

Did you know that as a young person living in New York City, you have access to free, safe immigration legal help through ActionNYC?

ActionNYC connects you to trusted community organizations across New York City that can provide free and confidential screenings so you can learn about your immigration legal options and receive legal help.

Call ActionNYC if you have immigration questions, including what immigration help may be available if you were the victim of:

- Domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, or stalking;
- Someone who made you work even if you did not want to, someone made you do things you did not want to do, or certain related crimes;
- Hostile conditions in your country of origin, such as war, political unrest, or natural disaster;
- Someone who hurt you or you are afraid of someone hurting you in your country of origin as a result of race, religion, nationality, political opinion, or membership in a particular social group, including, but not limited to, identification based on sexual orientation, gender, gender identity, or sex;
- A situation involving one or both of your parents hitting you, hurting you, not looking after you properly, or never being in your life; and
- Any other similar factor that may provide the basis for immigration relief for young people living in New York City

To make an appointment call 1-800-354-0365 or 311 and say "ActionNYC". Your appointment will be in your language and location of choice. There are ActionNYC sites in all five boroughs.

BEWARE of immigration service providers who take advantage of their customers. Get help only from a trusted, licensed attorney or accredited representative.
