Hello,

We are preparing to open a new restaurant at 414 E 9th Street and we wanted to take a moment to introduce ourselves! My name is Nick Tamburo, I've lived and worked around the East Village for several years and I'm so excited to finally have a place in the neighborhood to call my own. When I first moved to NYC in 2013 I worked at Momofuku Noodle Bar on 1st Avenue and later spent many years working at Momofuku Ko. Most recently I was the head chef at a newer East Village restaurant called Claud on 10th street.

My business partner is Nikita Malhotra, a native New Yorker. She also worked at Momofuku Ko and was in charge of the wine program there. In 2022 she was recognized as New York's best sommelier by the Michelin Guide. She now consults for a number of different restaurants and wine related projects around the city.

We are still deciding on a name for our new place but we do know that it will be a small, intimate restaurant focused on seafood and wine. We want to create a place that prioritizes creativity and seasonality, one that is thoughtful, personal, and down to earth.

We are planning to be open for dinner only, Tuesday - Saturday, we will take our first reservation at 5pm and our last reservation by 10pm, the restaurant will close at 10:30. The menu will be a la carte with a focus on fish, shellfish, and vegetables. The beverage program will be wine focused, Nikita has a particular passion for German wines and small producers. We also plan to offer beer and non-alcoholic options and hope to serve some cocktails as well. We will play music in the dining room but only pre-recorded background music, there will not be live music of any kind nor will there be DJs.

We are just starting the build out now and hope to be open sometime in October. There are so many places close by that we love, can't wait to join them as part of the neighborhood!

If anyone in the community has any concerns we would be happy to discuss them with you either virtually or in person prior to the next monthly community board meeting.

all the best,

Nick Tamburo and Nikita Malhotra
