Gaps and cracks around windows, doors, elevators, and stairwells let the cold outdoor air in, causing drafty buildings and wasting energy and money. But there are common solutions to keep out the cold that will improve your building and help make tenants and residents more comfortable.

Join the NYC Retrofit Accelerator, Local 32BJ SEIU and the 32BJ Training Fund to learn more at the event Keeping Out the Cold: Strategies and Resources For Improving Buildings on Tuesday, February 6, 2018 at 6pm.

Hear from a panel of building superintendents and property managers who have implemented air sealing, insulation, and heating system upgrades in their buildings and will share lessons learned from their experiences.
