ONE ANGRY JUROR
Holdout throws trial of child-killer Lindsay Clancy into chaos
Kevin Reddington, attorney for Lindsay Clancy (both right), famously argued yesterday that one holdout juror "refuses to listen to law" on reasonable doubt — preventing that 11 jurors agree on whether to find Clancy not guilty of killing her three children (shown) by reason of insanity, while one believes she's guilty of murder.

Re: Operational-change application

To the chair and members of the board:

As a neighbor and 10 + years resident adjacent to The Hairy Lemon, I'm writing in support of their pending application. I've witnessed the bar in full operation and without doubt see this business as a valuable asset of our community. I've seen at least 3 or 4 businesses come and go on Avenue B during The Hairy Lemon's tenure and I largely attribute it's continued growth to Glen, the owner/manager at the location.

I've always found him very polite, accommodating to local needs and responsible in dealing with issues that occur from time to time in the late night hospitality industry.

For these reasons, I hope the board will approve their application to add a Dj, cover charges for certain sports events and reduce security on slower midweek nights.

I have extensive experience in this industry and fully understand the growing associated costs. I'd hate to see the bar fall victim as many others have in recent times.

Respectfully,

Jonathan

Dear Members of the Community Board,

As long time residents in the east village. I'd like to take this opportunity to fully support the Hairy Lemon's proposed amendments to their current stipulations. Myself (George) and my wife (Kerri) frequent the bar from time to time and often bring our 13 year daughter here for lunch and daytime sports events. We're both sometimes cautious on where we feel comfortable taking her, but we've always enjoyed the safe space provided there.

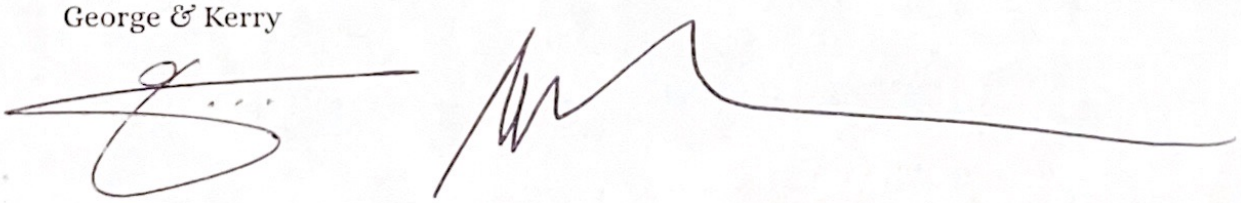

We've got to knew Glen quite well from our visits over the years . Glen is an ever present fixture at the bar and it's obvious to anyone there , that he runs a tight ship incorporating solid bar food , good drinks , and even better service. The Hairy Lemon is fast becoming a neighborhood staple and the area is all the better for its presence.

We don't see any issues with his proposed addition of a Dj (1 night per week), addition of cover charge for PPV sports events and removal of security on quiet nights.

We really hope the board can support these changes as Glen truly puts his heart and soul into making this business tick.

Yours sincerely,

George & Kerry

To the board members,

I've resided beside the Hairy Lemon for approximately 4.5 years and am writing in support of their application for changes in method of operation. I grown to love the neighborhood over the past few years and consider this bar part of the reason.

I moved here solo, from Boston and only had a small circle of friends at the beginning. I've always found The Hairy Lemon to be a solid meet-up hub as well as a cool place to network for my age group and older again. This bar operates well and does a much better job of neighborly consideration than some of the other establishments in the area.

Glen, the owner, walked me through the proposed amendments on the application. I wouldn't be opposed to a Friday night Dj, since many other bars seem to be permitted to do so. I'm also a follower of UFC so am quite aware of costs incurred for bars who show pay-per-view events not to mention costs of security detail on quiet evenings.

I hope the board can empathize with his proposals to make the business more cost effective.

Thanks

Rowan Lavelle

To all board members,
As a resident living directly above The Hairy Lemon, approaching 4 years, I would like to support Glen with his suggested changes in his premises.
As a neighbor I've frequented the bar on a regular occurrence and have met the staff, who have the utmost professionalism and respect for the customers and the surrounding area. Glen runs a very tight ship and is on point with sound levels and customers coming and going.
As a neighbor I do feel that the security midweek is an added stress financially on the day to day running of The Hairy Lemon, especially with Glen being there so much and being so vigilant.
Also, occupying the apartment directly above, I don't see an issue with a DJ once a week as I have never had a reason to call and complain about the volume in my tenure there and music is played regularly.

Kind regards, Michael

Re: Support for The Hairy Lemon's Operational-Change Application

Dear Chair and Members of Community Board 3:

I am a resident of 222 East 3rd Street, Apartment 5H, situated in close proximity to The Hairy Lemon. I am writing to formally express my strong support for their pending operational-change application. Having resided in several locations within this neighborhood over the past nine years, I have become well-acquainted with the establishment, its owner, Glyn Galvin, and the dedicated staff members.

Throughout my nearly decade-long tenure in this community, I have observed that The Hairy Lemon is managed with exceptional efficiency. Mr. Galvin and his team consistently maintain a safe, clean, and welcoming environment, regardless of whether it is a quiet weekday or during peak hours of operation. The Hairy Lemon has truly become a valued fixture within the Alphabet City community.

Accordingly, I respectfully encourage the Chair and the members of Community Board 3 to approve the requested operational changes, which include modifying security requirements on quiet evenings, permitting cover charges for certain PPV sporting events, and introducing a DJ. As a long-standing member of this community, I fully endorse these requests. Please do not hesitate to contact me should you require any further information or context.

Sincerely,

Alex Remstein

Dear Community Board Members,

I have been a resident in the direct vicinity of the Hairy Lemon for almost 3 years. I also have prior experience in the hospitality industry in both Jersey and New York. Through frequent visits , I've become acquainted with owner, Glyn Galvin. I'd like to express endorsement for the applicants proposed change in method of operation.

As a person who's familiar with the east village bar scene , I've witnessed close and personal , the array of bar/restaurant options available in the area. I can certainly attest to the fun, yet safe environment that has been created at The Hairy Lemon. The establishment is always staffed appropriately and managed responsibly.

I fully understand the competitive nature of bars in the east village and that bars need to freshen their offerings to stay on point with others. I know Dj's are quite common at weekends and would not oppose its addition at The Hairy Lemon . I also understand costs entailed for hiring security and showing "pay per view " sports events, so reducing security during quiet days would certainly reduce the ever growing overhead associated with labor.

I Hope this board can support Mr Galvin's wishes to amend his method operation, and thank you for your time in reading this.

Yours,

Jared Liebman

Dear Chairperson and members of the Board,

I'm writing in direct reference to changes The Hairy Lemon bar is proposing with regard to its method of operation.

I was born and raised in this neighborhood and am of Puertican heritage. I strongly value the traditions of the neighborhood and the people who grew up here. As I'm sure all of the board are aware, many of these traditions have, in certain cases fallen to change , but moreover progress, in my opinion.

I grew up in the 80's where the only businesses that survived were gritty deli's that my parents largely steered me away from and the streets suffered from urban decay. Although I enjoyed my childhood, things are so different now, and safer. Fun bars and fancy restaurants popped up the 90' and 2000's, the streets are cleaner as gentrification has taken hold. The Hairy Lemon bar represents this change, yet the folks there also cater to the true local people of all ages.

The owner, Glen, is a solid honest guy and can be found there as easily on a Mondays evening when it's quiet as he maybe there bustling about on a Saturday night when it's heaving. This is not the typical schedule of all bar owners I've met. It simply demonstrates he cares, as far as I'm concerned.

He has relayed proposed amendments, namely removal of security on quiet nights , addition of a cover change on a monthly basis for certain sports events as well as including a Dj once a week on Fridays.

Given the manner in which this bar/ restaurant is currently run, I honestly couldn't see why the changes of operations would pose any issue for local residents. If more bars on Avenue B were run like the Hairy Lemon, less of them would fail.

I hope the board will take these views into account when making its decision.

Thanks again,

Nathaniel Alejandro

Dear Community Board Members;

I've lived at headed address for over 13 years and witnessed many bar changeovers including the inception of The Hairy Lemon after Croxleys Ales closed their doors in Sept 2017. Despite the quirky name, I was relieved and pleasantly surprised when I realized it was an Irish styled sports bar which to be fair , is just what Avenue B needed.

I've met the owner on many occasions and have always found him to be not only a great host, but a friendly neighbor and moreover, a responsible bar owner. People that enter are always welcomed . The atmosphere there is clean and fun and staff there do a great job in creating a jovial atmosphere.

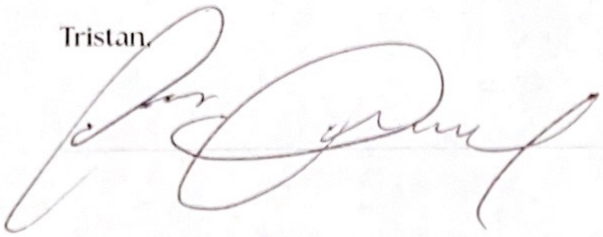

Glyn, the owner, was very forthcoming and honest in his reasons for making this application for changes in operation. I could not oppose the addition of a DJ, which I'm told is only 1 weekend night per week.... since most other night spots seem to house Dj's at the weekend. I was amazed on learning the price (for bars) to show certain sports events like UFC etc so it's really only fair a bar be able to pass the cost onto customers by means of a cover charge.

Ive also seen a major downturn in mid week business over the past 6 years especially since Covid so completely understand too , his reasons not to employ security midweek in what's become a sleepier area with earlier closing times than once before.

I hope the board considers these points as Glyn tries his best to survive in the ever-competitive night life business.

Thank you for your consideration,

Tristan.

Re: The Hairy Lemon's application for operational changes

Dear CB3:

I have resided directly above the Hairy Lemon for almost 4 years this fall. I am familiar with the establishment and its owner Glyn, and am consequently writing now in support of the application for changes at hand.

I wouldn't say that I'm a very frequent visitor to the bar but I pass by there at least 3 times a day while walking my dog. I bartended at Ray's bar in the LES for 2 years so I'm familiar with the industry and I can speak nothing but praise for how business is run at the Hairy Lemon.

I did make it there recently during one of the Knicks nba finals games and was truly impressed with the manner in which the staff controlled the crowd , but also with street management at the end of the game.

The owners/ management of this bar genuinely care and for that reason I would urge the board to approve the allowance of a Dj / cover charge for sports events and the reduction/ elimination of security during quiet times.

This neighborhood is all the better with the Hairy Lemon in its catalogue so here's hoping the board can approve the changes.

Thanks for your consideration,

Yours,

Re: Letter of support for The Hairy Lemon

Dear members of Manhattan Community Board 3:

I've lived on Ave D my entire life so needless to say, I've seen changes. I started going to The Hairy Lemon during its infant stages back about 2018. I've seen the bar grow , then stutter (like all other businesses) during the pandemic, and then continue to grow since pandemic sanctions were removed in early 2022.

I work in real estate and fully understand that business growth doesn't happen by chance.... It takes hard work and dedication. I've gotten to know the owner quite well of the years and let me tell you , This guy Glen really works his butt off. I've known him to be kind, polite and nothing but cordial to both customers and neighbors and only wish businesses and people like this would migrate their way over to Ave D someday. I guess we can all dream.

Glen has explained in depth certain issues he faces and also some of the stipulations imposed upon him that currently hurt his business.

I'd like to use this letter to advocate my support in the allowance of a Friday night DJ, removal of midweek security and the additional of a cover charge for certain pay-per-view sporting events . I encourage the board to approve these operational changes.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Mr. Robert Lesko

28 Avenue B #4B

New York, NY 10009

Dear Chairperson and Members of Community Board 3,

My name is Robert Lesko, and I am a life-long New Yorker who has lived at 28 Avenue B, Apt. 4B, since March 1983. Over the past four decades I have, via my daily comings and goings, and through my Avenue B-facing apartment windows, witnessed a dizzying array of storefront neighbors on Avenue B between 2nd and 3rd Streets, including:

- the family-owned, three-generation-running, Stein Realty Group
- sundry iterations of Ben's Deli Grocery
- a Latino Evangelical church (with its heartwarming guitar- and tambourine-led folk masses)
- the experimental performance spaces Gargoyle Mechanique, Collective Unconscious, and The Gas Station (with their often more eclectic\aesthetically challenging musical presentations)
- and the legendary and long-lamented after-hours venue Save the Robots

I would here take the opportunity to cite a relatively recent addition to the streetscape of the block, the Hairy Lemon. Since its arrival to 28 Avenue B in 2017, the Hairy Lemon has consistently weaved the adrenaline-infused camaraderie of a sports bar with the homespun hospitality of an Irish pub more so than any other bar I have ever experienced. (Add to that, as for all of the bar's nine years its owners have worked to preserve a 2014 outdoor mural of the Ramones by famed Lower East Side artist Chico Garcia, I would further pose that there is no more authentic bar in the five boroughs.)

On Sunday, August 9th, I encountered the Hairy Lemon's ever-ebullient General Manager, Glen Galvin, in front of 28 Avenue B and inquired about the bar's current business activity in the wake of this summer's Knicks NBA championship run and FIFA World Cup euphoria. He informed me, in turn, that the bar was seeking to revise its operations so as to:

- discontinue use of security staff on quiet nights
- install a cover change on a monthly basis for certain sports events
- employ a DJ once a week on Fridays

As such changes in operation are subject to your review and approval, please let this serve as confirmation of my wholehearted support of these proposals, toward the goal of continuing the Hairy Lemon's role as a good neighbor to the residents of Community Board 3.

Should you have questions regarding this statement of support, please do not hesitate to contact me at rl10@nyu.edu or 646-626-2729.

With gratitude for your efforts on behalf of our community,

To whom it may concern,

I heard that this Bar\Restaurant is in need of a letter of recommendation. I would think their reputation as one of the best Sports bars in our area would have spoken for itself. If more reassurance is needed, I'm more than happy to give it. I remember when the spot was Croxley Ales. I loved going there with my family and friends. Now, as Hairy Lemon, it's still an amazing place to visit.

The owner Gyln is an amazing guy, who's always looking out for his customers, the community he has built here over the years. The DJ is a great idea! Holding sports events with cover charges is something so many places do, without disturbing the many neighbors we have in the surrounding area. Their security always does a great job in maintaining peace and order. I humbly request that CB3 take my views into consideration. Well managed places like this, keep the neighborhood fun, and safe. Making it a place people want to visit.

Thank you.

Dear Manhattan Community Board 3

I've been a resident of 4th st for over 35 years. I've enjoyed many of the restaurants and bars in the local area. By far, The Hairy Lemon is my Cheers, where everybody knows my name. I've never been to a more welcoming bar. My 15 year career in hospitality allows me to say with great honesty, this bar treats me and its guests the way we deserve to be treated. The food is great, the atmosphere is welcoming.

In saying that, I ask that the board grant them the right to have a DJ. To be allowed to have great sporting events, with cover charges. They are the bar that everyone loves to go to, from local to outside of Manhattan. They've never been rowdy, and the music is never so loud that it's pounding from outside the bar.

Thank you for your consideration,

Sada Davis.

-Support letter with regard to Hairy Lemon's prosposed changes in method of operation-

Dear members of Community Board 3,

I've living in the area close by the Hairy Lemon for almost 10 years now, having spent a brief period proceeding Covid on the west coast. In this period of time, I've become very familiar with the bars, its staff and its owner.

Myself and my girlfriend, Claire, both work in the restaurant industry as a chef and server respectively. We have extensive knowledge of the nuances in operating a clean, safe and comfortable establishment for which we believe The Hairy Lemon qualifies.

Glen has outplayed certain challenges he facing within regard to optimizing business potential with regard to increasing revenue and reducing overhead, namely;

1) Introduction of cover charges for certain PPV sports events.

2) Reduction of Security details on slower weekday nights.

3) Hosting Dj's on Friday nights

We believe these changes won't in no way cause a negative impact on the community. This business has become a vibrant community center for people to meet and mingle so I really hope the board will take our viewpoint into consideration.

Thanks ,

Tim & Claire

Dear Members of Manhattan Community Board 3:

I'm writing to personally express my support for The Hairy Lemon and its owner, Glyn Galvin. I live at 27 Avenue C, just one block away, and have continued to live in the neighborhood throughout The Hairy Lemon's time here.

Being this close to the bar, I've had plenty of opportunity to experience its impact on the surrounding area. I have personally never heard any noise coming from that business that has been disruptive to me, and I've always found the establishment to be well run. From my perspective as a nearby resident, The Hairy Lemon has been a welcome part of the neighborhood.

I'm also supportive of the proposed changes to its operations, including allowing a DJ, permitting cover charges for sporting events, and reducing security requirements on quieter nights. I believe these are reasonable changes that can be managed responsibly, and I hope the Board will approve them.

The Hairy Lemon has been a positive part of the neighborhood for me, and I'm happy to lend my voice as a nearby resident in support of its continued operation and growth.

Thank you for considering my perspective.

Dear Members of Community Board 3,

I am writing in support of the proposed change in operations at The Hairy Lemon bar. I have lived in the neighborhood, near the establishment for approximately six years. During my time in the area, I have had the opportunity to become familiar with the business and its owner, Glen Galvin. Having moved into the area in the middle of the pandemic, I've witnessed first hand, the struggles faced by business owners , not only in the east village but also the city in general. I can commend Glen's efforts to operate his business throughout this period in what must be considered very adverse circumstances

I spend most of my free social time around the East Village and am familiar with the variety of nightlife options throughout the neighborhood. In my experience, The Hairy Lemon has maintained a welcoming atmosphere while also operating in a responsible manner. I have found the staff to be attentive and the establishment to be appropriately managed.

I believe it is reasonable for The Hairy Lemon to make changes that allow it to remain competitive with other businesses in the area. I would be comfortable with the addition of DJs, particularly during weekends, as this can provide another form of entertainment for customers without changing the overall character of the establishment.

I also understand that operating costs have increased significantly for businesses, particularly expenses related to staffing, security, and "pay per view" sporting events. Adjusting security coverage on slower days, when circumstances allow, seems like a practical way to manage those costs while continuing to operate the business responsibly.

For these reasons, I respectfully ask that Community Board 3 consider supporting the business's request to amend its method of operation. I appreciate the Board taking the time to review this letter and consider the perspective of a nearby resident.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Dan

To the Chair and Members of the Board:

As a resident of 16 First Avenue, Apartment 3, I write in support of The Hairy Lemon's pending application. I am familiar with the bar as a neighborhood establishment.

I believe The Hairy Lemon is a benefit to the community. It is a welcoming establishment for people from all backgrounds and serves a wider variety of customers than many nearby establishments. I appreciate having it as part of this neighborhood.

For those reasons, I hope Community Board 3 will approve the application to add a DJ, charge cover for sporting events, and dispense with security on quieter evenings. In my view, these are reasonable operational adjustments for a business that has been managed responsibly.

Re: The Hairy Lemon—Application for Operational Changes

Dear Members of Manhattan Community Board 3:

I am writing as a resident of 8–10 Avenue B, Apartment 2G, located in close proximity to The Hairy Lemon. I am familiar with the establishment and with Glyn Galvin, its owner. In my experience, The Hairy Lemon is a responsible neighborhood business.

I have observed the bar during busy periods and have seen management and staff handle those periods effectively. The operation has appeared organized and appropriately managed, even when the establishment is active. I am pleased to have The Hairy Lemon as part of the neighborhood.

For these reasons, I respectfully urge Manhattan Community Board 3 to support The Hairy Lemon's application to eliminate security on quiet evenings, institute cover charges for sporting events, and add a DJ to its operations. I believe these measured changes will allow the establishment to operate flexibly while continuing to serve the neighborhood responsibly.

Thank you for your consideration.

Yours truly,

Dr. David Ores

Re: The Hairy Lemon—Request for Community Board Support

Dear Members of Manhattan Community Board 3:

I live at 157 East 2nd Street, Apartment 4F, and wish to offer my support for The Hairy Lemon's application. I am familiar with The Hairy Lemon as a neighborhood establishment and with its owner, Glyn Galvin.

Having seen the bar during busy times, I have observed management and staff respond effectively to the demands of a more active service period. The venue has appeared well run during those times. I value having The Hairy Lemon in the neighborhood and am glad that it continues to be part of the local community.

I therefore encourage Manhattan Community Board 3 to support The Hairy Lemon's request to eliminate security on quiet evenings, charge cover for sporting events, and add a DJ. I believe the requested changes are appropriate in light of my experience with the establishment and its management.

Thank you for considering my views.

Sincerely,

Ethan Smith

Re: Support for The Hairy Lemon's Operational-Change Application

Dear Chair and Members:

I reside at 29 Avenue B, Apartment 6J, near The Hairy Lemon, and write to express my support for its pending application. As a nearby resident, I know the establishment and am acquainted with Glyn Galvin, who operates it.

From what I have personally observed, The Hairy Lemon is managed competently during its busier hours. Management and staff have effectively overseen the venue when it has been crowded, and the operation has appeared attentive and orderly. The establishment is a welcome part of the Avenue B neighborhood, and I am happy that it is here.

Accordingly, I ask Manhattan Community Board 3 to support the requested operational changes: eliminating security on quiet evenings, permitting cover charges for sporting events, and adding a DJ. Based on my familiarity with the business and my observations of its operations, I support these requests.

Respectfully,

Steven Applegate
