant. This includes office lobbies, supermarkets, retail stores, and restaurant dining areas.

For more information, visit nyc.gov/knowyourrights

English

Know Your Rights with Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE)

If ICE is at your door:

- Your home is a private space. ICE needs a judicial warrant or your own permission to enter your home.
- You have the right to remain silent.
- You do not have to open the door, unless ICE has a judicial warrant or your permission.
- You can ask ICE for their ID and/or a warrant, and if they have one, to slide it under the door.
- You may say, "I do not want to speak with you."

If ICE is at your workplace:

- You have the right to remain silent. If ICE tries to search you, you can say, "I do not consent to a search."
- If ICE agents are trying to talk to or arrest you, you can try to record the encounter, but starting to record may put you at risk. However, others may record ICE, so long as they do not interfere with officers.
- In Private/Employee-Only Areas: ICE needs your employer's permission or a judicial warrant to enter private, employee-only areas such as break rooms, storage rooms, and restaurant kitchens.
- In Public Areas: ICE can enter public areas of your workplace without a warrant. This includes office lobbies, supermarkets, retail stores, and restaurant dining areas.

For more information, visit nyc.gov/knowyourrights

English

Know Your Rights with Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE)

If ICE is at your door:

- Your home is a private space. ICE needs a judicial warrant or your own permission to enter your home.
- You have the right to remain silent.
- You do not have to open the door, unless ICE has a judicial warrant or your permission.
- You can ask ICE for their ID and/or a warrant, and if they have one, to slide it under the door.
- You may say, "I do not want to speak with you."

If ICE is at your workplace:

- You have the right to remain silent. If ICE tries to search you, you can say, "I do not consent to a search."
- If ICE agents are trying to talk to or arrest you, you can try to record the encounter, but starting to record may put you at risk. However, others may record ICE, so long as they do not interfere with officers.
- In Private/Employee-Only Areas: ICE needs your employer's permission or a judicial warrant to enter private, employee-only areas such as break rooms, storage rooms, and restaurant kitchens.
- In Public Areas: ICE can enter public areas of your workplace without a warrant. This includes office lobbies, supermarkets, retail stores, and restaurant dining areas.

For more information, visit nyc.gov/knowyourrights

English